

CAMP GLENN TO BE MOBILIZING POINT

CONCENTRATION POINT FOR THE ENTIRE NORTH CAROLINA GUARD.

RECOMMENDED BY SLOCUM

Wilmington Delegation Tried to Induce Military Authorities to Locate Site There.

Raleigh.—Camp Glenn, Morehead, is decided upon as the concentration camp for the entire North Carolina National Guard, according to announcement made at guard headquarters here. Recommendation to this effect has been forwarded to the War Department by Colonel Slocum, of the United States Army, to whom was delegated the duty of deciding this matter. There is still a possibility that in the event the coast artillery contingent of the guard is called out, it might be mobilized at Fort Caswell, but otherwise, the plan is to have all the other units of the guard at Camp Glenn as they are ordered out.

There is to be immediate removal of the Second Regiment from Goldsboro to Camp Glenn, they having been stopped at Goldsboro simply for muster-out purposes, which plans were abandoned as the war situation developed.

A Wilmington delegation was here striving to induce the military authorities to adopt a site and facilities offered there for the mobilization and training of North Carolina guard units their tender being in competition with sites offered by Raleigh, Salisbury, Greensboro, Charlotte and Asheville. The proposition from the latter place being the tender of the Biltmore estate and all its facilities by Mrs. Vanderbilt.

The Wilmington proposition was to take care of the entire guard. In this connection the offer includes 75 acres of land for camp site, 1,000 adjacent for drill purposes, 1,000 yard rifle range, with camp ground having railroad through it, immediate access to electric car service, water, sewerage, navigable stream, adjacent with 12 to 30 feet of water, complete marine hospital facilities with 30 acres of ground around it, electric lights, telegraph and telephone service at the camp.

Million Dollar Plant Burns. Marion.—The most destructive fire in the history of Old Fort destroyed the million dollar plant of the Old Fort Extract Company. The plant of the Central Leather Company, adjoining, was also burned and is almost a complete loss, together with three residences and a number of other small buildings.

A number of residences in different sections of the town caught on fire several times, but were extinguished before great damage was done. A steady wind from the southwest caused the fire to spread rapidly, setting fire to the woods in many places and threatening the entire town. The loss is estimated at more than a million dollars, covered by insurance.

Frederick Palmer at Chapel Hill. Chapel Hill.—Frederick Palmer, "America's greatest war correspondent," held an audience of over 700 students and townspeople intensely interested for three hours when he gave his lecture on the great war, and showed pictures taken of the fighting around Verdun and at the Somme. "Germany," said Mr. Palmer, "is now using her last weapon, the submarine."

Stars and Stripes Float New. Raleigh.—For the first time in the history of the North Carolina Home for Confederate Veterans, located here, the Stars and Stripes was raised replacing the state flag, the veterans saluting the emblem with the same enthusiasm they formerly showed to the Stars and Bars. Heretofore, the institution being under state control, only the North Carolina flag has appeared on the flag pole of the home.

Fayetteville Men Drill. Fayetteville.—The first call to arms made on the men of Fayetteville since the present war situation began, was answered by 100 young men. Terry A. Lyon and Donald W. prominent young lawyers, who attended the Plattsburg training camp last year, had issued a general invitation to "young men and old young men" to meet with them at the F. I. L. I. armory for drill in the manual of arms. The response was gratifying and enthusiasm ran high among the 100 men who answered the call.

Monroe Has Big Fire. Monroe.—Fire discovered at 11 o'clock in the morning practically destroyed the five store buildings constituting half a block of Main street. The damage done to the buildings will total at least $75,000 and the goods $50,000. The stores were occupied by Isam Plyler, as a meat market; the Monroe Auction Company, Howie & Coen, store and restaurant, and S. R. Doster, merchant. The fire originated on the roof of the Doster store and burned rapidly until all of them were practically destroyed.

CALVERT NEWS

On Monday afternoon, Jack Jenkins, jr., of Calvert entertained a number of his little friends with an Easter party. The time was spent in hunting eggs, and to the one who found the most a prize was offered, which was awarded to Annie Zachary. Games were engaged in on the lawn, also pictures of the children were taken, each carrying an American flag.

The children assembled into the dining room to the strains of the Victrola, playing, "Here Comes My Daddy Now."

The room was decorated with a color scheme of yellow. The centerpiece for the dining table consisted of a basket of colored eggs. A dainty luncheon was served, and the children expressed themselves as having spent a most enjoyable afternoon.

Numerous Benefits Can Be Obtained By Cleaning Up

"Clean up week" depends for its success upon the hearty co-operation of every citizen, and if it be given ungrudgingly the town will be the better for it in health, in money and attractiveness. City officials can do much in seeing that the street cleaners do really clean, that garbage collectors do their task thoroughly and that public buildings, squares and parks shall be an example of neatness. But what the official can do will be but a drop in the bucket compared with what should be done. It is the corners that are out of sight that need most attention—the courts, cellars and back yards—and over these the municipality has no control. It depends, therefore, upon the householder to do the major part in the elimination of rubbish, the overhauling of the things that collect dust and filth, and the whole process that goes to make up the real town beautiful.

Dirt of any sort means multiplication of disease, and disease means economic waste. Therefore "clean up week" will mean business prudence and enterprise. Health means wealth and progress.

Statistics of Blindness.

Lead Pencil Materials.

Siberia produces the best graphite for lead pencils thus far discovered. That is the source of supply for the German pencils. Australia, as well as Siberia, produces the material for an indelible pencil. America has a fair amount of lower grade graphite.
