HELP US GET IT RIGHT.

Our last issue might have left the impression that we have a grudge against Dr. B. F. Halsey of Roper. There were two articles appearing in that issue in which Dr. Halsey's name should have appeared, but due to lack of information received by us it failed to appear.

Dr. Halsey attended the banquet given by Dr. W. H. Ward, but his name was not mentioned in the article referring to the occasion. Our only excuse is that it was not on the list given us by one who did attend the affair. We are sure, however, that his name was not omitted from the list intentionally.

The tragedy at Scuppernon was investigated by our esteemed friend, who is coroner of the county, but we failed to make note of the coroner's investigation, for the simple reason that we were not thoroughly informed.

Editors, as a rule, do not know it all, and cannot get the important facts of an event by mental telepathy. And it is absolutely necessary that information be obtained from some source. It is impossible to chronicle all things in a perfect manner and get each detail accurately, unless some person becomes benevolent enough to donate the essential data concerning the subject.

Don't cuss the editor simply because he fails to publish everything you have done, unless, of course, you furnish him with necessary information relative to the incident or occasion. He likes to be cussed; it adds variety to his dull, lethargic life. If you must cuss him, for heaven's sake pick out something he should be cussed for. Back up and kick yourself if you fail to find an article in the paper bearing upon your personal activities, and didn't give the paper a thought until after it was published.

We want to publish anything you do, of news value, and will take delight in so doing if you will only inform us.
