

Reminiscences.

Oh dear old silent river
That ripples on your way,
I love to stand beside you
And see your ripples play.
Somehow I love to watch you.
The feeling clos't akin,
For in the days of childhood,
I stood and watched you then

I wondered then if ever
I would drift with you away.
In change of life I realize
Sure I must pass away.

I see no change you're making
Yet there's a change in me;
You seem as blithe as ever
And will forever be.

I love you, dear old river
As I see you move along.
I love to hear you murmur
Your glad, sweet song.

Oh, could I have my brother
That in those bygone years,
We'd stand again beside you
And I'd be free from tears.
And shall I stand here longer
And cry 'till I am blind?
No, I must like the river,
An Eternal Ocean find.

Edit a Newspaper to learn Human Nature.

If a man wants to get acquainted with human nature, let him edit a newspaper for a short time. He knows nothing of the ups and downs of life until he has served in this capacity. He may have preached, conducted a bank, sold goods, traded horses, practiced law, sawed wood or operated a pop corn factory, but he needs a few months experience as an editor-in-chief of a country newspaper to complete his knowledge of the eccentricities of human nature.—ex.

GROCER GAINED SIXTEEN POUNDS THROUGH TANLAC

W. C. Turner Says it is the Greatest Health Restorer. And He Knows.

"I have gained 16 pounds of good solid flesh on two bottles of Tanlac, the greatest health restorer the world has produced and I'm back for more of it," declared W. C. Turner, prominent grocer of Raleigh, to the Tanlac Man.

"Yes sir," he continued, "Tanlac brought me out from a general run-down condition when all other medicines failed and it has won for itself a place in my home. Why, I don't know nervousness is now; have a hearty appetite; am free from all pains; enjoy unbroken sleep; have gained in strength and feel an entire different man. Before taking Tanlac I had fallen off 30 pounds and didn't know what a well kay was for months. I'm glad of the chance to praise Tanlac for I know it will help others who give it a trial." Tanlac is sold in Plymouth by P. E. Davenport; Roper, Farmer Union Supply Co.; Edenton, Mitcher's Pharmacy. (adv)

75 years ago everyone wore homespun—

and, likewise, everyone used hand-mixed paint. To-day, when machine-spun cloth is so much better and cheaper, no one would think of wearing homespun. Many people are still using hand-mixed paint, however, because they do not know that will save them money and labor. Devoe Lead and Zinc Paint is simply made of the same ingredients the old-time painter used: Pure White Lead, Pure White Zinc, and Pure Linseed Oil. The only difference is that Devoe is mixed by machinery, 500 gallons at a time. Therefore, it is always absolutely uniform in strength, color and covering capacity.

We guarantee Devoe Lead and Zinc Paint to be pure. We know it contains no whiting, silica or other worthless materials. Stop in and ask for Color Card.
