Bicyclists and Dogs.

It frequently happens that a bicyclist would like to drive off an annoying dog, but doesn't want to kill the beast, run the risk of a bullet hitting a bystander, nor attract the attention which a cartridge explosion is certain to do. The dog is consequently encouraged to try has trick on the next rider. A soundless pistol, shoeting water, ammonia or other liquid, is now mailed postpaid for 50 ots, in stamps by the Union Supply Co., 135 Leonard St., N. Y. City. One of these will drive off the most vicious animal, and still not really injure it. A few drops of ammonia in the eyes, nose or meuth of any animal give it something to think of other than bothering a cyclist. It is a boon to wheelmen and wheelwomen.

"We" Gave Them Fits.

A small Canadian boy whose loyalty to the British flag has got him into no end of scraps with patriotic American youths of equally tender years came up to his father shortly after the battle of Manila was fought, and with a woebegone expression said:

"Say, father, didn't the English ever lick any other boats without losing a man?" The father was forced to confess that they had not.

"Well," said the youngster, "I guess the Americans aren't so bad, after all,

On the Fourth of July when young America was celebrating the naval victory at Santiago the youthful upholder of Great Britain was in the midst of a band of ultra-patriotic boys setting off fire crackers and cheering with the best of them.

'Here, boy! What are you cheering for?" asked his father.

"Cheering for? Oh, say, father, didn't we give those Spaniards fits!"-New York Commercial Advertiser.

RELIEF FROM PAIN.

Women Everywhere Express theu Gratitude to Mrs. Pinkham.

Ilrs. T. A. WALDEN, Gibson, Ga., writes:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:-Before taking your medicine, life was a burden to me. I never saw a well day. At my monthly period I suffered untold misery, and a great deal of the time I was troubled with a severe pain in my side. Before finishing the first bottle of your Vegetable Compound I could tell it was doing me good. I continued its use, also used the Liver Pills and Sanative Wash, and have been greatly helped. I would like to have you use my letter for the benefit of others."

Mrs. FLORENCE A. WOLFE, 515 Mulberry St., Lencaster, Ohio, writes:
"DEAR MRS. PINEHAM:—For two years I was troubled with what the local physicians told me was inflammation of the womb. Every month I suffered terribly. I had taken enough medicine from the doctors to cure anyone, but obtained relief for a short time only. At last I concluded to write to you in regard to my case, and can say that by following your advice I am now pefectly well."

Mrs. W. R. BATES, Mansfield, La., writes:

"Before writing to you I suffered dreadfully from painful menstruation, leucorrhœa and sore feeling in the lower part of the bowels. Now my friends want to know what makes me look so well. I do not hesitate one minute in telling them what has brought about this great change. I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound enough. It is the greatest remedy of the age."

SUNDAY'S DISCOURSE BY THE NOTED DIVINE.

"Silence in Heaven," the Subject-The Mighty Import of the Cessation De scribed in Revelations-Half Hours Which Have Determined Destinies.

about the space of half an hour."-Reve-lations, viii., 1.

"Take this watch and keep it," said a dying Christian as he picked it up from the stand at his pillow. "I have no more need of it. I am going where time shall be no longer." But it seems from my text that heaven was at least once measured by an earthly time-piece.

The busiest place in the universe is heaven. It is the center from which all good influences start; it is the goal at which all good results arrive. The Bible represents it as active, with wheels and wings and orchestras and processions, mounted or charioted. But my text describes a space when the wheels ceased to roll and the trumpets to sound and the voices to chant. The riders on the white horses reined in their chargers. The doxhologies were hushed and the processions halted. The hand of arrest was put upon all the splendors. "Stop, Heaven!" cried an omnipotent voice, and it stopped. For thirty minutes everything celestial stood still. "There was silence in heaven for the space of half an hour."

From all we can learn it is the only time From all we can learn it is the only time heaven ever stopped. It does not stop, as other cities, for the night, for there is no night there. It does not stop for a plague, for the inhabitant never says, "I am sick." It does not stop for bankrupteies, for its inhabitants never fail. It does not stop for impassable streets, for there are no fallen snows or sweeping freshets.
What, then stopped it for thirty minutes?
Grotius and Professor Stuart think it was at the time of the destruction of Jerusalem. Mr. Lord thinks it was in the year 311, near the close of the Diocletian persecution and the beginning of the wars by which Constantine gained the throne. But that was all a guess, though a learned and brilliant guess. I do not know when it was, and I do not care when it was, but of the fact that such an interregnum of sound took place I am cartain "There was took place I am certain, "There was silence in heaven for the space of half an

And, first of all, we may learn that God and all heaven then honored silence. The full power of silence many of us have yet to learn. We are told that when Christ was arraigned "He answered not a word." That silence was louder than any thunder that ever shook the world. Ofttimes, when we are assailed and misrepresented, the mightiest thing to say is to say nothing, and the mightiest thing to do is to do nothing. Those people who are always rushing into print to get themselves set right, accomplish nothing but their own chagrin. Silence! Do right and leave the results with God. Among the grandest lessons the world has ever learned are the lessons of patience taught by those who endured or patience taught by those who endured uncomplainingly personal or domestic or political injustice. Oh, the power of patient silence! Eschylus, the immortal poet, was condemned to death for writing something that offended the people. All the pleas in his behalf were of no avail, until the pleas in his behalf were of no avail, until the pleas in his behalf were of no avail, until the pleas in his behalf were of no avail, until the pleas in his behalf were of no avail, until the pleas in his behalf were of no avail, until the pleas in his behalf were of no avail, until the pleas in his behalf were of no avail, until the pleas in his behalf were of no avail, until the pleas in his behalf were of no avail, until the pleas in his behalf were of no avail, until the power of the power of patients. til his brother uncovered the arm of the prisoner and showed that his wrist had been sacrificed for his been sacrificed for his country at the battle of Salamis. That silent plea liberated him. The loudest thing on earth is silence if it be of the right kind and at the right time. There was a quaint old hymn, spelled in the old style, once sung in the churches:

The race is not forever get By him who fastest runs, Nor the Battel by those peopell That shoot with the longest gun.

My friends, the tossing sea of Galilee seemed more to offend Christ by the amount of noise it made, for He said to it: "Be still!" Heaven has been crowning Kings and Queens unto God for many centuries, any such occurrence, but it stopped thirty minutes for the coronation of Silence. 'There was silence in heaven for the space of half an hour."

Learn also from my text that heaven must be an eventful and active place, from the fact that it could afford only thirty minutes of recess. There have been events on earth and in heaven that seemed to demedia, the Legion of Honor, the Victoria mand a whole day or whole week or whole Cross, the Waterloo medal. In your first year for celestial consideration. If Grotius half hour in heaven in some way you will was right and this silence occurred at the time of the destruction of Jerusalem, that scene was so awful and so prolonged that the inhabitants of heaven could not have done justice to it in many weeks. After fearful besiegement of the two fortresses of over the droughts and freshets of the farm fearful besiegement of the two fortresses of over the droughts and freshets of the farm. Jerusalem — Antonic and Hippicus — had been going on for a long while, a Roman soldier mounted on the shoulder of another felicities, victor over mechanic's shop, victor over mechanic's shop victor over mechanic shop victor over mechanic shop victor over mechanic shop vic soldier hurled into the window of the temple a firebrand, and the temple was all affame, and after covering many sacrifices to the holiness of God, the building itself victor over hereditary depressions, victor to the holiness of God, the building itself became a sacrifice to the rage of man. The hunger of the peeple in that city during the beslegement was so great that as some outlaws were passing a doorway and inhaled the odors of food they burst open the door, threatening the mother of the household with death unless she gave them some food, and she took them aside and showed them that it was her own child she was cooking for the ghastly repast. Six hundred priests were destroyed on Mount hundred priests were destroyed on Mount Zion because, the temple being gone, there was nothing for them to do. Six thousand people in one cloister were consumed. There were 1,100,000 dead, according to Josephus. Grotius thinks that this was the cause of silence in heaven for half an hour. If Mr. Lord was right, and this silence was during the Diocletian persecutions, by which 844,000 Christians suffered death from sword and fire, and banishment and exposure, why did not heaven listen throughout at least one of those awful years? No! Thirty minutes! The fact is that the celestial programme is so crowded with presentation that it can afford only one with spectacle that it can afford only one recess in all eternity, and that for a short space. While there are great chorouses in which all heaven can join, each soul there has a story of divine mercy peculiar to it-self, and it must be a solo. How can heaven get through with all its solos, as well as all its recitatives, with all its cantatas, with all its grand marches, with all its vic-tories? Eternity is too short to utter all want to see when they get their crown in heaven. I tell you heaven will have no more half hours to sware.

Besides that, heaven is full of children. They are in the vast majority. No child on earth who amounts to anything can be kept out at half an hours to describe the state of the content quiet half an hour, and how are you going to keep 500,000,000 of them quiet half an hour. You know heaven is much more of a place than it was when that recess of thirty minutes occurred. Its population has quadrupled, sextupled, centupled. Heaven has more on hand, more of rapture, more of knowledge, more of intercommunication, more of worship. There is not so much difference between Washington, a mudbole seventy years ago, and Washing. mudhole seventy years ago, and Washington now, the most benatiful city on earth; not so much difference between New York when Canal street was far uptown, and when Canal street is far downtown, as there is difference between what heaven was when my text was written and what heaven is now. The most thrilling place we have ever been in is stupid compared with that, and if we now have no time to spare, we will then have no eternity to spare. Silence in heaven only half an hour! My subject also impresses me with the immortality of a half hour. That half hour mentioned in my text is more widely known than any other period in the cal-endar of heaven. None of the whole hours of heaven are measured off, none of the years, none of the centuries. millions of ages past, and the millions of ages to come, not one is especially measured off in the Bible. The half hour of my text is made immortal. The only part of eternity that was ever measured by earthly timepiece was measured by the minute hand of my text. Oh, the half hours! They decide everything. I sm not asking what you will do with the years or months or days of your life, but what of the half hours. Tell me the history of your half hours, and I will tell you the story of your whole life on earth and the story of your whole life in eternity. The right or wrong things you can think in thirty minutes, the right or wrong things you can say in thirty minutes, the right or wrong things you can do in thirty minutes are glorious or baleful, inspiring or desper-

Look out for the fragments of time, They are pieces of eternity. It was the half hours between shoeing horses that made Elihu Burritt the learned blacksmith; the half hours between professional calls as a physicial that made Abergrombie the Christian philosopher; the half hours between his duties as school master that made Salmon P. Chase Chief Justice; the half hours between shoe lasts that made Henry Wilson Vice-President of the United States; the half hours between canal boats that made James A. Garfield President. The half hour a day for good books or bad books; the half hour a day for prayer or indelence; the half hour a day for helping others or blasting others; the half hour before you go to business, and the half hour after your return from business; that makes the difference between the scholar and the ignoramus, between the Christian and the infidel, between the saint and the demon, between triumph and catastrophe, between heaven and hell. The most tremendous things of your life and mine were certain half hours.

Remember, we are mortal yet, and cannot endure the full roll of heavenly harnonies, and cannot endure even the slient heaven for more than half an hour. Harki the clock in the tower of heaven begins to strike, and the half hour is ended. De-scend! Come back! Come down! till your work is done. Shoulder a little longer your pattles. Weep a little longer your griefs. And then take heaven not in its fullest half hour, but in its mightlest pomp and instead of taking it for thirty minutes, take it world

But how will you spend the first half hour of your heavenly citizenship after you have gone in to stay? After your prostration before the throne in worship of Him who made it possible for you to get there at all, I think the rest of your first half hour in ward if you have been faithful. strangely beautiful book, containing the pictures of the medals struck by the English Government in honor of great battles; these medals pinned over the heart of the tor over professional allurements,

Shall conquer though they die; They see the triumph from afar,

And seize it with their eye.

If heaven is all this while halted, what will it be when on the march? If heaven is all this while silent, what will it be when in full triumph? Many years ago, at the Crystal Palace, in New York, Julian gave a great concert, 3000 voices and 3000 players upon instruments. He controlled that great harmony, beating time with hand and foot, and to myself, who had never before heard music on a grand scale, it was over-powering. But oh, when they shall come from the north and the south, and the east, and the west, and sit down in the temple of God and the Lamb, and Christ shall rise, and all neaven shall rise with Him, He shall control that harmony with once wounded hand and once wounded foot, and it will be like the voice of many waters and the voice of mighty thunderings. Worthy is the Lamb that was slain to receive blessing and riches and honor and glory and power. Amen and amen!

Miles Tracked by a War Chest.

For several days preceding the time that General Miles finally left for Cuba there was much speculation about the headquarters of the army in the Department building about the date of his departure. Inquiries were made of the General himself, and he is generally accommodating to men of the newspaper profession, but these inquiries were of no avail. Then resort was had to General Alger, the Secretary of War, but he, also, vouchsafed no satisfactory or definite reply.

With this state af affairs it was necessary to resort to strategy, and strategy successfully solved the problem. It was said by one of the old and observing employes that on the day General Miles departed from Washington a war chest, which is always located near the door that leads into his own office when he is in town, would be taken away. This chest-what it contains is not generally known-accompanies him on all his travels.

Therefore, for two or three days many eyes were watching the war chest, a square box bound with iron bands and painted a dark gray. At last, on the morning of the day that the General really did leave for Santiago the war chest was not in its accustomed place. The newspaper men at the Department took the risk to announce that the General would depart for Cuba that evening, and it was printed in the afternoon newspapers, and sure enough it turned out that General Miles did follow the war chest, starting on the journey that took him to the headquarters tent of General Shafter.

Crows Chase a Cat.

"Caw! caw! caw!" shrieked a couple of crows in the "nurseries" near Chamounix drive in the West Park recently. Park guard No. 88, who happened to be on the drive at the time, cocked up his ears. "Something wrong with those crows," said he to a cyclist who had stopped near by to rest; "never heard them caw that way unless there was something up." The incessant cawing grew louder and closer each moment. Suddenly out from a bunch of small trees dashed a big black and white tomcat, running as fast as he could. Two infuriated crows were hovering him, taking turns at swooping down upon him and pecking him viciously with their sharp beaks. At each attack the cat accelerated his speed, and, with bristling tail, simply flew over the ground. The crows pounced upon him unmercifully, until finally, when the chase had almost reached the two surprised spectators, the cat took refuge in a culvert which runs under the drive at that point. One of the crows alighted on the edge of the culvert, and then, catching sight of the two spectators, turned and flew back to some tall pines back of the nurseries. "Well, what do you think of that?" exclaimed the guard. "Did you ever see a crow chase a cat before? Never? Why, a cat can lick any kind of a bird. That cat must have been robbing their nest." -Augusta (Ga.) Chronicle.
