

WILL PRAISE IT 'TILL SHE DIES

Mrs. Flanigan would be Covered With Cold Sweats and Have to Gasp for Breath—

"I'll praise Tanlac the longest day I live, and so will my daughter, Elise, for it's simply wonderful the way the medicine has helped us," said Mrs. M. J. Flemming, 104 Claiborne street, Nashville, Tenn., whose husband is a well known employee at the T. C. R. K. shops.

"I suffered so much with cold chills and smothering spells that it's a wonder I'm here today to tell the tale," continued Mrs. Flemming, "and if it hadn't been for Tanlac I don't know that I would. It was three years ago that I had the first one, and I have had them off and on ever since. My heart would thump like a trip hammer and then act like it was going to stop beating; and after that would wear off I'd get so nervous I could hardly be still, and sometimes I would turn right blind.

"At other times I would be covered with cold sweat and would have to be covered up for hours before I could get warm, and then I would get so hot they would have to raise me up and fan me to keep me from smothering.

"I would have lamps come in my stomach that felt just like a rock, and no matter how much I was doctored or how much medicine I took, I couldn't keep these spells off, and nobody will ever know how much I suffered with them.

"While I was taking the very first bottle of Tanlac that knot failed to appear after I'd eat, and I kept right on till I had taken three bottles, and you never saw anybody in your life pick up and begin to eat like I did. I got so well I disagreed with me, and the chills, hot spells and blindness have never come back.

"That was three months ago, and I've not kept on getting stronger and stronger and now I weigh more than I did before I started taking Tanlac. I don't have any more cold chills, hot spells, or any other ailment, and I'm just glad to see the medicine that has cured me.

"My daughter, Elise, who is now down and out of the hospital, she has a cold, but she's not as sick as she used to be. She's able to walk and eat now. It's truly a real miracle, and she thinks it's the best medicine she's ever had in the world."

Mrs. Flanigan, who is now in the hospital, says she is getting well. "Really, this is a wonderful medicine," she says, "and I'm glad to see it's doing so much good."

WHEAT MUST BE MARKETED

Food Administration Calls Upon Farmers to Market All Except Supply Necessary for Own Use.

Raleigh.—State Food Administrator Henry A. Page has been instructed by the Food Administration at Washington, in order to assure the continuous shipment of wheat to our allies abroad and the armies of our Allies to appeal to the farmers of the State to market the residue of their wheat not later than May 1. No general order requisitioning wheat has been sent out by the Food Administration up to this time and probably will not be sent out before the date mentioned.

In some states the attention of State Food Administrators has been called to reports from loyal farmers that a number of pro-German farmers have determined to withhold their wheat from the market in order to hoard it to as great an extent as possible the Government and its Allies in the war against Germany. There have even been a few such instances reported in North Carolina. Such cases will be promptly investigated and persons in this class will be directed to market their wheat immediately upon penalty of having it confiscated by the Government.

Administrator Page is confident of an immediate and patriotic response upon the part of wheat growing farmers in North Carolina who will have wheat on hand. Mr. Page states that there is no necessary reason why wheat growers should not market all of their wheat beyond their own requirements until the next harvest. It is possible that a higher price will be paid by the Government for the surplus wheat than it would be for wheat stored until the next harvest. Farmers should be assured that the Government will not sell at a lower price in March than it will in May. Mr. Page also stated that the Government will not sell at a lower price in March than it will in May. Mr. Page also stated that the Government will not sell at a lower price in March than it will in May.

There is a further chance that the Government will buy wheat now, rather than in the future, they may be able to buy it at a lower price than they would be able to buy it in the future.

The Food Administration has received a number of reports of business men, professional men, farmers and others having forewarned the use of wheat flour until the next harvest.

DEALER PROMOTES CANNING.

Mount Airy.—North Carolina's record of nine million cans of vegetables and fruits packed last season will be greatly exceeded this year if a large number of canners that are in position to do so would follow the example of one Mr. Airy wholesaler who for the past several years has funneled in cans to reputable parties to be filled during the season and sold either to this wholesaler himself or to another dealer without reservation. Payment for the cans is made in canned goods or through the sale of canned goods.

meanings of the war and the necessity for its efficient and aggressive prosecution.

Mrs. Preston is at her desk in the new offices of the Security League, 10 West Forty-fourth street, New York city, daily, conducting the voluminous correspondence connected with the work of her committee which now extends into every state in the Union.

In accepting the secretaryship, Mrs. Preston wrote Dr. Robert A. McGowan: "I am happy in accepting this opportunity to work with the league. I can think of no way in which I could more surely contribute my share to the present needs of our country than by joining in the very important work which your bureau has undertaken."

JUNGLE LAW.

Remembering that Europe, crossed with war, is a place where the law of the jungle is in force, it is not surprising that the law of the jungle is in force in Europe. The law of the jungle is in force in Europe. The law of the jungle is in force in Europe.

NATIONAL MOVE FOR PHYSICAL REGENERATION

Started by National Security League Through Committee Headed by Walter Camp.

Impressed by the fact that 29 per cent of the young men called to the colors in the draft are being rejected for physical disability, the National Security League has started a nationwide movement to promote the physical welfare of the youth of the land through the organization by communities of branches of a Committee on Physical Reserve, of which Walter Camp, veteran trainer of athletes, is chairman. In answer to a letter sent by the league to the mayors of all the cities in the country of over 5,000 population asking them to appoint committees to cooperate with Mr. Camp, 200 committees in 20 states have already been appointed to carry out the idea. Associated with Mr. Camp on the Committee on Physical Reserve are William C. Anderson, member of the Advisory Committee of Yale University Gymnasium, and Joseph E. Rayeroff, member of the War and Navy Departments Commission on Training Camp Activities.

"Economic Disaster." In discussing this new effort of the Security League, S. Stanwood Meahan, president of the league, said:

"The National Security League has taken up this work because the country cannot afford without serious economic disaster to lose the benefit of the service of nearly one-third of the men who are drafted for military duty because of physical unfitness and whose places must be taken by those who have dependents. The draft figures show that 29 per cent of the men are physically unfit. The work is necessary, as with the strain upon American brain, it is essential that public attention be focussed upon the need of paying also due regard to physical safety. The efficiency of the human engine and the ability of the man-power of the nation to withstand attention, and the extra work that the men who are doing things have to do at present, makes it important that those men should recognize the fact that physical exercises plays in their ability to bear their full load of work.

Life Worth $11,000.

"Furthermore, when the difficulty in supplying a full quota of labor for industry, it is necessary that the man-power of the nation should be increased by the maximum measure of physical service. Every individual has a duty to perform in this respect, it is to be said about. As an individual, each man is obligated to be well and to be able to do his share of the work of the nation. As a citizen, each man is obligated to be well and to be able to do his share of the work of the nation. As a citizen, each man is obligated to be well and to be able to do his share of the work of the nation.

"The work which Mr. Camp has undertaken is a work of the highest importance, and we heartily commend it to every patriotic American."

"Thankfully Agree." State of the health of the members of the Security League is in a condition that makes it necessary for physical education to be given to the youth of the nation.
