

PYTHIANS STAGE GOOD WILL MEET

Delegations From Tidewater Virginia Guests of Elizabeth City Lodge

In exemplification of that friendship of Damon and Pythias that has come down from the past as the most perfect of all relationships of man to man, Knights of Pythias of Elizabeth City Lodge 122 foregathered with others from Charity Lodge 19, Norfolk, and brother lodges in Tidewater Virginia in Castle Hall here Tuesday night for a session of good fellowship and the strengthening of ties which bind Pythians the world over.

The spirit of the meeting was interpreted by J. C. H. Ehringhaus, of this city, often mentioned as a strong probability for the Governorship of the State in 1922. With his usual felicity, Mr. Ehringhaus welcomed the visitors, and sketched the ideals, precepts and purposes of Pythianism as he interpreted them.

Other speakers included Secretary Job, of the Chamber of Commerce; Herbert H. Fowler, editor of The Daily Advance; H. V. Dwyer, royal viceroy of Ziyad Temple 228, Dramatic Order of Knights of Khorassan, called Dokkies, for short; A. A. Fisher, of Norfolk, grand master of the eschequer of the Grand Lodge of Virginia; and H. W. Furlow, of Norfolk, grand master at arms of the Grand Lodge.

Mr. Furlow described the growth of Pythians from its organization by 13 individuals in Washington in 1863 to a membership of two million today, with $124,000,000 in insurance in force in the United States and Canada. The Rev. Frank H. Scattergood, chairman of the committee of Elizabeth City Lodge, was master of ceremonies.

When the speaking was over, sandwiches, cold drinks, ice cream and cakes were served by the host lodge. The visitors, some 75 strong, left for Norfolk at about 11 o'clock.

Proceeding the meeting at Castle Hall, the Zouave team and drum corps of Ziyad Temple, Dokkies, gave a drill in front of the court-house. This was viewed by several hundred Elizabeth City people.

Besides Charity Lodge, the Tidewater Virginia Pythian groups represented were Hathbone Lodge 92, Norfolk; Seaside Lodge 24, Portsmouth; Lee Lodge 48, Berkeley; and Abou Ben Adhem Lodge 121, Port Norfolk.

PROSECUTOR REQUIRED TO PAY COURT COSTS

A somewhat unusual spectacle was presented in recorder's court here Wednesday morning, when Trial Justice Sawyer required a prosecuting witness to pay the court costs in an action in which he drew an inference that witnesses for the State had struck an entente cordiale with the defendant.

Grady Felton, colored, was charged with having transported the wife of Harvey White, also colored, to Paris unknown. White had sworn out the warrant for Felton's arrest.

Felton subsequently returned to Elizabeth City, and was duly arrested. Later the wife came back, explaining that she had merely accepted a ride to Hertford with Felton, to visit relatives there. In court Wednesday, White suddenly recalled that his wife had told him of her intended trip to Hertford. And thus the case exploded.

Atlantic's New Challengers

Where Nungesser and Gull failed, Captain Rignot and Lieutenant Diendonno Coste (left to right above) hope to succeed. They're reported about ready to take off from Paris on a non-stop flight to New York. They will fly a Breguet one-motored biplane in which they already have set a record of 2415 miles of continuous flight—a record that remained for Lindbergh to break with his epochal journey in the "Spirit of St. Louis."

Steering Committee Has Nice Job

These two gentlemen of the plains have found being members of a steering committee no slouch ure. They volunteered for the position during the rodeo at Missoula, Montana, and have found their seats of authority somewhat hard to maintain. Mean steers are much meaner to ride than mean horses, say veteran cowpunchers.

LIGHT TESTING IS MOVING SLOWLY

Less than 250 automobile owners of this city and section had had their lights tested up to noon Tuesday, according to information received from the two light testing stations in this city.
Of all cars tested thus far not a single one has been found in perfect condition so far as the lights are concerned. Some adjustment has been necessary in all cases so far.
The two testing stations here are Harrison and McCoy and Bailey's filling station. Both firms are now testing automobile lights both night and day.

VOTE FOR MAINTENANCE OF CHOWAN FERRY LINE

Plymouth, July 27.—Members of the local chamber of commerce in session here last evening, voted to sign a petition, along with several other nearby counties, asking the State Highway Commissioners, to contribute money annually toward the maintenance of the Edenton-Mackeys Ferry line. The signers ask the commissioners to contribute as much money toward the maintenance of the ferry as they would the same distance of dirt road, per annum.
Washington county board of commissioners have signed the document also. A. L. Alexander, president of the commercial body, will sign at an early date. Hyde, Tyrrell, Perquimans and Pasquotank counties have also signed this petition.

LADIES ASSIST IN ENLIVENING ROTARY

Hertford, July 24.—Recitations by Mrs. L. W. Anderson and Mrs. Will White featured the program of the Hertford Rotary Club at the Hotel Hertford Tuesday, and this innovation was a most agreeable one to the members present. With President Edmond Jilson away on his vacation and with Vice President Tom White with his family at Nags Head, past President Tom Nixon was the presiding officer at Tuesday's luncheon.

Music And Stunts At Kiwanis Event

Music and stunts, and a couple of extemporaneous addresses by members, constituted the program of the Kiwanis Club, in weekly supper session at the Parish House last night. The speakers were J. Henry LeRoy, Jr., who discussed the importance of attendance, and Cam W. Melick, who gave a report on the recent inter-club meeting at Jackson.
Beginning with the promise that all Kiwanis activities depended on attendance, since without attendance there could be no Kiwanis, Mr. LeRoy recalled that at the recent Kiwanis International convention at Memphis, the clubs that won attendance prizes had averages above 99 per cent in every instance.
As a stimulus to attendance, Mr. LeRoy suggested several plans, among them the idea of appointing several members and requiring them to put on a program without outside aid of any kind.
Mr. Melick reported an excellent attendance at the Jackson meeting, at which the guest of honor was District Governor Jim Lynch.

In the line of stunts, "Northwest Dally, Walter Wood, Larry Skinner and Roland Garrett read a series of letters, written in rhyme, humorously applicable to their business pursuits or personal traits, or both.
As a torchbearer feature, Camden Blades, "Bill" Zimmerman, "Jim" Wilkins, Dr. John Saliba, Dr. Sam Gregory and Norman Whitehurst did a jig for the edification of the crowd. Messrs. Blades and Zimmerman were conceded to have functioned most gracefully of all.

SAD INCIDENTS MARK FERDINAND'S FUNERAL

Bucharest, July 27.—(AP)—Two incidents of King Ferdinand's funeral are the talk of Rumania. One is the spontaneous act of William S. Culbertson, American minister to Rumania, kneeling beside the monarch's grave and offering a prayer. The act was all the more conspicuous because none of the other diplomats knelt, merely passing the coffin.
The other incident involved Queen Marie. While the clergy were chanting the solemn words "farewell to evermore" over the king's body the queen tottered toward a pillar for support and wept aloud. Fearing she was about to collapse, a palace officer brought a chair and smelling salts but she refused them and insisted that the chair be given to her daughter, Queen Marie of Jugro-Slavia who is soon to become a mother.
