

BAKER AND DANIELS ARE TO BE SPEAKERS

TWO CABINET MEMBERS ON PROGRAM OF UNIVERSITY COMMENCEMENT.

BOTH TO SPEAK ON SAME DAY

President Graham Issues Statement to Press and People of North Carolina.

Chapel Hill.—Both Secretary of War Newton D. Baker and Secretary of the Navy Daniels will speak at the commencement of the University of North Carolina, Wednesday, June 6th, according to an announcement made by President Edward K. Graham of the University. It is planned to make the occasion a great patriotic celebration and an expression of loyalty to the government. President Graham issues the following statement to the press and people of the state and section:

"In response to urgent invitations extended to the Secretary of War and to the Secretary of the Navy to visit North Carolina on the occasion of the commencement of the University, we have the acceptance of each of these great officials of the government, and assurances that they will be present and speak in Memorial Hall of the University, June 6th, at 11 a. m.

"Few men in the world have responsibilities at this moment so great as these two men. Their coming to the state now is an event of unusual importance, and we trust that it may be made memorable by a great patriotic celebration, testifying our confidence in the administration of our government and our complete and enthusiastic loyalty to the supreme cause in which our country is engaged. We therefore invite the people of this state and section to come to the University and join in a worthy tribute of welcome to Secretary Baker and to Secretary Daniels."

Must Send Millions of Men.

Fayetteville.—That the European war will last for years and that millions of men must be sent overseas by the United States before the Prussian military power is crushed was a prediction made by Col. J. Bryan Grimes, Secretary of State of North Carolina, in what was said to be one of the most powerful Memorial Day orations ever delivered here. Colonel Grimes, as the speaker for the local observance of Memorial Day, reviewed the causes leading to the War of Secession, North Carolina's part in the war, traced her history through all the American wars, skillfully bringing his discourse down to the present situation. That the South was forced into the Civil War and the North was obliged into it was one of the many striking statements made by Colonel Grimes. Referring to the grave situation now confronting the Nation he urged North Carolinians to do their part, as they had always done it in the past.

Bull Wrecks Train; One Killed.

Asheville.—Lloyd K. Hulce, a fireman on the Murphy Division of the Southern, was killed, and three other firemen were injured, when two freight engines were derailed near Junaluska by a bull, one engine turning over. Hulce was caught in his cab and was crushed so that he died a few minutes after being removed. He was in the second engine of a doubleheader, and his cousin, A. E. Hulce, who was engineer, was uninjured save for a few bruises. Engineer C. Burke and Fireman O. E. Bradshaw, on the first engine, were also slightly injured.

Two engines were crawling the heavy freight train, and were making slow time near Junaluska, when a bull hopped into the forward engine and was drawn under the wheels, derailing the both engines.

Remains of the dead animal were found scattered about the engine. The dead animal was about ten or twelve feet long. The body will be shipped to Whittier for burial.

May Take Germans to Mt. Pisgah.

Asheville.—Representatives of the United States Labor Department, who arrived in Hendersonville, N. C., and that if there is any need of troops about the delivery of Lake Mead property to the Government for an German internment camp, the camp will be located on Davidson River in the Pisgah National Forest, George Stephens, of Charlotte, at whose request transportation of the Germans was delayed, said that his only objection is that E. R. Graham had no right to lease the property.

Trucking is Good.

Goldboro.—Farmers in this section are now shipping peas from Goldboro in large quantities by express, and the prospects for heavier shipments of beans is certain, with good weather, the acreage having been increased. Strawberries, if the weather changes from the present cold snap to warm nights and plenty of sunshine, give outlook for heavier shipments of the crown crop during the next ten days. Lettuce shipments are now on the wane, and after a few more days the crop will have been exhausted.

MRS. ELIZABETH AIKEN DIES AT AGE OF 95

Mrs. Elizabeth Aiken died at the home of her son-in-law, T. B. Reid, near Lake Toxaway, on Tuesday night. Her death might be said—more truly than in most instances—to have been the result of old age, as she had passed the three score and ten by a quarter of a century. She was, perhaps, the oldest person in the county at the time of her death.

Her maiden name was Elizabeth Gillespie. She was born in the Mills River section and was married at the age of 20 years to William Aiken. Their married life covered a period of 67 years, Mr. Aiken having died only a few years ago. There were eight children, six of whom are still living. They are R. T., W. L., and J. L. Aiken of Brevard; P. A. Aiken of Rosman, and Mrs. M. J. Owenby of La Follette, Tenn.; and Mrs. T. B. Reid of Lake Toxaway.

Nearly all her long life was passed in this county or in a neighboring section. She lived for a few years in South Carolina.

She was a loyal and consistent member of the Baptist church and a woman of sterling character and fine intelligence. Up to an advanced age she still retained her power of mind and body in a remarkable way. The last few years were spent with her daughter, Mrs. Reid.

The funeral services were held on Thursday afternoon at Mount Moriah church, of which she was a member, and interment took place in the church cemetery.

Money Talks

It's human nature to want to get everything you buy for the least possible outlay of money. That is the reason this store is steadily increasing its business day by day, because more people are being convinced day by day that you can actually buy for less at this cash store.

"THE PRICE IS THE THING" after all is said and done. This is the thing that induces you to make a trade. You may be pleased with the style ever so well, assured of the quality without a doubt, but if the price is not right—well you just don't trade. That is why we emphasize the fact "THE PRICE IS THE THING."
