VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Editor Brevard News:

In last week's issue of the News there appeared a resolution adopted by the Brevard Club expressing the Club's regrets at the loss sustained by the Transylvania Tanning Co. in the recent fire which cost the company its main building, stating in substance that the Club was only awaiting an opportunity to backup any movement which would insure the immediate rebuilding of this plant.

In the same issue there also appeared an editorial which we presume was written by the editor under some form of "Editorial Inspiration," strongly intimating that unless there was some expression of encouragement and approval from the citizens of Brevard and vicinity the promoters of this enterprise would probably not rebuild on the old site but would seek other fields for their investments.

It will be remembered that it has been a very short time, comparatively speaking, since the people of Brevard were very urgently requested to attend what was at the time called "get-together-meetings", banquets, etc. at which they were told if they would only go deep down in their "jeans" and bring out a sufficient sum of money Brevard had a chance to land the biggest sort of an industrial enterprise; a manufacturing establishment which meant the doubling of Brevard's population in no time and one which would insure a payroll of twenty-five thousand dollars per week. We were assured that it was an enterprise which would employ only skilled or high-class labor which would mean a high-class citizenship as well. When a number of men (and a few women too) had planked down the "kale" and the deed for the building site had been properly executed and registered things began to hum. Everybody knows what that humming brought to Brevard, and now how any one could have the face to ask the people of the town to place the stamp of their approval upon any proposition to rebuild such a thing in Brevard is something past our understanding.

Mr. Silverstein stated on different occasions that he did not intend building a tannery here, but was going to build a Belting factory and a "Finishing Plant" for his Rosman product. I heartily agree with Mr. Silverstein that he built the "Finishing Plant" all right. The plant that, had it not burned, or should he be allowed to rebuild it, spells "Finish" to Brevard. Finish as a health resort, finish as a pleasure resort, finish as a residence town for our own people and everybody else. A finishing plant which took the "skilled labor" out of many kitchens, to wit: your cooks, in order to increase the efficiency of the force. A finishing plant which created such a demand for "skilled labor," such as had heretofore been employed at the wash tub, that many of our wives actually had to patronize Jim Bromfield in order to get the family washing done.

Let me say in conclusion and that in all seriousness. I believe the people of Brevard should be a unit in opposing the rebuilding of any such plant within the city limits as the one destroyed because of the fraud and deception practiced upon an unsuspecting public in obtaining their cooperation and assistance in the first place, and because of the polluting and contaminating effect such a plant has upon both the water and atmosphere of the immediate community, rendering itself highly undesirable as well as detrimental to the best interest of Brevard, and if you will eliminate the question of personal gain to a few of our business men—the merchants perhaps, and a few others—I dare say that every man, woman and child within a two mile radius would at once say to not allow such a thing to be rebuilt here.

One thing further and I shall stop. I know perfectly well how unpopular it is with certain of our people for an insignificant person like myself to oppose by word or act anything that men like Mr. Silverstein and his colleagues advocate. To these I can say I have no "axe to grind" and I am courting no special favors. As it is with myself so with the majority of my neighbors; by reason of our poverty we are compelled to remain here in Brevard and by reasons of Mr. Silverstein's wealth he is able to go elsewhere when conditions here do not suit him. I owe him and his associates nothing but goodwill in any enterprise that is not damaging to the balance of my neighbors but, as in this instance, when the interests of the many are to be sacrificed for the benefit of the few, count me always, if you please, with the majority of my neighbors.

Very respectfully,
M. W. GALLOWAY

ATLANTA BUSINESS MAN IS ENTHUSED

Since Taking Tanlac Alman Says He Feels as Well as He Ever Did.

"If you had seen me before I began taking Tanlac you would hardly believe me to be the same person," said A. F. Alman, a well-known seed merchant of 271-3 Peters street, Atlanta, Ga.

"For more than a year," he continued, "I suffered terribly with stomach trouble. After eating anything I would always have gas on my stomach and would constantly belch up my undigested food. I suffered with heartburn constantly and was extremely nervous, my liver was sluggish and I was bilious, too, I felt languid and tired-out most of the time and often felt so bad that I could hardly attend to my business properly.

"I heard so many people praising Tanlac that I began taking it, too, and by the time I had finished my second bottle I had gained nineteen pounds. I never suffer now with heartburn or indigestion and am not nervous like I was before, I sleep well and get up in the morning feeling fine and ready for a hard day's work."

Tanlac is sold in Brevard by Duckworth Drug Co., in Sapphire by J. T. Harrison, Jr., in Davidson River by J. J. Patton & Son, and by all good druggists. Adv.

THE IRON TEST IS FASTER THAN A 3-RING CIRCUS

Manager Glenn of the Sapphire Theatre has chosen for his Spring serial picture "The Iron Test," what is described as Vitagraph's "latest and greatest photoplay serial." Antonio Moreno and Carol Holloway are the featured stars of this newest thriller, which is from the pens of Albert E. Smith and Cyrus Townsend Brady. Mr. Smith is the president of the Vitagraph Company and Dr. Brady is one of the foremost fiction writers of America.

Manager Glenn announces that "The Iron Test" will start at the Sapphire Theatre on Thursday, March 20 and that he will run an episode each week on Thursday for fifteen weeks. Mr. Glenn says that he has seen the major portion of "The Iron Test" and he believes it to be the most thrilling story of romance and adventure which he has seen on the screen. To begin with, the story has for its background a circus and the big mountains of the West, which assure plenty of action and fine photography. Some of the thrills noted by Mr. Glenn he relates as follows: In the first episode Antonio Moreno leaps through a blazing hoop to a flying trapeze, and in doing so his clothes are set afire. He falls to the ground in flames.

In the third episode Mr. Moreno and Miss Holloway, performing on the high trapeze are plunged downward from the top of the "big top" when a knife inserted by the villain cuts the trapeze rope.

Later on Carol Holloway is attacked by a raging lion.

Still further Mr. Moreno has a battle in mid-air while he is driving an airplane. He loses control of the machine and leaps from a great height into the sea.

Again Carol Holloway risks her life to save Moreno from being crushed by a train. Further on she performs one of the most wonderful riding feats ever seen, when racing along a perilous precipitous mountain trail she cuts the ropes binding Moreno to a wild horse and saves him from being plunged to destruction over the cliff.

"These are only a few of the thrillers I remember," said Mr. Glenn, "but they are a fair sample of the hazardous stunts which Mr. Moreno and Miss Holloway perform in the course of the serial. The things happen so fast that, looking at several episodes in a bunch, it is almost impossible to keep track of them all. The serial has a circus background, but the action is faster than any three-ring circus that ever tested the eyesight and neck muscles of an audience trying to watch all three at once—and, you know, that is what we all try to do when we go to a three ring circus."

SMOKING TOBACCO FACTS FROM THE ENCYCLOPAEDIA

The Use of Flavorings Determines Difference in Brands

The Encyclopaedia Britannica says about the manufacture of smoking tobacco: "... on the Continent and in America, certain 'sauces' are employed... the use of the 'sauces' is to improve the flavour and burning qualities of the leaves." Which indicates that a smoker's enjoyment depends as much upon the flavoring used as upon the tobacco.

Your nose is a sure guide in the matter of flavorings. Try this simple test with several tobacco brands: pour some tobacco into your palm, rub briskly, and smell. You will notice a distinct difference in the fragrance of every brand. The tobacco that smells best to you will smoke best in your pipe, you can rest assured.

Carefully aged, old Burley tobacco, plus a dash of pure chocolate, gives TUXEDO Tobacco a pure fragrance your nose can quickly distinguish from any other tobacco. Try it and see.
