The Meaning of Home

A very practical article regarding Home and Family Life, by Professor Ellen M. Richards, appears in the September number of The Delinquent. The first sentence is "The house is but the shell of the home, a shell meant to inclose and protect, not to crush it." These few words give an idea of the breadth and sympathy with which Professor Richards discusses the subject.

Was it Carelessness or Intentional?

About 9:30 o'clock on Friday night last Mrs. C. D. Loane went up stairs to put her children to bed, and after tucking the little one in and was in the act of changing her own dress, the report of a pistol was heard in the direction of the street and at the same time a bullet came crashing through the window and imbedded itself in the head of the bed on which the little ones were sleeping. Mr. Loane, who was down stairs, heard the report and started to go out—in which event he might have caught the offender—but the cries of his wife caused him to rush up stairs, and when he returned to the street some minutes later, the party who did the shooting was gone. As Mr. Loane is not known to have an enemy who would assassinate him or one of his family, it is believed that the pistol was in the hands of a careless night loafer, who ought to be dealt with, if his identity can be ascertained.

To Old Confederates.

COMRADES:—I am desirous of securing the name of every man who served in the Confederate army, or navy, from the county of Washington.

I wish this roll to place in the corner stone of the monument that is to be erected in Columbia, Tyrrell county, to the memory of the men who were in the Confederate service from the counties of Tyrrell and Washington.

It is impossible for me to secure this roll without your assistance, therefore I ask your aid and beg you will render it as soon as possible.

Tyrrell county's roll was perfected July 4th, 1901. The old soldiers of that county met and by calling the rolls of the several companies in which their countymen served the names were recorded and thus a correct roll was made, for those who were there could recall those who had passed away; their regiment and their company.

Washington county should be proud of her soldiers, and their names should be recorded, correctly and fully, somewhere before it is too late to secure them. There are very few men living who served from Washington county, and in a few years they will pass away. Sincerely hoping you will respond to this appeal, I am

Yours fraternally,
W. F. BEASLEY, Pres.
Tyrrell & Washington County Monument Association.

It Saved His Life.

Hon. J. A. Oates, Mayor of Dunn, N. C., says: "I am sure Dr. Worthington's Remedy saved my life. It was prescribed for me in a very severe case of cramp colic by Dr. Armstrong, of the Confederate Army, in 1863, and it gave me instantaneous relief. Since that day I have used it continually and think it the greatest remedy on earth, and should be kept in every home." Price 25c. at H. B. Sedberry & Co.
