

Don't forget the old man with the fish on his back.

For nearly thirty years he has been traveling around the world, and is still traveling, bringing health and comfort wherever he goes.

To the consumptive he brings the strength and flesh he so much needs.

To all weak and sickly children he gives rich and strengthening food.

To thin and pale persons he gives new firm flesh and rich red blood.

Children who first saw the old man with the fish are now grown up and have children of their own.

He stands for Scott's Emulsion of pure cod liver oil—a delightful food and a natural tonic for children, for old folks and for all who need flesh and strength.

Mrs. J. E. Blount of Roper, and Miss Bessie Riddick of Hertford, who is teaching in Roper, were among the visitors in our town on Saturday last.

Have just taken my pen in hand to write a few words, but time and space is precious. I will just add, if you want to visit a well, up-to-date Picture Gallery, and one that is well patronized, is doing the business of this county, just drop in on Baker, at Edenton, and you will find the place. *

Mr. George W. White died on Friday last at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. S. Harrison, near town, aged 70 years. His remains were placed in the family burial ground Sunday morning, the funeral services being conducted by Eld. A. L. Harrison. We extend our sympathies to the bereaved family.

While out hunting on Wednesday, a gun in the hands of one of his companions accidentally went off, the entire load of shot striking Mr. Robert Bateman in the fleshy part of the thigh. The young man was brought to town and a physician summoned, who cut out the shot. Although the wound is very painful it is not supposed to be dangerous.

Get your fish from C. E. Flowers' fish cart, or send or 'phone to his fish market, second stall to left in market house. Fresh fish daily.

Sarah Etheridge, a white woman, died a few days ago in Kinston, from what was supposed to be effects of a beating she got a few days previous in New Bern. It is not known who the party was that beat her, but it is said that she suffered a great deal from the beating, and her throat was so badly bruised that she could not eat. She was a native of this place, having lived at one time with Mrs. T. J. Marriner.

Dr. H. O. Hyatt will not be in Plymouth on the 10th, 11th and 12th days of November as we expected. He writes us that he has had some vexatious delays in remodeling his Sanatorium, and has an unexpected and very important professional engagement which will prevent him from leaving home. This will be a disappointment to those who had expected to avail themselves of his skill, and we are glad to be able to say that he will make another appointment as soon as his business will permit.

The Plymouth Dramatic Co., on Wednesday night last reproduced that interesting play, "Tony The Convict." Although this play was given only last week there was a good crowd out and they all seemed to enjoy it as much as if they had never seen it before. Miss Vonnice Leggett, under whose management the play was gotten up, enjoys quite a reputation as a theatrical manager. This Company will play at Roper next Tuesday night, Nov. 11th, at Williamston on the 12th, at Pinetown on the 13th, and at Edenton on the 20th.

A child of Mrs. Geo. T. Beson, when getting his usual Saturday night bath, stepped back against a hot stove which burned him severely. The child was in great agony and his mother could do nothing to pacify him. Remembering that she had a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm in the house, she thought she would try it. In less than half an hour after applying it the child was quiet and asleep, and in less than two weeks was well. Mrs. Beson is a well known resident of Kellar, Va. Pain Balm is an anti-septic liniment and especially valuable for burns, cuts, bruises and sprains. For sale by all druggists.

Times are hard and it behooves us to economize. If your last year's suit is soiled don't cast it aside, but take it to Saml. Wiggins. He can, for little cost, dye them or clean and press them so they will look good as new, and you will save the cost of a new suit. Ladies' dresses dyed or renovated. He is also an expert in cleaning and upholstering furniture. Try him once and be convinced.

A man of one idea isn't bad if the idea is good.

Two heads are better than one—except in the family.

Silence is golden only when applied to the other fellow.

To The People.

Inasmuch as I find that I not only received the full strength of my party vote, but a large per cent. of the vote of the other party, I take this method of returning thanks to those who thus honored me by re-election to the office of Sheriff. Indeed I have just cause to thus show my appreciation of the confidence of the people whom I have tried to serve faithfully during my two years as their servant, and I promise only to do my whole duty in the future as in the past—knowing no party or person in the discharge of my official duty.

Again thanking the voters of Washington county for their support, I remain

Your obedient servant,
W. J. JACKSON.

Not a True Bill.

After a thorough investigation of the case against L. H. and Wm. Ange, charged with wrecking the Washington & Plymouth train some time ago, the grand jury of this county returned, not a true bill.

Detective J. M. Fowler, who was employed on this case, did all in his power to ferret out the mystery, and to bring the guilty parties to justice, but thus far his skill and ability has failed. But he does not give up. He contends that evidence is to be had, and he will have it.

While at work on this case Mr. Fowler has come in contact with many of our people, and the general opinion of our people is that he is a high toned, clever gentleman, and that while he has thus far failed to find the perpetrators of the most dastardly crime ever committed in this county, he worked as hard as he did in the celebrated Bonner case, which made him famous throughout the United States as the "Pinkerton of North Carolina."

For a Bad Cold.

If you have a bad cold you need a good reliable medicine like Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to loosen and relieve it, and to allay the irritation and inflammation of the throat and lungs. For sale by all druggists.
