The season for bowel trouble is fast approaching and you should at once provide your home with King's Diarrhoea and Dysentery Cordial. A guaranteed remedy for Dysentery, Cholera Morbus, Flux, Cholera Infantum and all kindred diseases. Numerous testimonials on our files telling of marvelous cures can be had by request.

Mr. Robert Yount, who is employed by me at Fullers, N. C., was quite ill recently with a stubborn attack of dysentery. He was treated by physicians without benefit, and continued to grow weaker. Half a bottle of King's Diarrhoea and Dysentery Cordial completely cured him, and he said unless he knew where more could be obtained he would not take ten dollars for the other half of the bottle.—A. ## Social Forms and Entertainment

An Outdoor Birthday Party.

How children do love parties, birthday parties especially, and every child is entitled to one day out of the year for his or her very own, and of course this is the natal day. I wonder if mothers realize they are making history and how very short the time will be when these wee tots will be saying: "When I was little we did so and so." I am reminded of an elderly woman who always counts back to her sixth birthday and the sake which she chose for the occasion was "roll jelly." The young mother was not an expert cook but she had promised the child she would chose the kind of cake she wanted, and let me add, she made it, and it was glorious in the child's eyes and has gone down into the annals of a happy life with many a birthday cake and a party.

Remember, children are the most satisfactory of all guests, the very fact of dressing and going to a party and bringing home the spoils is bliss. Provide little baskets of dainty tissue paper bags in which to put the favors and candies, and even the cake, for some kiddies love to take samples home.

Now for the party. We will need a lawn, some trees and a big porch and then with these accessories there must be a big bowl of lemonade on hand under a Japanese umbrella, the stake or handle being driven into the ground. Children are always thirsty and this will prevent them from running into the house for a drink every five minutes. Hide animal crackers over the grounds and tell the guests there is a whole menagerie hidden under the bushes, in the grass and even in the benches of the trees; give each one a paper bag in which to put the game and give a little prize to the one who finds the most. A small flag may be hidden and that will make another hunt, the gay little "stars and stripes" being pinned on the lucky finder.

The "eats" will be the climax of the party and the cake should be lighted with due ceremony and the children allowed to blow out the candles. Cunning favors are made by sticking animal crackers together with icing, and thus made they will stand upright at each plate. Delicious small cookies may be ornamented with daisies made from blanched almonds, the stem and leaves of angelica; fasten them on with frosting.

Snapping motto caps always give pleasure and sometimes the Christmas tree sparkles are obtainable at this season and they are lovely set to going outdoors and are not harmful.

Ice cream may be served in orange halves, thus making baskets with smilax for handles. Orange ice is very good served this way and is not so rich as ice cream. The party stationery that comes for parties is a joy to use for the invitations and the "Sunbonnet" baby cards are attractive also. The "five and ten" cent store will furnish any number of trifles for a fish pond if one cares for this, or for a grab bag, or better still, for a "fairy tree." Tie the parcels onto the low branches and let each child clip off one with a pair of scissors. Anything that makes for mystery is an adjunct to a child's party.

Candle Tricks.

Children and even grownups enjoy after-dinner tricks and I give these just as they came to me. They are all to be performed with candles. I have not had time to try them. Perhaps some of you will be kind enough to write me if they are any good. You could use them as an adjunct to a bazaar, performing them in a separate booth with curtains hung at the door to give an air of mystery, and charge a penny to get in. Of course, this is all to be done by young people, as it is within their possibilities.

Put a nail in the end of a candle and set it all in a glass filled with water. The nail will steady the candle, which will burn until nothing remains, always rising above the surface of the water by reason of the decrease in weight.

Take a small picture cut from a paper or book, and wrap it tightly around a candle. Light a match or another candle and hold the flame near until the paper becomes transparent. Unwrap the paper, and every one will be astonished to find the picture printed on the candle.

Put a candle unlighted in a basin of water. Let several try to take it out with their mouths, not touching the candle with their hands. Every one will fail. Then you put your face in the water, and when your mouth is near the end of the candle, draw in a deep breath, and the suction of the water will draw the candle into your mouth.

Allow some drops from a lighted candle to fall into a basin of cold water. This grease will form flowers. String these on a wire with green leaves made from paper, and an interesting plant will be the result.

Heat a piece of wire and stick it crosswise through the middle of a candle. Make a wick at both ends. Balance the candle on two tumblers. Light the wicks, and the dropping of the candle grease will make the candle see-saw, faster and faster as the flame grows hotter. This is a pretty experiment.

Pastimes For Outdoor Parties.

Did you every try "Blowing the Cone?" The youngsters will love it. Make a large cone of stiff paper and slip it on a string stretched between two trees about three feet from the ground.

Give each child a try to see if by blowing into the large end of the cone they can send it across the string. The art is to see who can send it over with the fewest "blows."

Another very good amusement is to tie a knot in a clothes line and stretch it conveniently high between two trees or posts, blindfold each child in turn and give him three clothes pins. Then see who can come the nearest to the knot. Each pin is marked with the player's number; for instance, three will be marked "1," three "2," etc. This gives each one three trials. If the party is a large one it will be best to let each child have just one pin and instead of numbering the clothespins could have colored ribbons tied to them, each child to remember his or her color.

MADAME MERRI.

When Darning Stockings. Use a white china egg as a mending ball for black stockings and a black one for white stockings. This will prevent eye strain.

The Divine Healer

By REV. PARLEY E. ZARTMANN, D.D.,
Secretary of Extension Department,
Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

TEXT—"Why marvel ye at this? ye, the faith which is through him hath given him this perfect soundness in the presence of you all." Acts 3:12, 16.

These two verses are very important; they mark the crisis in the story of the first apostolic miracle after Pentecost; the story sets forth the type of the ministry, message and motive of the church; we see that spiritual work (even along physical lines) went hand in hand with spiritual power, and we must face two or three plain questions as to matters of fact.

Is Christ the same as he was then? Is he able to do now what he did then? Are we in the same condition of need—difficulties, habits, sins? How far may I expect help from Jesus? If God's word shows me what Jesus is able to do, will I trust him for it, as men and women did then? The study of the story and of the entire word of God will give me an affirmative answer to all these questions except the last one—that I must answer for myself; for it is still true that, although Jesus is able to save to the uttermost, he can save only those who come to God by him and who will accept the healing power of the Great Physician.

The gospels tell us of many varieties of sickness dealt with by Jesus; these are all types of sin and of Christ's power to heal. Take four typical illustrations: Leprosy, or the guilt and defilement of sin; palsy, or the impotence of sin; fever, or the passion of sin; demoniac possession, or the slavery of sin.

Or, take three typical cases from the gospel according to St. Luke: (1) 5:17, palsied limbs; (2) 6:6-10, the withered hands; (3) 13:10-13, the bowed-down woman. In all these cases Jesus not only healed the body, but he stands forth as able to heal the sin of which the bodily ailment is a type. No case is too hard for Jesus. His diagnosis is thorough and correct; his treatment is appropriate and adequate; his power is "unto the uttermost." There will be no need to come again. He cures in different ways, but always with perfect understanding and with satisfactory results.

The man at the Beautiful Gate of the temple expected only alms from Peter and John, but he got what was of surpassing quality and value—healing. In the name and through the power of Jesus of Nazareth. "And they were filled with wonder and amazement at that which had happened unto him." That hour of prayer became an opportunity for the manifestation of the power of Jesus Christ, an unexpected blessing to the lame man, and the occasion of a great sermon by Peter. How graciously and generously God deals with us! "Exceedingly abundantly above all that we ask or think." Not alms, but healing; not silver, but salvation; not gold, but grace and gladness; not out-gold, begging, but beyond the Beautiful Gate, inside the temple, "walking and leaping, and praising God."

Is Christ the same today? Can he do that work of forgiveness and sanctification now? And is he willing to do it? Thousands can testify and say "Yes." On which side of the gate are you? Are you outside, distressed, diseased, despairing, dying? Do you cry out in vain for help? There is no reason why you may not be on the other side, rejoicing in the sense of sins forgiven, righteousness imputed, life imparted, joy planted. Only one reason—"Wilt thou be made whole?" "Perfect soundness," and in a moment. "And immediately." He is the healer divine. As such he is able not only to make "better," but to make well. "My case is too hard." I do not know how far your disease has gone, how dark the night may seem, how deep the sin dwells, but I do know the power of this healer in each and every case entrusted to him—nothing is too hard for God. His ability is omnipotent and his love matches his power. He may deal painfully, but it will also be effectively.

In the days of his flesh he healed by a word, or a touch: now by the Holy Spirit. Still the Great Physician stands in the presence of sin-burdened ones saying, "Arise," "stretch forth thine hand," "thou art loosed from thine infirmity," "I will be thou clean." Put him to the test, and find "Jesus Christ, the same, yesterday, today, yes, and forever." "Ye, the faith which is through him hath given him this perfect soundness in the presence of you all."

Reason Why.

She was a dear, old fashioned, modest, simple maiden lady. So that when she announced the fact that she thought of paying a chiropodist a visit her great friend was duly astonished. "I didn't know you suffered from corns," remarked the latter, when the news was first broken to her. "I don't," replied the old lady mildly, albeit firmly; "neither am I afflicted with bunions, chilblains, nor any other pains in the feet."

Her friend gazed at her with growing consternation.

"Then, my dear," she remonstrated gently, "what on earth do you want to visit a chiropodist for?"

The little old lady's cheeks blushed a delicate pink as she leaned forward, and one mitted hand on her interrogator's arm and whispered:

"It's this way, my dear. I do so want to be able to boast that at least once in my life I had a man at my feet!"

ECZEMA SPREAD OVER BODY

R. F. D. No. 1, Lewisburg, Ky.—"Fifteen years ago I was badly affected with eczema upon my scalp first, then it spread all over my body and continued to grow worse for four years. It began with a dry rash. After forming thick scales or scabs the irritation forced me to scratch the scabs off and the hair would come out with them. Upon my face and body the sores would get inflamed and they disfigured my face. It was worse where my clothes irritated them. The eruption was a yellowish watery kind, sometimes bloody. In warm weather it was so bad I was not able to work on account of the raw irritating sores on my head and body.

"After trying various medicines without relief I tried Cuticura Soap and Ointment. After using four cakes of Cuticura Soap and four boxes of Cuticura Ointment and one bottle of the Resolvent I was entirely sound and well and have been for eleven years." (Signed) W. H. Williams, Mar. 19, 1912.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold throughout the world. Sample of each free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. L, Boston." Adv.

Still One Ahead.

Donald was only 4, and the height of his ambition was to own a red wagon. One day he came in from play and burst into a storm of tears.

"Mamma, mamma, Johnnie Baker's got a red wagon—a treat bid one." Mamma comforted him as best she could, and Donald soon went off to play again. The next day Johnnie passed the house with his red wagon, and Donald, looking up, said vindictively: "I dess Johnnie Baker hasn't got a gran'ma up in heaven, anyway."

EXPERIENCE OF MOTHERHOOD

Advice to Expectant Mothers

The experience of Motherhood is a trying one to most women and marks distinctly an epoch in their lives. Not one woman in a hundred is prepared or understands how to properly care for herself. Of course nearly every woman nowadays has medical treatment at such times, but many approach the experience with an organism unfitted for the trial of strength, and when it is over her system has received a shock from which it is hard to recover. Following right upon this comes the nervous strain of caring for the child, and a distinct change in the mother results.

There is nothing more charming than a happy and healthy mother of children, and indeed child-birth under the right conditions need be no hazard to health or beauty. The unexplainable thing is that, with all the evidence of shattered nerves and broken health resulting from an unprepared condition, and with ample time in which to prepare, women will persist in going blindly to the trial.

Every woman at this time should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.
