FINE CROPS SEEM ASSURED THIS YEAR

COMMISSIONER GRAHAM RECEIV-G SPLENDID REPORTS FROM OVER THE STATE.

LATE STATE CAPITOL NEWS

Review of the Latest News Gathered Will Be of interest to Our Readers Over North Carolina.

Raleigh.

Commissioner of Agriculture W. A. Graham says that from every section of the state comes report of crop developments that are well-nigh ideal. Reports as to the wheat crop are of the most promising sort, this crop to be practically made within the next two weeks and with little possibility of any material set-back. The oats crop has developed wonderfully and will be one of the finest in the history of the state. Cotton and corn, he says. have developed fine stands and are lic to which she had been appointed growing beautifully, although the somewhat unseasonable cold the past few days has retarded the growth of the cotton somewhat.

Altogether, the Commissioner believes that there were never such auspicious crop conditions in North Carolina as at this time. The farmers are, he says, following out more closely than ever the improved methods of cultivation and adopting the most approved methods of farm management with an increased unaimity that is most gratifying. The fruit crop, the Commissioner says, gives promise of a yield that will be superior in many sections to the fine crop of last season Indeed. the reports as to the fruit conditions. apples, peaches, pears and all the small fruits, are pointing to very large yields of finely developed fruit, thanks to the increasing practice of the growers of properly spraying and otherwise caring for the fruit in all the stages of its development.

Soil Surveys in North Carolina.

Washington, D. C .- The United States Department of Agriculture will send representatives of the Bureau of Soils to make a complete soil survey of Alleghany and Davidson counties. A similar soil survey is now under way in Anson county. The suveying parties, it is expected, will take several months to complete the examination and mapping of the soils of these countles.

As soon as they have completed their investigations, they will make a large map showing the various kinds of soils and their location by means of colors and shading. This man will also show the location of the principal roads, schools, churches, railroads and watercourses.

Accompanying the map will be a complete report on the nature of the soils, their suitability for growing various crops, and suggestions for their improvement by fertilizers, cover crops and crop rotations. This report and the map will not be ready for circulation for some months after completion of the survey.

This was deter mined when the supreme court handed down an opinion holding unconstitutional the recent act of the General Assembly allowing the Governor to appoint women as notary public. A dissenting opinion was filed by Chief Justice Walter Clark and concurred in by Justice Brown.

HEAVY LOSS TO PEAR TREES

Small Apples and Pears Shriveled And Twigs Wither Where The Insect Has Been

Asheville-That the blight which has attacked the apple and pear trees of western North Carolina will do damage to the coming year's fruit crop in the sum of at least $1,000,000 is the conservative estimate of a numof the orchardists who have made a through study of conditions in Buncombe. Haywood and Henderson counties together with a few of the smaller counties. The orchardists of this section of the state have written to the United States Department of Agriculture for information as to the best methods of controlling the disease and have been advised that only through the cutting of the trees by stripping them of the affected limbs entail a heavy loss and the orchardists are pessimistic over the outlook.

The county farm demonstrator has made a study of the conditions in Buncombe and has found that practically all of the trees of this county are affected except those on the peaks of mountains which have not yet been reached by the disease. He and the owners of a number of the larger orchards are urging that all of June be spent by the owners of pear and apple trees in the cutting of diseased limbs from trees. The Department of Agriculture recommends that this work be not undertaken until the close of the present month.

The disease is carried from one tree to another by small insects and once as starts only through the cutting of the trees can it be stopped Blossoms have withered and small fruit has shriveled. Limbs are rotting and the orchards are being destroyed in the spread of the disease. Experts are being summoned to aid in the cutting which will be started the first of June in the hope of saving the trees whose

The Church and the Liquor Traffic

By REV. JAMES M. CRAY, D. D. of Moody Bible Insti of Chicago

TEXT-Woe unto him that giveth his neighbor drink, that puttest thy bottle to him, that makest him drunken also.— Habakkuk 2:15.

A demand is frequently made on the preacher to speak on the relation of the liquor traffic is that of a total abstainer from all intoxicating drink as a beverage. And why it is so?

For reasons of a personal character. A Personal Testimony.

1. I believe alcohol would injure me physically. I have tried to make myself intelligent on the subject, and have read good authorities on both sides of the case. While there is a difference of opinion among wise men as to whether alcohol may not sometimes be given medicinally with beneicial results, there seems to be unanimity that its use in any other way is only harmful. As a man I may be indifferent to my physical condition in some respects, and be willing to pay the cost of certain indulgences; but as a Christian I am not at liberty to do this, for if I am to glorify God in my body, that body must be at its best al-2. But what injures me physically, will sooner or later injure me morally ally, a tremendous loss never regain. as well. Indeed the effects of alcohol in this sphere are seen and admitted more readily than in the other, and bringing suffering, privation and loss yet they are only the outgrowth of the other. When man's physical and mental powers are weakened his moral strength is easily assailed, and remedy fails to cure,-Adv. hence blasphemy, ingratitude, anger, murder, licentiousness, dishonesty, and the whole brood of vileness and Warsaw.-The first crate of huckle iniquity that makes the civilized earth branch and was shipped by J. C. Peter | ment, will not permit me to deliberately contribute to this misery and woe

3. It is the injury to me spiritually though, that has the strongest power in withholding the cup from my lips. I know that I am an immortal being. Duplin and Sampson counties because and that I must give account to him who shall judge the quick and the dead. And I know that there is for me a future of eternal blessedness or I have lost, but for what I must experience in retribution for my sins. I am afraid of hell, and I am not afraid dom of heaven, and I want to inherit it, and I will not be such a fool, God helping me, as to sell that birthright for a drink of beer or a glass of toddy.

My Duty to My Neighbor. But all this is merely personal, it is my duty to myself; but my obligation is broader, and I have a duty to my neighbor too.

1. There is the duty of my example. The apostle Paul by inspiration of the Holy Spirit brings this out very clearly in Chapter 8 of First Corinthians. I may feel that personally I am at liberty to do as I please in a matter of this kind, I may "drink it or let it alone," but not if somebody else will be caused to stumble because I do not let it alone. I may thus cause him to perish for whom Christ died, and it will be difficult under such circumstances to give an account of my stewardship with joy.

2. There is the duty of my vote. What right have I as a Christian citizen to cast my ballot for a traffic that damns men's souls? There was a time in my experience when I was not so keen upon this point. I felt I had done my whole duty when I preached the Gospel and showed men how they might be saved from sin through faith in Jesus Christ. I still believe this paramount, and nothing must be permitted to stand in its way, but I have not done all when I have done that. There is the dram shop on the corner, a snare set by the devil for my neighbor's feet. As a Christian citizen, I have the privilege and responsibility of saving whether I would have it there or not, and I can preach the Gospel with more consistency and power when by my ballot I answer no.

This brings me to the text. Who is giving his neighbor drink? Who is putting the bottle to his lips? Who s making him drunk? Is it straining the situation to say that the state does this when it legalizes the sale of intoxicating drink and profits by it? But what is the state in a democracy, except the aggregation of the individuals who compose it? And who are these individua s in great proportion save those who profess to know God and Jesus Christ his Son, and obey his Norfolk, Va.—Cotton, B-9.130.
