It is now very certain that North Carolina will hold her place in State and National politics. The State will elect her Democratic State officers and Cleveland electors, but there are a few districts in which work has got to be done to elect Congressmen. Let Democrats in the 1st district lead in this by electing Hon. Wm. A. B. Branch. The combine between the Republicans and Peoples' party will give Mr. Branch a close run, unless every Democrat does his duty.

Dr. Drummoud's Lightning Remedy will relieve the painful torture of Rheumatism in the joints or muscles. The pain will cease with the first dose, and its continued use will effect a marvelous cure. If life is worth $5, go to the drugist and get Dr. Drummoud's Lightning Remedy, or send to Drummoud Medicine Co., 48-50 Maiden Lane, New York, and they will send you a large bottle by prepaid express Agents wanted 4 2t

BEFORE another issue of the BEACON the struggle will be over and one of the contending parties will be victorious. On next Tuesday, November the 8th, a great question will be settled, and upon the settlement of that question rests the hope of the country, especially the South. Shall that question be settled for our Southern people's future freedom, prosperity and happiness, or for our oppression and eternal woe? Let our people, upon whom rests the responsibility of settling this question, reflect and vote for home and country.

By an act of the State Legislature on election laws, every voters name must be registered in full before he is entitled to vote. The voters of all parties were publicly notified of this fact from the stump and through the newspapers, and yet some have neglected to comply with that law and will not be allowed to vote next Tuesday. If you failed to see that your name was properly registered it was your fault, you had a right to see the register and have your name properly registered up to Friday night last, and if you did not do so and your name is there as J. Smith, instead of John Smith you are no more entitled to vote than if your name had never been there. This is the election law of North Carolina, and Democrats, Republicans, People's party and all others must be governed by it.

THE STATES THAT ARE RELIED UPON TO ELECT CLEVELAND.

Where do the democrats expect to get the votes in the electoral college to elect Cleveland and Stevenson? Have they any margin to spare according to reasonable calculations? What is their maximum and what their minimum claim? And what are the probabilities about the votes that may be lost to Harrison without being directly cast for Cleveland in the electoral college?

"Democrats generally claim," said a prominent member of their national committee, "and republicans practically concede to them, the votes of the solid South, which number 159. To these add New York, 36; New Jersey, 10; Indiana, 15; Connecticut 4. district votes in Michigan 5, and the total is 229.

"This, including only those States heretofore carried by the democrats on the old line of political conflict and the sure democratic districts in Michigan, gives to Cleveland and Stevenson six votes more than are necessary to elect. Even should the republicans carry Connecticut, which is not conceded as probable by either democratic State or democratic national headquarters, there would still remain to Democratic credit two votes above the 223 necessary to a choice in the electoral college.

"New Jersey and Indiana are both relied upon by democratic headquarters, national and State. In the first the record leaves no room for doubt, while the conditions in the latter that inspire democratic confidence have been recently repeatedly pointed out, without substantial denial from the republican side. The democratic party in Indiana is absolutely united, and with Gray and Voorhees in the lead is making a canvass more vigorous and systematic than any preceding one, and greatly aided by a large number of prominent accessions from the republican ranks, such as those of Gresham and Foulke.

"With these figures—229—even should West Virginia be lost, there would still remain a majority of one after deducting the six votes of that State. Among the probabilities favorable to the democrats in carrying of Wisconsin, with 12 electoral votes, which would leave 226 votes without those of Indiana.

DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM.
The following is the State Democratic platform as adopted by the State convention assembled May 18:

RESOLVED, 1. That the democracy of North Carolina reaffirm the principles of the democratic party, both State and national, and particularly favor the free coinage of silver and an increase of the currency, and the repeal of the internal revenue system. And we denounce the McKinley tariff bill as unjust to the consumers of the country, and leading to the formation of trusts, combines and monopolies which have oppressed the people; and especially do we denounce the unnecessary and burdensome increase in the tax on cotton ties and on tin, so largely used by the poorer portion of the people. We likewise denounce the inequitable force bill, which is not yet abandoned by the republican party, but is being urged as a measure to be adopted as soon as they regain control of the House of Representatives, the purpose and effect of which measure will be to establish a second period of reconstruction in the Southern States, to subvert the liberties of our people and inflame a new race antagonism and sectional animosities.

DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM.

2. That we demand financial reform and the enactment of laws that will remove the burden of the people relative to the existing agricultural depression, and do full and ample justice to the farmers and laborers of our country.

3. That we demand the abolition of national banks, and the substitution of legal tender treasury notes in lieu of national bank notes, issued in sufficient volume to do the business of the country on a cash system, regulating the amount needed on a per capita basis as the business interests of the country expand, and that all money issued by the government shall be legal tender in payment of all debts, both public and private.

4. That we demand that Congress shall pass such laws as shall effectually prevent the dealing in futures of all agricultural and mechanical productions; providing such stringent system of procedure in trials as shall secure prompt conviction and imposing such penalties as shall secure most perfect compliance with the law.

5. That we demand the free and unlimited coinage of silver.

6. That we demand the passage of laws prohibiting the alien ownership of land, and that Congress take early steps to devise some plan to obtain all lands now owned by alien and foreign syndicates; and that all lands now held by railroads and other corporations, in excess of such as is actually used and needed by them, be reclaimed by the government and held for actual settlers only.

7. Believing in the doctrine of "equal rights to all and special privileges to none," we demand that taxation, national or State, shall not be used to build up one interest or class at the expense of another. We believe that the money of the country should be kept as much as possible in the hands of the people, and hence we demand that all revenue, national, State or county, shall be limited to the necessary expenses of the government economically and honestly administered.

8. That Congress issue a sufficient amount of fractional paper currency to facilitate the exchange through the medium of the United States mail.

RESOLVED, That the General Assembly pass such laws as will make the public school system more effective than the blessings of education may be extended to all the people of the State alike.

1. That we demand a graduated tax on incomes.
