BOHANCUS DOPE

The man may not surrender this authority. He is held responsible for the conduct of his family. The fourth Commandment emphasises this responsibility in the matter of the Sabbath. Eli failed on this point and the failure brought untold disaster to his family and his people. His is the lesson for all families, and for all times. "His sons made themselves vile and he restrained them not." I Sam. ii. 11-14.

When Abraham stood before the Lord looking toward Sodom, the Lord said, "Shall I hide from Abraham the thing which I do? etc. For I know that he will command his children and his household after him, and they shall keep the way of the Lord, to do justice and judgement." Then the Lord conferred fully with him about the destruction of Sodom and Gomorrah. Here we note this remarkable thing; Abraham's righteous rule over his household was not only pleasing to the Lord, but he assigned it as a reason for making him a confidential friend and advisor. Gen. xviii. 19.

We have seen that the family is the primordial unit in church and state and that both are profoundly interested in its integrity. Family corruption and disintegration under mine them both. The two enemies which now threaten the integrity of the family are twin sisters—easy divorce and woman suffrage.

Easy divorce ignores the fact that both husband and wife "are no more twain but one flesh;" it undermines the home; it discounts the strongest human affections in the interest of a sordid selfishness. The child is robbed of its birthright, the supreme united love of father and mother, and falls into the abyss of their mutual hatred and selfishness. It degrades the family to a mere partnership between equals which may be dissolved at the interest or caprice of either party without social stigma or disgrace.

Woman suffrage asserts this same quality of partnership, and denies the headship of the man over the woman. It claims to emancipate woman from thralldom which they say is heritage from Paganism. It opens up all occupations and ambitions of life to woman equally with man. It makes woman the rival and competitor of man instead of "a help meet for him." In so far as it makes woman the bread winner it consigns her again to the barbaric thralldom of which they profess to find the remedy.

We say therefore that "woman suffrage" opposes the divine plan, subverts all law and authority, defeats its own aims, degrades woman and promotes infidelity.

What earthly king or potentate has greater responsibility or blessing placed upon him than a good wife and mother?—What realm is greater than the home?—Where will you find a more Queenly Queen than the Queen of a home when she is rearing "Godly seed" and is within her realm?

"Blessed is he who has found his work."

REUNION OF OSBORNE FAMILY

A reunion of the family of the late W. K. and Mrs. Osborne was held last Sunday at the Osborne homestead near Brevard. About forty people took part in the celebration. All members of the family were present except Dr. V. W. Osborne of Stone Mountain, Ga., who recently returned from France and spent some time at his mother's home here immediately after his return to this country.

HUMAN APPEAL STRONG IN ALICE JOYCE PICTURE "THE THIRD DEGREE"

The human appeal and tremendous dramatic power of "The Third Degree", which made it one of the greatest stage successes of its day, are splendidly maintained in Vitagraph's screen version of the Charles Klein drama which will be seen in the Sapphire theatre on August the 27th.

Alice Joyce has the stellar role of Annie Sands, and the beautiful and talented star never appeared to better advantage. Her role is that of the waitress bride of a college youth, who crushes the power of her millionaire father-in-law, sworn to destroy her, and of an all-powerful police inquisition to save her young husband from death for a murder he did not commit, but of which he was tortured to confess.

Tom Terris has given the picture a splendid direction, and in the capable supportcast are Gladden James, Anders Randolph, Miss Hedda Hopper, Herbert Evans, George Backus, J. T. Wade, L. Rogers Lytton and Edward McGuize.

Weighed 90 Pounds Before Taking PERUNA

Recommend it to Her Friends
"I don't need Peruna any more. I am all well. I have tal on six bottles. I weighed ninety pounds before I started with Peruna. I was just as poor and so weakly. I had given up hopes of ever getting well; such a cough and spitting, and could not eat anything. Now since taking Peruna I weigh one hundred and thirty-five pounds. All my friends said I would never get well. I was just a shadow. I have surely recommended your Peruna to many of my friends, and they are using it. I will recommend Peruna, for I am so thankful for what it has done for me."
