Drunken Negroes Hunting Trouble.

A gang of negroes, full of mean whiskey, created quite a row on the Str. Garrett coming from Edenton on Wednesday. One of the party drew a gun on Capt. Williams and threatened his life. Sheriff Jackson was notified and has taken steps to have the offenders arrested, but at this writing no success has been reported.

It has caused more laughs and dried more tears, wiped away diseases and driven away more fears than any other medicine in the world. Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. 35 cents. Tea or Tablets. P. E. Davenport.

Wednesday's Picnic.

On Wednesday morning business around Plymouth was at a standstill and the inhabitants busy getting off to Rea's fishery, on Albemarle Sound, to enjoy the 4th at the second annual picnic of the Charitable Brotherhood.

Buggies, wagons and bicycles soon filled the roads leading to the rendezvous, and these being inadequate the steamer Mayflower had been chartered, and on the arrival of the train from Washington bringing the speaker of the day, Hon. H. S. Ward, she cast off with a merry crowd to join the others on the grounds.

All went as merry as a marriage bell until dinner was spread, when the clouds came down in a perfect deluge, causing a rush for shelter, but many being distant were soon in the same condition as the dinner—too wet to mention.

After this few were in humor for anything but bathing, so speaking was dispensed with and all amused themselves in their own way until time to return home, which time arrived just as another terrific cloud gathered in the West and bore down upon them, so it is safe to surmise that most of them reached home in a very limp condition—except those on the Mayflower, which gallant little steamer, under the management of Capt. J. E. Hayes, stood the fierce elements with the stolidity of a battleship.

Many thanks are due Mr. Bob. Rea and his men, who did all in their power to make us as comfortable as circumstances would permit; also to Capt. W. B. Clifton of Roanoke Lighthouse, and Mr. Sam. Riddick and others, who with their boats added much to the convenience and pleasure of all.

While most of us feel to-day that we have picnic enough to last a lifetime, doubtless we will all be just as anxious to run the same risk a year hence.

It is always well to have a box of salve in the house. Snuburn, cuts, bruises, piles and boils yield to DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Should keep a box on hand at all times to provide for emergencies. For years the standard, but followed by many imitators. Be sure you get the genuine DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. P. E. Davenport

N. B. Truth, St. Paul, June 31, '08 — I've lived so long, I remember well when the Mississippi was a brook. My good health and long life came by taking Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. 35 cents. P. E. Davenport.
