The first issue of "The Eastern Star," a paper published in the interest of the colored race, with Edgar J. Hayes, Editor; Lawrence Smith, Associate Editor, and D. C. Cobb, Manager, is on our table. The paper is a six column folio, and is a neat, well gotten up sheet. In his salutatory Editor Hayes, who is also Principal of the Plymouth High School, shows himself to be broad minded and patriotic. The paper is needed, and should it receive the encouragement and support it richly deserves it will be no small factor in the uplifting and advancement of the race in whose interest it is published.

If you are troubled with Piles and can't find a cure, try Witch Hazel Salve, but be sure you get that made by E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago. It is the Original. If you have used Witch Hazel Salve without being relieved it is probable that you got hold of one of the many worthless counterfeits that are sold on the reputation of the genuine DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. P. E. Davenport.

It is better to go forward slowly than to go round and round ever so fast.

The tar that is contained in Bee's Laxative Honey and Tar is harmless. It is not coal tar, but is obtained from the pine trees of our own native forests. Bee's is the original Laxative Honey and Tar, and is best for coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough, lung and bronchial affections. Sold by P. E. Davenport and Skiles & Son. je 1

A Brilliant Social Event.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Fletcher Ausbon, corner Washington and Third streets, was the scene of a most brilliant social event on Friday evening last, March 16th, the occasion being the celebration of the fifteenth birthday of their daughter, Miss Katie Hampton.

At eight o'clock the invited guests began to arrive. From every window gleamed a light of welcome, and by nine o'clock the spacious parlor, drawing room and halls were filled with gay young people who called to wish Miss Katie many happy returns, and the little Miss, assisted by her sister, Neva Johnston, and cousins, Misses Estelle Forbes, Fannie Mae Lewis and Meta Harrison, bid each one a hearty welcome.

The color scheme for the occasion was yellow and green. The decorations, formed of foreign and domestic ferns and flowers, golden rod, cedar, holly and pine, were artistically arranged. In a frame over the parlor door, worked in green and yellow, was the simple motto, "Welcome," while in bold relief, stretched across the rear end of the hall, was "1891—K. H. A.—1906," in yellow and green letters.

Music, songs and games held the attention of the guests until eleven o'clock, when they were invited into the dining room where, beneath the soothing of the pine and cedar boughs, a beautifully decorated and superbly adapted with cake and other delicacies to tempt the inner man.

At twelve o'clock the guests began to depart for their respective homes, having extended a vote of thanks to their young hostess and her indulgent parents for a most delightful evening. As a whole this was, perhaps, the most brilliant social event Plymouth has witnessed for years, and from the number of cards of regret from those who could not attend, and the number present, together with the numerous and costly presents received, the writer agrees with the rest that Miss Katie is a most popular little girl.

Among those present to do honor to the occasion, were: Misses Gertie Bateman, Margie Willoughby, Ida Harrison, Estelle Forbes, Meta Harrison, Cad Campbell, Blanche Spruill, Louise Ayers, Mamie Clagon, Fannie Mae Lewis, Katie and Neva Ausbon, and Rev. L. Baughman Jones, Prof. E. F. Lee and Messrs J. H. Leggett, Z. V. Norman, Robt. and Leon Chesson, of Roper; Herman Ward, Chardon Willoughby, Willard Washburne, Jackie Chesson, Grover Midgett and Cecil Beasley.

Ye editor joins her host of friends in wishing Miss Katie many happy returns of the day and a continued life of joy and popularity.

What's The Matter With Roper?

On Tuesday evening the fourth teams of Plymouth and Roper crossed bats at Roper where, notwithstanding the very inconsistent state of the weather, the spectators were given a splendid exhibition of ball playing—by the Plymouth team. This team as a whole, under the efficient management of Mr. Herman Ward, showed up in excellent style. However, as must happen in every game, there are always a few who play better ball than others, and the few in this case were Herman Ward, pitcher; Lindsey Phelps, catcher, and Henry Midgett, first base. From beginning to end the Roper boys were unable to "get on to" Ward's curves, and consequently, lacking in ability to hit, had to content themselves with three strikes. Phelps and Midgett played an errorless game, and at several critical points, by means of good headwork and fine playing combined, greatly contributed toward making the game the walk-over that it was. The Roper "rooters" kept continually at it, but this was a case where rooting was unavailing, as the Plymouth team showed their superiority from the beginning. The Roper boys played good ball, but judging from the score, if they wish to cope successfully with Plymouth, a good deal more practice would not be a bad idea. The game resulted in a score of ten to four, in favor of Plymouth.

Plymouth battery, Ward and Phelps. Roper battery, Johnston and Chesson. Struck out by Ward, 15; by Johnston, 2.

THE above picture of the man and fish is the trademark of Scott's Emulsion, and is the synonym for strength and purity. It is sold in almost all the civilized countries of the globe.

If the cod fish became extinct it would be a world-wide calamity, because the oil that comes from its liver surpasses all other fats in nourishing and life-giving properties. Thirty years ago the proprietors of Scott's Emulsion found a way of preparing cod liver oil so that everyone can take it and get the full value of the oil without the objectionable taste. Scott's Emulsion is the best thing in the world for weak, backward children, thin, delicate people, and all conditions of wasting and lost strength.
