SYRUP OF FIGS FOR GENERAL ASSEMBLY A CHILD'S BOWELS OF 1917

It is cruel to force nauseating, harsh physic into a sick child.

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the "dose" mother insisted on-castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you fought against taking them.

With our children it's different. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they The children's revolt is well-founded. Their tender little "insides" are injured by them.

If your child's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing, give only delicious "California Syrup of Figs." Its action is positive, but gentle. Millions of mothers keep this harmless "fruit laxative" handy; they know children love to take it; that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and that a teaspoonful given today saves a sick child tomor-

17-YEAR LOCUST AGAIN DUE

Coming of Periodical Cicada Is Predicted in Pennsylvania by College Professor.

The "1" year-locust" is due in Pennsylvanhi this year, according to C. H. Hadley, Jr., in charge of entomology extension at State college. The pest is what is known as "brood eight of the periodical cicada," and it appeared here last in 1900.

"This is one of the largest insect broods to occur in this state," Hadley says. "While locusts are usually of importance mainly_because of the popular interest aroused, it is quite possible that considerable damage may be caused it those places where the insects appear in unusual abundance."-Philadelphia North American.

Plucky Danish Captain.

A hero in every sense of the word Is the captain of the Danish steamer Iris which, sailing from one neutral port to another and having no contraband aboard, was halted by a German submarine and the crew ordered to leave the ship, in order that it might be sunk. The Danish captain flatly refused to leave his ship. "You may sink us, but I and my men will remain on board," he told the submarine commander. And his pluck won. His ship was allowed to proceed when it was seen that he knew his rights and was not afraid to assert them.

Raleigh.

It was on the stroke of 3 o'clock ate, and Speaker Walter Murphy in eral Assembly for 1917, and the presiding officers made their formal declarations of adjournment.

The morning trains had carried the great majority of the members of the two houses to their homes and there was little more than the traditional "corporal's guard" present for the final closing ceremonies. No legislation of thority over the convicts have not consequence had been allowed to get acted in any wise inhumanly, but on through during the last morning, as the Senate and House patiently waited for the enrolled bills as they were brought in from time to time to be ratified.

The General Assembly enacted the following laws in line with the recommendations in the inaugural address of ner and J. H. Darden. These mem-Governor Bickett:

1. The act resubmitting a constitutional amendment calling for a six months instead of a four months public school. The act follows the declaration in the Governor's inaugural address that "The children) entitled to have the voter cast a single ballot whether he is or is not in favor of a larger opportunity for the child." 2. The act submitting a constitutional amendment exempting from taxation notes and mortgages given in good faith for the purchase price of a home. The purpose of this act is to bring the money in reach of every homesteader.

The crop lien act designed to give the small farmer a chance to "break out of jail."

4. The act providing for the teaching of the basic principles of good farming in every rural public school. The machinery of this act is well adapted to serve its purpose.

5. The act to incorporate the installation of running water, electric lights and telephones in country homes and communities by furnishing expert advice and assistance free of cost.

6. The act to make the school house the social center, and to provide for wholesome entertainment in country school houses that will be both instructive and relaxing.

7. The act providing for the medical inspection of . F. Echildren who attend the public schools in order that physical defects may be discovered and corrected if possible in their incipiency.

8. The act providing for the incorporation of rural communities to the end that thickly settled communities in the country may take such steps for their own betterment as they may paramount object and that youthful deem wise and proper.

The act forbidding the sale or advertisement for sale of medicines purporting to cure incurable diseases. and forbidding the sale of any mechancal device for the treatment of disapproval of the authorities so far disease when the State Board of as the records show. Health may declare such device to be without curative value.

The Legislature passed the bill appropriating $25,000 for building purposes and $7,500 annually for two years for the erection of an orthopedic hospital-school to be located two miles east of Gastonia. The appropriation is contingent upon the people of the state raising a similar amount for building purposes. The bill was passed by the House by a unanimous vote, but five Senators opposed it in the upper body.

It is not believed that there will be any great difficulty in raising the money for the building of the school. Gaston county has already pledged $10,000, leaving but an equal amount for the other 99 counties to raise. The Rotary Club of Charlotte has indicated that it will attempt to raise $5,000.

This is the only institution of the kind in the south, being an hospital where crippled children are taken and given free treatment at the hands of the most skilled surgeons in the state. The report of the legislative committee to investigate the conditions Wednesday afternoon that the gavels and management of the State Farm of President Max Gardner in the Sen. | convict camps went into both branches of the Legislature with the full memthe House, sounded the sine die ad- bership of five signing a lengthy rejournment of the North Carolina Gen. view of the investigation that finds the system antiquated and the conditions bad, especially as to facilities for caring for the convicts and with the majority of the committee signing a further report reading as follows:

This Clause Signed by Three.

"The committee further finds that the superintendents and others in authe contrary have been lenient and considerate and humane and diligent in the performance and the discharge of their duties and obligations placed upon them by the present system." This clause is signed by Senator Burgwyn and Representatives W. H. Joybers of the committee and the other two, Senator Turner and Representative Beasley signed the full report. which is a document of 13 typewritten pages.

The document sets out the thoroughness of the investigation and finds that the housing and equipment at the farm are entirely inadequate. The sleeping quarters, especially for the negroes, far too small and poorly ventilated and the bedding bad. No separation of youthful and hardened criminals. The dining hall is poorly heated in cold weather and white and colored prisoners eat in the same hall with an alleyway between them. All prisoners have to wash from the same spigots, the whites and blacks crowding each other indiscrimately at the trough.

The report gives the food served and method of service and inattention to bathing are reviewed and failure to a Uply towels for the use of the convicts until recently. There is no recreation provided for the convicts beyond their daily work. The quarters for the women are inadequate and lacking in necessary privacy and no woman in charge of the department and evils resulting therefrom are reviewed. No reading mattre supplied by the state and no chaplian engaged, although there is a law authorizing such an official, are among the facts brought out.

The practice of whipping in connection with the discipline is reviewed and the methods described and abuses in this respect are given.

The committee finds that little or no effort has been made for moral and mental improvement of the prisoners, the largest possible results and profits from their labors being the prisoners are often injured by their associations in the prison life. Of all the whippings administered the past few years, of which there have been hundreds, none have met win the

The Whitney or Baron camps found to be a dangerous and hazardous place with poor equipment for the care of the men. Convicts return from their serivice there "broken." The committee says:

The committee finds that there has been lacking any regard for the reformation of the prisoner and his return to society a better and more trustworthy man. In conclusion, the report makes recommendations that have been largely adopted in the special act changing the prison system, that the Legislature has put through the leg-

Other bills passed in the following order: Authorize county commissioners to co-operate with pubford him every opportunity to become ment of Agriculture; repeal act cre ating the Kinston recorders court.

LEGISLATURE

Clerks Are Busy Preparing Journal-1,215 Acts Were Pased By 1917 Sesion of General Assembly.

Raleigh .- Principal Clerks R. O. Self, of the Senate, and Walter Lassiter, of the House, have started their force on the preparation of the copy for the publication of the journals of the two houses. This is to be completed for the printers within two weeks, most probably. There were passed 1,215 separate acts and 56 resolutions at this session of the General Assembly, compared with 1,498 acts and 65 resolutions two years ago.

The work of captioning and sidenoting the acts and resolutions is being pushed under the direction of the Secretary of State, this work being done by Col. W .P. Bachelor, who has rendered this service for a number of the past sessions of the Legislature. It is a long and tedious task. He has more than half the bills cantioned already and the principal side noting done for many of the more important bills. The bills passed in the great rush of the first ten days of the session to get ahead of the to say upon one definite aim, and then operation of the constitutional amendments, have all been captioned and side noted, a special publication of these having been gotten out within a few days after the emergency legislation was over. It is an interesting fact that practically no legislation as to the State Department of Insurance was gotten through this session. The general committee "ill know as Senate bill No. 906, was defeated the last day of the session through a fight that was made by Representative Grier to require the State Commissioner of Insurance to pay the fire marshal fund into the state treasury. A bill to this effect by Grier had failed earlier in the session and he tacked on an amendment to the general insurance bill embodying the same provision and the fight over this resulted in the defeat of the whole bill. Under rulings of the attorney general the commissioner of insurance both collects and disburses the fire marshal fund which has assumed considerable pro-

LESSON FOR MARCH 18

JESUS SAVES FROM SIN.

LESSON TEXT-John 8:12, 31-37, 56-58 Read entire chapter). COLDEN TEXT-if the Son therefore shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed .- John 8:36.

Teachers should sketch rapidly in a chronological way the events in the life of our Lord, (See any good harmony) and show that this lesson belongs to the period of the Galilean ministry of Jesus when he had gone up to Jerusalem to attend the feast of the taber-nacle (John 7:1-52). Let us be sure to load our guns with temperance ammunition, be familiar with facts, take careful aim, concentrate all we have pull the trigger e, g, be sure to shoot a temperance charge and make a temperance application.

I. The Slavery to Sin. Jesus' previous references to water (Chs. 4 and 7) and to bread (ch. 6) were occasioned by outward occurrences; so with this reference to light. In the treasury (v. 20) near to Jesus as he spake were two colossal, golden lamp stands around which when lighted the people gathered with rejoicing. Amid the blaze of this illumination, Jesus exclaims: "I am the light of the world." What is more beneficent than light as it reveals, cheers and brings life, health and happiness to mankind? Without light there is no vision. Without Jesus there is no spiritual wisdom. Without light we know not whither we are going. Without Jesus we grope in the darkness. Every ray of light, of truth, of holiness and love comes from him, for God is light, and in him is no darkness at all (I John 1:15). Some think that these words were occasioned by the onlookers, seeing what Jesus had written in the sand (vv. 1-11). The first step in the slavery of sin is blindness; the second is habit; and the third is that of absolute slavery (Prov. 5:22). Jesus was the incarnation of the light of God. We cannot conceive of Jesus making such an assertion as this, and being merely a good
