Word was received lately of the death of Almarene McCrow of Gaffney, S. C., a pupil of the Institute. He was killed in action in France.

Professor Trowbridge, Bryson Hamrick and Lamar Galloway went to Lake Junaluska last Saturday to attend the funeral of Eustace Leatherwood, a B. I. boy, who died at Pennington, Va. where he was employed in a munitions plant.

The school has had several pleasant outings of late. Last Thursday the student body went to hear Gov. Bickett and on Sunday to hear the lecture at the court house, and they attended the fair one day.

The Institute sent exhibits from a number of departments to the fair.

Miss Emma Searcy, who has charge of the Domestic Art Department at Weaver College, spent a few days with us this week.

Misses Blanche and Lillian Ross of Morganton, who are sisters of Claywell Ross, have recently entered the Institute.

FROM OVER THERE

September 8, 1918.
Medical Dept. 161st Inf.
A. P. O. 727, Amer. E. F.

Dear Mother:

Your long letter of Aug. 8th received and I was certainly glad to hear from you, as it seems an age since I had a letter from you all.

Brevard seems to be a lively place now. It certainly seems to add to one who is over here amidst the turmoil, to think how peaceful and calm it must be in a place like Brevard, so far away. It certainly would be nice to be out of it for a few days back there where you could just forget it all and let your mind relax a bit. It gets pretty monotonous some times, just war, war, war. I imagine it must be growing pretty tiresome by this time to the Huns. We know now anyway that we have them on the run and I feel sure we will keep going till we get them behind the Rhine.

Guess raising the draft age is causing quite a sensation in some parts of the country. If it takes that to lick the Hun, tho, we are willing to do it, 15 million strong.

Think I've told you before, am getting paper now. Received the local paper before I received your letter. I appreciate it and it lessens the distance between Brevard and France quite a bit. I forget where I am for the time being and imagine myself in Brevard.

Glad to know crops are good and everybody making money.

Guess the soldiers of Davidson River add quite a bit to the finances of Brevard.

Yes, I imagine the country is pretty well stripped of the young boys. It will be a great time when it's all over and we come sailing back home.

We are all working hard now, don't have much time to write. Nothing startling to tell here. You will notice change in address. This is only change in name of the organization.

We are at the same place, Paullevoy. I like this place about as well as any I've been. There isn't anything of special interest in any of these towns after you have been in them for awhile and seen all the town. The most interesting thing about any of the buildings, etc. tho, is the antiquity of the buildings. Guess most of the buildings are from 50 to 100 years old and upward, all have something of historical interest. I have been in Chateaus and buildings 1000 years old, think of it. There is a chateau at Prest I went thru, they say was started by the Phoenicians way back before Christ. There is a building here 1000 years old, all rock. You see, all this country has been fought over so many times that every place you go, there was some kind of a battle, may be two or three hundred years ago. There is so much history to France I've quit trying to learn any of it except what is connected with this war, and that's lots, you know.

Am well, doing fine. Hope all at home are well.

Your loving son,
Virgil W. Osborne.

SERVICE AS BROAD AS THE COMMUNITY

War Camp Community Service Provides Numberless Intimate Comforts For Soldiers

Club rooms for soldiers, entertainments for the boys in khaki, outings for convalescent men back from France, small, but appreciated services to soldiers and their relatives and friends—these are some of the manifold activities of the War Camp Community Service.

The War Camp Community Service comes close to the intimate life of the soldier and provides for his mental as well as physical comfort by furnishing the facilities which make it possible for him to relax from the strain of military training and the preparation for overseas fighting.

Its symbol is the red circle and its activities are as unending as the circumference of its insignia. Thousands of soldier boys take advantage of its facilities and other thousands of relatives and friends of the boys in Uncle Sam's uniform are daily benefited through its various avenues of effort.

BUILDING MORALE OF JEWISH TROOPS

Work Of Jewish Welfare Board Producing Splendid Results In Camps and Trenches

No more effective work toward maintaining the highest morale among the American troops has been done by any war organization than by the Jewish Welfare Board, which is engaged in its task of keeping up the lines of communication between the Jewish men in the trenches and training camps and the folks back home.

Believing that in the struggle of morale against "kultur" the American army has every advantage that will insure success, the Jewish organization is making its chief issue the stiffening of mental and moral fibre among the soldiers of the Hebrew faith. The call for workers is urgent and rabbin, professional men, journalists, social workers and others are entering the service of the Jewish Welfare Board to make up the 400 workers needed to fill the ranks.

AMERICAN SOLDIERS ANXIOUS FOR BOOKS

American Library Association Providing Reading Matter for Boys On Battle Fronts

Despite the fact that the ocean transportation facilities are being taxed to the utmost, the task of providing reading matter for the boys in the trenches is being handled with an efficiency and dispatch that is surprising even to those who are closely in touch with the situation.

The American Library Association, which has shouldered the responsibility of collecting books, magazines and newspapers by the millions in every city and town throughout the country, is distributing this huge quantity of reading matter to the men in France through the Y. M. C. A., the Red Cross, the Knights of Columbus and the Salvation Army.

SIX Y. W. C. A. WOMEN ESCAPE FROM RUSSIA

Atlanta, Ga.—The six secretaries sent to Russia a year ago by the Young Women's Christian Association to organize the work of the association in Petrograd and other large cities, have escaped from Russia, is the news just received.

The whereabouts of these six women had been unknown for months. Whether they were alive or dead, had been a mere matter of guess work.

HUT SERVICE PROVIDED FOR MEN IN BRITAIN

Knights of Columbus Establish Huts for Soldiers in England

London.—The Knights of Columbus in Great Britain are making remarkable progress in their efforts to provide facilities that will enable men in the United States forces overseas to enjoy such social entertainment as will help to brighten the routine of military and naval life. Up to the present writing, they have established clubs at the following posts: 266 Edgware Road, London; Market Drayton, Littlehampton, and Inverness. Temporary structures have been erected in many of the larger camps, which are to be replaced shortly by substantial huts.

To date 2,000 secretaries have been called for, and the response is bringing splendid men of high principles and ready sympathies. Each man is over thirty-five years of age and has placed himself unconditionally at the service of the organization, to whatever post of danger or hardship he may be called.

WOMEN PRAISE STELLA-VITAE

We want every afflicted woman to try at least one bottle of Stella-Vitae on our plain, open guarantee to return the money paid for it if it does not benefit.

If you doubt our word that it will relieve the distressing aches, pains and misery peculiar to the diseases of women, read the testimony of these women who have tried it and are glad to tell others what it has done for them. The only interest they have in the matter is that which any true woman feels in helping to relieve the sufferings of other women. You can believe them.

Mrs. J. F. Lee, Milstead, Ga., had female complaint for years. Three bottles of STELLA-VITAE cured her, she said, and added, "I am certainly thankful for this great female tonic." Mrs. Paralee Frazier, Longview, Tex., expressed appreciation of STELLA-VITAE in these words: "I cannot say too much for this wonderful medicine. I had taken other female medicines for two years with no good results. I am truly grateful for the good STELLA-VITAE has done me." Mrs. Sandy Withers, of Greensboro, Ala., was a terrible sufferer from female trouble—and only a woman knows what that means! Her condition got so bad her pains threw her into spells like fits. Her husband feared she would lose her mind. The Greensboro doctors pronounced her incurable. Then somebody suggested that she take STELLA-VITAE. She did so. The first dose lightened her spells.

STELLA-VITAE is a perfectly harmless compound and it not only alleviates a woman's pain, but builds up her health; it stimulates her appetite, aids digestion, quiets her nerves and clears her complexion. It improves her personal appearance.

All dealers sell Stella-Vitae, and are authorized to return the money paid for the first bottle if it does not benefit. For Sale by Macfie-Brodie Drug Co., Brevard, N. C.
