Food Products Bought in This County.

According to the returns given Dr. B. W. Kilgore, Director of the Extension Service, by merchants in this county we are buying a great deal of food and feed products that we should by all means grow with-in our own borders. Dr. Kilgore, sent to the merchants in this county blanks to be filled out as to the amount of food and feed products that each of them bought for sale in the county, that was grown outside our state, and when they are tabulated they show us very conclusively that we are sending out of Washington County a great deal for these products that should by all means be kept in our county for other good purposes.

Last year thirteen merchants reported to Dr. Kilgore, and several of the larger merchants were not included in this list, yet it gives us an idea as to what we are doing. The following amounts of the food and feed products were purchased by Washington County merchants outside of North Carolina; Corn-1685 bushels, Hay-316 Tons, Corn meal-1262 bu., Meat-101,300 lbs., Hams-1,150 lbs., Flour-7,346 barrels, Oats-3,525 bu., Cases of canned goods-4,432, Feed stuffs-8 tons.

Judging by some of the amounts of these products bought by several of our merchants and taking into consideration that several did not get their reports in this I believe that the following estimate of the products used in our county will be very conservative: Corn, 5,000 bu.; Hay, 500 tons; Corn Meal, 2,500 bu.; Meat (other than hams) 200,000 pounds; Flour, 12,000 barrels; Oats, 6,000 bu.; cases of canned goods, 7,000; feed stuffs, 500 tons.

It is a fact that all these products can be raised in our county at a great deal less cost than that which we have to pay for them and you can draw your own conclusions as to the condition our county would be in agriculturally and financially were we to grow all these products at home. Why not produce all food and feed products in Washington County that we need? Glance over the above products and see if you were one of the men to purchase these products last year, and resolve not to do so any more, not that we want to cut out the merchants' business, but to make him and Washington County better by doing it.

In next week's Beacon there will appear an article on wheat growing for the fall, so if you are contemplating growing your own flour for next year, you want to start the crop right. We can grow good wheat in this county and let's show our people over the county and the state that we can be self supporting.

Very truly yours,

N. B. STEVENSON
County Agent
