

GARDENS IN WASHINGTON COUNTY THIS FALL.

Keep the garden busy all the time, don't let it rest, and there is still plenty of time for collards to be transplanted for fall and winter use. Also now is the time to make preparations for an early spring garden.

Under ordinary conditions the following suggestions are applicable for this county:

Cabbage and collards sown in July and transplanted in August, will mature in November. Cabbage seed sown in September and transplanted in November will mature in spring.

Turnips sown in August mature in November.

Lettuce sown in August is harvested in October.

Lettuce sown in September should be transplanted in cold frames in early October, and harvested in December and January.

Parsnips, kale, spinach, parsley and mustard sown in August should mature in December.

Onion sets planted in August can be used continuously during winter. Those planted in September mature in March.

That part of your garden not used for vegetables should be put down for winter cover, as winter cover, here, is a most profitable investment. It will prevent frost damage to the soil, and will give you a valuable fertilizer for the winter.

Make arrangements now to give the chickens green feed for the winter. Eggs are usually high in November, and December, at this time usually green feed is scarce, so oats, rye, wheat, or clover for the chickens to graze.

Keep a close watch on the eggs, see to it they have an abundant supply of fresh water at the time. Keep them growing, hogs are scarce and meat is high and may go higher.

Every family should keep a good cow for the home use, they give large returns for the investment and are indispensable on every farm.

See to it that the fields after harvest are not bare for the winter rains and winds this year, so winter cover crops. Clover may be sown in September, oats may be sown in the cotton middles now, rye can be sown in the different fields from September to November 1st.

There should be not less than 20 acres sown to wheat on every farm in the county this year. Wheat for the home use can be made profitable, circulars will be ready for distribution in a short time.

Experiments have shown that selected seed corn give large yields in bushels than corn selected at random in the barn, you also show an increase in ears and cents, now is the best time to field select your corn for planting the crop this spring. Go to the field and the barn for the seed corn, can't tell what kind of stalk ear of corn grew on when get it all in the barn, you in the field.

At the Co-operative Habit, you have any kind of farm products to sell, sell them co-operatively, products in bulk will get more than in small quantities. Organize a local marketing association. See that your products are in a good marketable condition and that they are properly packed, bagged and graded.

For further information about any of these suggestions see our list at once. I will be very glad to aid you in any way that I can.

Yours for service,

Smith Form-a-Truck

$350 F.O.B. Chicago

Rack Body for Hay, Straw, Loose Grain

Now Eight Bodies in One

SMITH Form-a-Truck itself is one of the biggest money making implements ever offered you.

Combined with the famous Eight-in-One body it is absolutely necessary to any modern farmer.

Look at the eight bodies in one which you can get in a minute, simply by moving the levers on the side.

Think of what this means to you in farm equipment! Instead of having to maintain four or five different types of wagons, you get them all in one.

Take a load of hay—deliver it—in a minute change the body to carry live stock. Haul your hogs, or calves.

Get rid of this load. Take on cattle in the stock rack body.

Then, if you want to haul supplies—lumber, barrel goods—change to the flat rack body.

And all of this on the Smith Form-a-Truck chassis.

Thousands of farmers are using Smith Form-a-Truck now. You will not get the utmost efficiency out of your farm until you use it.
