When the American National Health Cross, by act of the United States Congress, approved January 5, 1905, was incorporated and placed under government supervision, its purposes—in addition to its duties in times of war—were declared to be: "To continue to carry on a system of national relief in times of peace and apply the same in mitigating sufferings caused by pestilence, fire, line, fire, floods and other national calamities." This organization has therefore a great work to do at all times for there is always human suffering to be alleviated, but now that the world is racked with war, its work is tremendous, and it is doing it in a way that should make every man, woman or child who belongs to the Red Cross proud to be a member. It is the hope of thousands of suffering human beings and stands between them and cold, hunger, sickness and despair. It is the instrument by which each one of us may make himself useful; our means of extending helping hands to the innocent victims of the war.
