After a lingering illness of several years, Mrs. Augusta Evoline Clark entered into rest at the Clark homestead, Pantego, N. C., at eight o'clock Tuesday morning, Sept. 18th, 1917. The funeral was conducted from the home by her pastor, Rev. S. A. Nettles of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and interment was made Wednesday morning Sept. 19th in the family plot on the shores of Pungo Creek near Belhaven, which has been the family burying ground for five generations. Her six sons bearing her poor body to its last resting place.

She was born Feb. 2nd, 1843 near the Narrows of the Yadkin River in Montgomery County, North Carolina. She was married to Benjamin W. Clark, a son of Benjamin W. Clark, by one sister, Miss Fannie A. Simmons Pantego; and six sons, Messrs James B. and Ernest W. Clark of Belhaven, Joseph Pinkey Clark of Pantego, Walter Herman Clark of Edenton, Benjamin Simmons Clark of Roper and William F. of Washington.

On April 3rd, 1866 she was married to Walter Clark of Beaufort County, N. C., who died on July 31st, 1903. His father, Jos. Bonner Clark was Recording Steward of Hebron M. E. Church, South, Pantego for thirty years. He built a church and donated it to the N. C. Conference, his son succeeding him as Recording Steward, which position he filled until his death.

She joined the M. E. Church, South, at Thomasville, N. C. 1885 and remained a consecrated member all her life. She was a graduate from Greensboro Female College in 1861, and was a member of the Missionary Society of the Church.

She leaves ten grand-children and the following neices and nephews, all of Thomasville, N. C., Mrs. Geo. H. Yew, Mrs. T. R. Myers, Mrs. E. W. Dixon and Messrs. Frank S., John W., D. T. and R. L. Lambeth.

WENONA NEWS.

The Pungo-Wenona baseball team met and defeated the Gaylord nine Saturday afternoon with a score of eight to four. Owing to the storm, however, the game was not quite completed.

We are glad that there is at last something to be seen of the new school house as well as heard, and hope this rainy weather will not delay the building.

An ice-cream supper was held at the Pungo school house Saturday night, but few were able to attend on account of the weather.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Rice were called away some time ago, because of the illness of the latter's father. They have not yet returned.

Mrs. Lee Brewster and children reached home Friday, after a month's absence, during which time they visited friends and relatives in Ohio.

Mr. Brocker is taking a short vacation.

Mrs. W. L. Furbee and son, Howard, are spending their vacation in West Virginia.

Miss Irene Pelson went to Pantego Saturday, where she will stay a few days.

Misses Blanche and Fannie Harris left Monday to enter the Pantego High School. Mr. Harold Glover enrolled Wednesday.
