"Your honor." informed the policeman as he pointed to the prisoner, "he refused to rise while the band played the "Star-Spangled Banner."

"I did not recognize the tune," explained the culprit hastily.

"Now, my dear man," said the judge sympathetically, "let me whistle it for you, so that hereafter you may disdinguish it."

The judge whistled the melody and the prisoner listened intently. When his honor had finished the defendant exclaimed generously: "Your honor, if the band had played

LESSON FOR APRIL 3

JESUS RAISED LAZARUS FROM THE DEAD-EASTER LESSON.

GOLDEN TEXT-Jesus said unto her, I am the resurrection, and the life .- John This lesson occurred about two months before the crucifixion, Jesus being in Bethabara at the time of this call (See John 10:40; 1:28). There are four recorded cases of resurrection from the dead: Jairus' daughter (Matt. 9), the son of the widow of Nain (Luke 7), Lazarus, and also Jesus after his crucifixion (John 20).

1. The Lesson of Unbelief. Bethany, the home of Lazarus, is on the southeastern slope of Mt. Olivet, two miles from Jerusalem. Christ and his disciples were on the east side of the Jordan, having been driven there by the hostility of the Jews (John 10:31). He purposely delays his stay in that place that this event might give an opportunity for the manifestation of his wonder-working power. This delay it. . . . I praise it every day." was in face of his supernatural knowledge that Lazarus' sickness had been fatal, for he said plainly to his disciples, "Lazarus is dead." Philosophers have often called death a sleep, but always one from which there was no awakening; hence the skepticism of these sisters, is not surprising, (1) They limited the power of Jesus to his person-"If thou hadst been here." (2) They also limited his power to a cer-

ing of these sisters produced sacrifice and self-devotion. Suffering brings blessing to others. It is also a means of self-culture. Suffering drives us to patch on the seat of his trousers."

the Christ, and reveals to us the unrealized side of Christ's character (v. 25). Jesus is often never more kind than when he seems to be least kind. In the midst of her skepticism and pain Jesus gave Martha a new and glorious thought about the resurrection. "I am the resurrection liver such as sick headache, constipaand the life." If we desire that, all we have to do is to get Jesus himself (I John 5:12). Resurrection has to of the heart from gases created in do with the body, and life has to do the stomach, pains in the stomach, and with the spirit (John 17:3). > IV. The Lesson of Power, Jesus had let natural causes work to their fullest extent. Coming to the tomb, Jesus said (v. 39), "Take ye away the stone." It was four days after the death of Lazarus before he came forth. Jesus was soon to die and rise in three days after his entombment. The stone had to be removed from the tomb of Lazarus; it rolled itself away from the tomb of Christ. The restrictions which Christ placed upon his exercise of power, viz., that he allowed Lazarus to die, to be buried, and his body to reach the point of putrefaction, and not to come forth until Jesus himself, in his body, was present at the tomb, emphasizes the lesson of the restraint of power for the glory of God. Out of such extreme circumstances of seeming impossibility God manifested his glory (Rom. 8:28).

Browning has given us a wonderfully imaginative picture of his renewed life on earth:

And oft the man's soul springs into his

As if he saw again and heard again His sage that bade him rise, And he did rise.

The effect of the miracle was twofold. Many who were present believed on Jesus, others did not. Some went to the Pharlsees to relate what they had seen, only to meet with rebuff.

The remainder of the chapter is occupied with the plotting of the Pharisees against Jesus, and from this grave there stretches the shadow of a cross upon the path of Jesus.

This miracle ranks next to Christ's own resurrection as a demonstration of Immortality. Are we ou resurrection ground? Has the stone been rolled away? The resurrection of Lazarus proves that our earthly existence is only temporary, that our real existence is eternal.
