Easy to Remedy.
Jones was always complaining of his wife's memory.
"She can never remember anything," said he. "It's awful!"
"My wife was just as bad," said Brown, "till I found out a capital recipe."
"What is it?" asked Jones, eagerly.
"Why," said Brown, "whenever there's anything particular I want the missus to remember I write it on a slip of paper and gum it on the looking glass."
Jones is now a contented man.

A Poor Counter.
"He's an expert accountant."
"I don't believe it. I played golf with him the other day and the score he handed in convinced me that he never studied arithmetic."
Deliberation is a good thing that has broken few records.

A PHYSICAL WRECK

Laid Up In Bed, Barely Holding Onto Life. Doan's Effected Marvelous Recovery.

"Without warning I was dragged to the brink of the grave by malignant kidney trouble," says Robert Wengatz, 114 Cypress Ave., Bronx, N. Y. "My kidneys seemed to stop acting and the pains in my back were terrible. Big, bloated puffs came under my eyes and attacks of dizziness often blinded me. My limbs swelled twice normal size and I could press big dents into the flesh."
"I was confined to bed and had convulsions several times a day. Despite the best of treatment, I grew worse and was taken to the hospital. I didn't improve, however, and was brought home again, barely holding onto life."
"Toward the last of 1913, a friend persuaded me to try Doan's Kidney Pills and I cannot put into words what they did for me. The first box helped more than all the other medicines and treatments I had taken. I continued and from an emaciated wreck of a man I have taken on good, solid flesh until I now weigh 225 pounds and am in the best of health. Doan's alone deserve the credit."

LIFT YOUR CORNS OFF WITH FINGERS

How to loosen a tender corn or callus so it lifts out without pain.

Let folks step on your feet hereafter; wear shoes a size smaller if you like, for corns will never again send electric sparks of pain through you, according to this Cincinnati authority.

He says that a few drops of a drug called freezezone, applied directly upon a tender, aching corn, instantly relieves soreness, and soon the entire corn, root and all, lifts right out.

This drug dries at once and simply shrivels up the corn or callus without even irritating the surrounding skin. A small bottle of freezezone obtained at any drug store will cost very little but will positively remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. If your druggist hasn't stocked this new drug yet, tell him to get a small bottle of freezezone for you from his wholesale drug house.—adv.

COSTLY CHIMES FOR CADETS

Big Set of Bells Is Being Made for Chapel at United States Military Academy at West Point.

What is said to be the most costly chime of bells in America and one of the most musical sets in existence is now being made at the foundry of the Meneely Bell company of Troy, N. Y., for the massive tower of Cadet chapel. Rev. H. P. Silver, chaplain at the United States military academy, West Point, as the gift of Mrs. James M. Lawton, in memory of her father, the late Maj. Gen. Robert Anderson, who was graduated from the academy in 1825, and whose brilliant command of Fort Sumpter at the outbreak of the Civil war has thrilled millions of readers of American history, says the Watchman-Examiner.

There will be 12 bells in the chime, the largest weighing nearly two tons and measuring 56 inches at its mouth. The cadet chapel is of stone quarried from rock found on the military grounds and cost to build about half a million dollars. Its commanding position on the hill back from the Hudson river makes an ideal place for bells, and the patriotic airs from the chime will sound throughout the beautiful highlands, in the midst of which the military academy is situated, and prove a source of inspiration to the future generals of the United States army that will always linger with them pleasantly.

TIMELY PREPARATION FOR FILLING SILO

From the farm management standpoint it is always a great deal better to have things ready for the silo long before they are needed. It does not take any more time to see that the knives of the cutter are sharpened and that the binder is in good working order at one period of the year than it does at another and it may mean a good many dollars to the rancher, writes C. W. Pugsley, in Field and Farm. No money is saved by attempting to get along with too little help. Filling the silo at the best is rather heavy work and as a rule we do not like that part of it which demands the handling of heavy bundles of corn. If teams and men enough are on hand to complete the work in a short time and less trouble will be experienced in getting help.

Heaviest Expenses.
One of the heaviest expenses in connection with filling is the cost of an engine and an engineer, and when an outfit is hired the farmer should see that it is used to full capacity. This co-operative filling is practiced an Ohio blower cutter of large capacity will probably give best results. If the grower is filling his own silo and desires to own his machine, a cutter with knives from 14 to 20 inches, depending upon the capacity of the silo, will give the best results. If the silo is above ground a blower cutter should be used by all means. If he has an underground silo he can get along with a chain carrier. No matter the style of cutter, it should have a distributor. This is merely a series of joints of pipes fastened with snaps and rings in a manner to make it flexible. It extends from the end of the blower or from the end of the carrier to within a few feet of the bottom of the silo.

Evenly Distributed.
In this manner the ensilage is evenly distributed all over the silo, which is not the case when the cut corn merely falls from the top either with a blower or chain carrier. The heavier parts of the ensilage such as kernels and pieces of ears will fall closer to the can only be done by supplying a sufficient amount of labor to keep everything running. Some farmers favor a smaller cutter and letting the filling period extend over more time. In some instances this is probably an economical practice. I know one man who uses a small cutter with a chain carrier—the type that demands the least power—and runs it with his farm gasoline engine. He uses the ordinary help of the ranch with perhaps an additional man or two and extends the filling of a hundred ton silo over a period of a week. This of course has the disadvantage very often of allowing part of the corn to become too ripe, as it is now, while that which was put in first may be a little green.

FARMER CANNOT AFFORD TO BE WITHOUT SILO.

Different Cutters.
The cutter selected will depend somewhat upon the kind of silo and upon the system of filling adopted. If point of distribution, while the lighter portions, the husks and the stalks will be scattered further away. This makes it necessary to fork over the ensilage and with the greatest of care the corn, husks and stalks are not evenly distributed. The distributor will give an absolutely uniform distribution and will save the labor of at least one man in the silo; although there should always be from two to three men tramping inside while the filling is going on. In filling it is well to keep the outer edges a little higher than the center and to do most of the packing at the outside. The matter of packing is very important. Do not attempt to save money on labor by cutting down the number of men in the silo and while they are there see that they keep moving. A man standing in one place all of the time does not give much service.

DETERMINE AGE OF CHICKEN

Among Many Other Signs or Indications Legs and Toes of Young Fowl Are Quite Smooth.

You can rarely tell the age of a fowl after it is over one year old. The tip of a young chicken's breast bone is flexible, so are the pelvic bones, but are rigid in the old fowl. The legs and toes of a young bird are much smoother than the old. There are fewer pin-feathers in the old bird, and more long hairs. The plumage of the young bird is usually brighter and smoother, and not so faded, as in the older bird. The face of the old bird is more wrinkled, and there is more of a shrunken appearance around the eyes. The hen often has a baggy, broken down effect behind. The spurs are an indication of age. If you notice beneath the wings of an old bird, you will fall to see an evidence of veins, but in the younger birds the purple colored veins are visible under the wing. You will find the bottom or ball of the foot of the mature birds harder and much more calloused than in the case of the younger fowl.

EXCELLENT AS COVER CROPS

Bur Clover and Melilotus Indica, Formerly Regarded as Menacing Weeds, Now Useful.

A score of years ago bur clover was considered but a weed and such a menace to lawns, gardens and fields that all feared to encourage it. Later it became a famed cover crop. Likewise Melilotus Indica, the yellow-flowering melilot, is now a high-grade cover crop for dry lands. Yet for all time it has been a vile weed known to all.

PREVENT BACTERIA IN MILK

Much Can Be Accomplished by Keeping Cows Clean and Giving Attention to Utensils.

Cows free from manure and dirt, especially in the region of the udder and flanks; utensils that are carefully cleaned, scalded and dried; and careful protection of the milk from flies and dirt after production, will prevent the entrance of bacteria into milk.

TWELVE THINGS TO DO IN SEPTEMBER

1. Plant a big turnip patch if you have not already done so.
2. Avoid loss by keeping the cotton picked as fast as it opens.
3. Select your cotton seed for next year's planting from the best stalks, and then have them ginned separately.
4. Select your seed corn in the field, and then carefully store to prevent loss.
5. Start planting outs, especially in the northern half of the cotton belt.
6. Try a patch of Abruzzi rye for early fall and winter grazing.
7. Be sure to plant crimson clover on all cotton lands that are to go in corn next year.
8. Try some bur clover on your Bermuda pastures; it will give you valuable winter and spring grazing.
9. Save an abundance of seed peas for next year.
10. Start the children to school and visit the school yourself.
11. Don't rush your cotton on a depressed market; arrange to hold all you can for better prices.
12. Save all the hay and other roughage possible for winter feeding.

"Wife a Good Sport."
W. S. Desmond, a carpenter of Huntington Lake, Cal., is above the selective draft age limit, but he wanted to join the army.

He told his wife. She objected. He offered to match pennies with her. She agreed. He suggested heads, stay at home, tails go to the front.

They matched and tails won. Desmond enlisted in the field artillery. "My wife's a good sport," he told the recruiting officer.
