Every subscription must be accompa-nied with the cash, or no paper will be sent. Ladies are invited to hear Harry Stubbe speak Monday night. Go to Loggett & Bro's, and see then $8.50 black Cheviot suits. Sam Jones says the Third party fellows may get to heaven, but they will never get to Washington. A heavy wind storm passed ever this section Tuesday afternoon, but no serious damage was done. Loggett & Bro, sell the patent Roller Tray trunk. Something new and convenient for ladies. We sympathize with Sheriff Blount the loss of his family horse, which died spinal meningetie on Monday night. Miss Lou Smith, of Baltimore, has accepted a position with Mrs. S. D. Peal, as trimmer. We welcome her to our town. Mr. M. W. Newberry, photographer, who has been traveling during the summer in Eastern Carolina, has located in Plymouth. Owing to the storm on Tuesday night Hon W. A. B Branch did not address the people of Piymouth, as previously announced. Mr. J. S. Legget and sister, Miss Vonnie, returned from Baltimore on Saturday, ac-compasied by their consis, Miss Mira Robertson, of Williamston. Leggett & Bro . have only fifteen of those fine fashionable Flannel dress patterns.

Call and see them before they are sold-the price will cause them to go. Mr. D. O. Brinkley has moved the store on Water street formerly occupied by Mr. J. W. Benaley, to Washington street, where it will be fixed up and used as a photograph gallery by Mr. M. W. Newberry.

Our young friend, Mr. W. A. Everett, has opened up a first-class oyster saloon and restaurant in the old Newberry stand on Water street, where our people will find comfort and plenty to cat. See card in this issue.

Hon, ex-Senator W. Harry Siubba, of Williamston, will deliver an address at the Court House on Monday uight next, Every-body invited to hear him. Let us give this five orator a happy reception and a crowded house.

Mr. A. B. Lewis, of Bay, Tyrrell county, passed through Plymouth this weck en-route for Ra sigh, where he goes to seek a position in the journalistic field. We wish him success, and may his pen find a place to de a goed work for Democracy.

The Fourth annual term of the Plymouth High School will begin Monday, Oct., 9, 1892, with Mr. Chas. T. Wortham, of Virginia, as principal. He will carry on the school as near a possible in the manner that Prof. Toms did, and he carnestly re-quests the patronage of the peop's. Mr. ten. Wortham is of Randolph Macon College and comes to as highly recommended.

They Read It.

Wishing to know if advertisements were closely by our read people, we laft out the words Sewing Machine in Mr. Thos. W. Blount's ad last week. Before the carrier had completed his reands Friday morning our attention had been called to the fearful mistake three times, and before the day was mistake three times, and before the day was gone we had more questions asked about it than we could answer. We are satisfied that people not only read advertisements, but that many of them sead them before reading anything else. To relieve the mind we will say that the paragraph in Mr. B's ad has been charged.

Asheville Gazette : Last evening about eight o'clock J. M. Edwards and Will Cowan got into an argument at the depor about politics. Cowan had been drinking some and soon the controversy waxed warm. Suddenly, without warning, Cowan whipped out a knife and commenced slashing away at Edwards. He inflicted over a dozen wounds, around head, breast and abdomen, which may prove fatal domen, which may prove fatal E. City News: On last Friday some time between 9 o'clock and dinner hour Mrs. Mark Sanderlin a very estimable lady. of Shiloh, Camden county was overtaken in a field near her house where she went to gather peas for dinner and murdered after being most bruitally ravished. Her hushand was away from home on business and her dead and horribly muti-lated body lay where it fell all day in the het sun. The murder and rape created considerable excitement and investigation soon laid suspicion on a negro named Joe Baroo which afterwards proved correct. The negro was arrested that night at church and it is said was at the 'mourner's bench" at the time he was called upon by the officept murder, upon a little colored girl a short while previous. Saturday sight the jail was visited by a party of mon, the jailor everpowered and Barco hung up a tree about a haif a mile distant. The body was then literally riddled with bullets and shot. Before being hung Barco was hot-ribly mutilated and subjected to terrible ribly mutilated and subjected to terrible forture of a nature unit for print The affair caused considerable excitement both in this place and Camdra. The victim was a highly respected indy and her sad death threw a gloom over the entire com-munity. The shot-riddled body of the fiend Barco was left hanging all Saturday with the data and data where the science of solution night and was cut down about 8 o'clock Sunday morning and buried in disgrace. This is the first lynching that has ever hap pened in this section, but nobody denies but what the Crime deserved the punish-ment inflicted upon Barco.

There's Nothing Cheap About it

Dr. Frummond's Lightuing Remedy for Rhenmatism is put up in large bottles, and the price is five dollars a bottle. It cures every time. All the cheap remedies put toevery time. All the cheap remedies put to-gether are not worth one bottle of Dr. Drummoud's Lightning Remedy, and any sufferer will bear witness to that fact, and any druggist who has sold it is ready and willing to offer evidence. Mrs. S. D. Peal, finding her store on Washington street too small has rented the store formerly occupied by Mr. J. W. Richards & Pringle's "Georgia Minstrels" headed by the great colored comedian, Billy Kersands, will give one of their exhi-bitions at the City Hall in this town on Thursday night, Oct., 13th. From the press notes where this company has been, we feel safe in recommending it to the public as a first-class show, and we bespeak for them a full house.

H. Peal, the leading coach maker of Eastern Carolina, is working more men in his shops than ever, and he is leading the trade in fine work and low prices. Anything from a trotting sulky to a log wagon. He employs none but skilled workmee and therefore tarns out aothing but first. class work. See him and get prices before placing your order.

Ms. James Hamilton proves himself not only a good farmer, but an suterprising man in every way. He bought a farm near this town, known as the "Watson place," and for his own convenience, has spent a large sum in building a road through the swamp which places him within a few hundred yards of the town, while hereto-tore he had to travel two miles to reacn the town. He has also cleared out the creak town. He has also cleared out the creek near the farm at a big expense. What he has done this year has increased the value of the property at least half. .

Daniel F. Devoll says: "Ask the average granted. farmer to show you his books; he hasn't any. Ask him how much any of his pro-ducts cost him to raise and he will reply, 'I don't know; I have no account of only what I take in and fay out." Now this is all wrong. The farmer should be as com-petent to tell what it costs him to produce a quert of milk, a bushel of petetors, as the a quart of milk, a bushel of potetors. as the manufacturer is to tell what it costs him to produce an article from the raw material. A farmer sught to know what it costs him to produce a bushel of corn. a dozen of eggs of a ton of hay, and I believe that not one in ten can tell within 25 per cent."

A political marriage contract has just on closed in Wins on between the eca. tracting parties, says an exchange A young man, Republican in pelitos, but a gentle man in other respects, has been waiting on man in other respects, has been waiting on a young lady for several years and the only thing that has kept the "two hearts from beating as one" is their opposite political effitiations. Whenever he proposes she replies: "Not until yeu become a Democrat" After many months of veration he has at last signed the 'bill of fare" to vote as Miss M--directs. The young man voted a portion of the Democratic ticket iwo years ago, but in November he will "go the whole hog" or none.
