A BANQUET of the North Carolina Society was held at the Waldorf-Astoria, in New York city, on Monday night, at which two hundred Tar Heels dined.

This day, May 20th, was selected for the banquet, it being the anniversary of the day on which North Carolina declared itself free from British tyranny, at Mecklenburg.

Governor Aycock and other prominent North Carolinians were present and made speeches appropriate to the occasion.

Judge Van Wyck presided, and his speech of welcome was such a fine tribute to our State that we give it in full:

ADDRESS OF JUDGE AUGUSTUS VAN WYCK, PRESIDENT OF THE N. C. SOCIETY, AT THE WALDORF-ASTORIA, N. Y. CITY, MAY 20, 1901.

Carolians, I salute you in the name of a great race reared in the beautiful land sloping from the dizzy heights of the Blue Ridge to the storm-washed shores of the Atlantic, from Mitchell's Peak to Cape Hatteras, furnishing men of varied mental and physical habits and every variety of mineral and agricultural product; a race composed of Irish, Scotch, Scotch-Irish, English, Swiss, German, Dutch and French; Catholics, Presbyterians, Moravians, Lutherans, Huguenots and Quakers; a race by nature and such environments, lovers and maintainers of civil and religious liberty; a race which first enjoyed on this continent a chartered government that guaranteed religious freedom and no taxation except by consent of the people; a race who, in 1766, successfully resisted by force the English stamp act; a race who, in 1771, resisted with open war and rebellion the oppression of the English crown, and though defeated in the battle of Alamance by Tyrone, yet they never thereafter acquiesced in nor yielded allegiance to England; a race, as will be described to you to-night, who boldly announced in solemn form their Declaration of Independence a full year before the one that was proclaimed at Philadelphia on July 4, 1776; a race that first instructed her delegation to the Continental Congress in favor of that declaration.

Now North Carolina's hills bristle with church spires and school domes. Her fields teem with rich fruits of mother earth, while the cotton spindles and looms and factory wheels line her water-courses. Her mountains glisten with rich metals and precious gems. In her lovely daughters are sweetly blended culture, grace, refinement, intellectuality and purity of character which always elevate mankind and give lustre to a nation's social history. In all the advanced movements of the human race her sons have kept fully abreast of the front column. Some think our country will reach a much higher altitude, but remember the labor and effort of the future must be as great as ever to keep our country in the forefront of the sisterhood of nations. The increase of wealth alone enables America to do more, and the power of wealth itself for development has been increased more than a hundred-fold by the discoveries of science and mechanical inventions. The children of such a race and land should justly feel a pride in their ancestors who did so much in the formative period to build and so much in the period of maturity to preserve the structure of our nation, her institutions and her material progress. In peace and in war this commonwealth has done more than her mathematical part to the glory of our country in every field of human activity.

I extend to you a thousand welcomes, recognizing among you those renowned in the service of the only King to whom the loyal sons of a Republic can ever owe allegiance, the omniscient ruler of the eternal empire of peace; those eminent in the learned professions; those distinguished in the service, civil and military, of the country; in the councils of the nation, state and municipality; princes of finance, commerce and the varied mercantile and industrial undertakings of our happy and prosperous land. Such a citizenship gives energy to enterprise, vigor and cheerfulness to industry and life, and elasticity to patriotism.

There is a valid reason for the existence of this Society, which imposed upon you the duty of creating and maintaining it. Love of home, esteem for parents and utilization of their experiences constitute a radiant trinity, which gives strength and life to such societies. The simple word "home" brings to mind and heart the dearest and most sacred interests of life. There is the home of childhood with its light-hearted memories, tenderness and love. There is the home of manhood with one nearer and dearer than all others, a home hallowed with joys, the heart instinctively turns there for rest and peace of mind. Home is not the mere dwelling, for many a palace is not. Home is where the heart is, be it at the poor man's fire-side or in the grand edifice of the rich. Home, sweet home, stimulates that laudable respect for parents which induces worthy sons to avail themselves of the best experiences of noble sires.

The fundamental sentiment (a composite of love of home, esteem for parents and pride in their commendable deeds) which is creative of such societies, while tending to make, in the eye of a dutiful son, the vacant chamber in which mother once was wont to sleep, a sanctuary; the empty chair in which father once was accustomed to sit, an altar; and to stamp upon his visage the image of devoted parents, yet also impresses upon his memory their good and just deeds and thoughts, and ever urges him onward and upward in the faithful discharge of his mission in the economy of life. To this sentiment is largely due the preservation, utilization and augmentation by the living of the best acts and ideas of past and passing generations, sanctified by a healthy devotion to home and parents and their sweet memories. This brings to the living all the experiences of the past, to be by them added to and transmitted to the coming generation, to be by the latter, in turn, further enlarged and again transmitted, and so on to the end of time, unless the tide of our boasted progress shall be backward turned.

Let her sons who live under other skies than "the land of the sky" gladly make the welkin ring with cheers and praise for the old North State.

A Night Of Terror.
 "Awful anxiety was felt for the widow of the brave General Burnham of Machias, Me., when the doctors said she could not live till morning," writes Mrs. S. H. Lincoln, who attended her that fearful night. "All thought she must soon die from Pneumonia, but she begged for Dr. King's New Discovery, saying it had cured her of Consumption. After three small doses she slept easily all night, and its effect was completely cured her." This marvellous medicine is guaranteed to cure all Croup, Croup and Lung Diseases. Only 50c and 1.00. Trial bottles free at Sprull & Bro's, Staus.

Biliousness is a condition characterized by a disturbance of the digestive organs. The stomach is debilitated, the liver torpid, the bowels constipated. There is a loathing of food, pains in the bowels, dizziness, coated tongue and vomiting, first of the undigested or partly digested food and then of bile. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets allays the disturbances of the stomach and create a healthy appetite. They also tone up the liver to a healthy action and regulate the bowels. Try them and you are certain to be much pleased with the result. For sale by Plymouth Drug Co., and Roper Store Co.

"It is with a good deal of pleasure and satisfaction that I recommend Chamberlain's Cough, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says Dr. W. A. Sautelle, of Hartford, Conn. "A lady customer, seeing the remedy exposed for sale on my show case, said to me: 'I really believe that medicine saved my life the past summer while at the shore,' and she became so enthusiastic over its merits that I at once made up my mind to recommend it in the future. Recently a gentleman came into my store to overcome with colic pains that he sank at once to the floor. I gave him a dose of this remedy which helped him. I repeated the dose and in fifteen minutes he left my store smilingly informing me that he felt as well as ever." Sold by Plymouth Drug Co., and Roper Store Co.

Beware of a Cough.
 A cough is not a disease but a symptom. Consumption and bronchitis, which are the most dangerous and fatal diseases, have for their first indication a persistent cough, and if properly treated as soon as this cough appears are easily cured. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has proven wonderfully successful, and gained its wide reputation and extensive sale by its success in curing the diseases which cause coughing. It is not beneficial if it will not cost you a cent. For sale by Plymouth Drug Co., and Roper Store Co.

Attention, Farmers!

I have on my farm, on the edge of Plymouth, the famous Berkshire Boar, "Longfellow's Beauty," Register number 5059.

This is the chance for farmers to improve their stock. Why use a scrub boar when you can get the best of this famous hog? See below what Mr. E. K. Morris, Secretary of the National Berkshire Record Association, with whom this hog is registered, says of him:

"In regard to your Boar, I see by looking over his pedigree that he is well bred, and will make you a good breeding boar."

Can you afford to let this opportunity pass?
