People of Brevard who like a good show have had the pleasure this week of hearing some real Kentucky Belles sing and seeing some comedians that are really funny. Morton's Kentucky Belles appeared at the auditorium on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights, and played to packed houses on all three occasions. There was an entire change of program every night and one of the leading features of each performance was the novelty act by Mr. DeGrace, whose skill as an acrobatic artist won much applause. He held the breathless attention of his audience as he performed one remarkable feat after another. He danced around the stage with a cigarette paper balanced perpendicularly on his nose and held nine chairs balanced on his chin with equal ease. As a climax to his work he made a pyramid of chairs more than ten feet high and balanced himself on two legs of the topmost one and rocked back and forth with an amazing disregard to all possible consequences.

Brevard has never imagined such singing and probably never entertained a party of visitors who were more appreciative of the courtesies extended by citizens of the town or more enthusiastic over the natural advantages of the surrounding country. The principals in the troupe, Miss DeGrace, Miss Matthews, and Messrs. DeGrace, Matthews and Morton declare that if they ever take a vacation they expect to spend it here. Mr. Morton, the manager of the comedy, is an enthusiastic fisherman. He spent Wednesday afternoon in Pisgah Forest and caught the limit of rainbow trout. Miss Matthews, the prima donna of the company, is a North Carolinian, who formerly played leading parts with the Tanhauser Film Co. Her home is near High Point, where she owns and operates an up-to-date poultry farm. Mr. Morton, the manager, is also a Tarheel and had his first stage experience in amateur theatricals produced by the high school at Thomasville, N. C. He made his debut on the professional stage as the leading man in "The Convict's Daughter," which he says was a five-act melodrama that played a one-night stand all over the map.

A Task

TO be honest; to be kind; to earn a little and to spend a little less; to make upon the whole a family happier for his presence; to renounce when that shall be necessary and not to be embittered; to keep a few friends, but these without capitulation; above all, on the same grim condition, to keep friends with himself—here is a task for all that a man has of fortitude and delicacy.—Robert Louis Stevenson.
