ARE WE LOSING OUR PROGRESSIVENESS?

Has Brevard contracted that dread ed malady, sleeping sickness? Last Fourth of July we failed to observe the day in any form whatsoever. As a substitute for our unpatroic action, it was proposed to have a Home Coming Day later. A committee was appointed to make the arrangements, and select a date, but the proposition died a natural death for lack of interest. Then it was proposed that we have our regular county fair as usual, but the county agent, who heretofore has promoted it, advised he has made no preparation and to make the attempt now would mean failure and injure our chances for a real honest to goodness fair next fall. We will confess that it is too late now to begin to prepare and advertise a fair but whose fault was it that it was not started last June? Last but not least we endeavored to have a get together banquet last Thursday night, but at the last minute for reasons unforeseen, that had to be advanced to another date. Remember that water, regardless of how pure, if permitted to stand too long will stagnate, and likewise a community regardless of how progressive, if allowed to remain inactive will lose their progressiveness, therefore let us have our "get together banquet" or bust. This will give us the desired opportunity of starting the "Ball to Rolling" which is so characteristic of Brevard. We understand that Prof. Trowbridge has kindly consented to donate the use of the institute dining room for this occasion provided we do the rest. This would be an ideal place, sufficiently large to accommodate two hundred or more and it would not be a bad idea for the committee to investigate its possibilities.

However, if no place suitable can be found for a banquet why not have an outside feed of some kind, say a barbeque or something of the kind. Let us hear from the "boosters". A splendid time for some such an event would be on November 11, Armistis day. The city Fathers have this under advisement.

TOOTING OUR OWN HORN:

It seems to have nearly always been the custom in this community to criticize, knock and condemn the local newspaper not in any constructive way but simply because it became the habit during the past ten or twenty years. Fortunately this miserable habit is disappearing with the exception of a very few old fogies who want their "ax ground by the newspaper. Resolutions of commendation and great praise is generally given to any organizations or community enterprises that take constructive positions for the good of this community even though no other position could be taken. However the News is thoroughly satisfied with its wonderful influence and with the results obtained in its fight for the up-building of this community. We are satisfied with the praise shown in the way of new subscriptions and renewals. Instead of finding fault always why not give a little credit to your old town sheet where it is honestly due. Of course if you can't praise the News then KNOCK, just as long as you do something. It advertise, us anyway.

THE SCARCITY OF MORTGAGE MONEY.

No single institution which employs the method of monthly repayment of principal and interest has done as much to make the workingman a home owner as the building-and-loan association. Indeed many borrowers say to the officers, "I have come to pay my rent."

Last year these associations added $400,000,000 to their assets and nearly 700,000 new members. It is said that the total home-purchase loans amounted to 200,000. Most of their loans are of small amounts, averaging less than $3000 each. In New York State, where the development of the building-and-loan has been relatively less than in Pennsylvania, Ohio, New Jersey, Massachusetts and Illinois, one concern has made more than $1,200,000 in home-building loans since January first.

But valuable as the work of these institutions has been in the last few years they cannot begin to meet the demand for funds. It is estimated that they could make $500,000,000 more home-building loans a year if they had the money. The president of one such concern in the metropolitan area of New York City says that he turned down $100,000 a week in applications on good security from people in good health and with good character and good jobs.

Women come to him with tears in their eyes begging for loans to replace mortgages called by private investors, and he is of the opinion that any building-and-loan which advertised its willingness to lend freely require the police force to keep order during business hours.

The foregoing extract from a recent article in the "Saturday Evening Post", by a leading financial authority, speaks in big figures; but every word of it applies in a proportionate degree to the situation right here at home. It is to be regretted that there is not a wider interest in, and knowledge of, the activities and good work being done by our own local building-loan-association; for we feel sure that such realization would bring it the more general support and patronage it so well deserves.

Many of our people may know of one or two cases in which some friend or neighbor have been enabled by this association to build or buy and in a few years own their home, who without such aid probably never would have risen out of the rent-paying class; and that home-owners make our best citizens is a saying too trite and true to need elaboration.

But two few of us realize that we can and should have a part in this laudable work.

Those who wish to borrow to buy or build a home are, in such communities as ours, as well as in the city of New York, always in excess of those who have the money to lend for such a purpose.

But most of us have one, two, or more hundred dollars laid away, or deposited somewhere, as a reserve against some future need. Such sums deposited in the paid-up stock department of the Building and Loan Association would yield the owner from 5 to 6 per cent interest, free of all taxes.

Anything like concerted action in this line on the part of our more forward handed people would enable the association to fill more loans and do it more promptly, while the lenders would not only be aiding their own home people but would also be doing it at a better actual cash profit than is being paid by any savings bank. Our readers can do no more laudable act than to "think on these things" and then act accordingly.

WHY THAT LAME BACK?

That morning lameness — those sharp pains when bending or lifting, make work a burden and rest impossible. Don't be handicapped by a bad back — look to your kidneys. You will make no mistake by following this Brevard resident's example. Mrs. Galloway, Whitmore St., says: "My trouble came over me a few years ago. The first symptom I noticed was a dull ache in my back that made me feel miserable. When I was stooping or lifting it was almost impossible to straighten because of the pain in my back. Mornings I was tired and lame and sore. Dizzy and black specks often came before my eyes. My kidneys didn't act properly, either. Hearing of Doan's Kidney Pills I began taking them and soon I felt like a different person. I gladly give this endorsement."

Getting Your Fruit To Market.

TO MOVE FLORIDA'S 1920-21 CROP ALONE REQUIRED
600 Million Pounds of Ice.
Costing $1,700,000
in 25,713 Refrigerator Carloads

It took over half a billion pounds of ice costing over a million and a half dollars to cool 25,713 refrigerator carloads by one transportation agency in the huge task of moving the perishable fruits and vegetables of Florida alone, in the 1920-21 season, to the consuming markets of the North and East. Huge new ice manufacturing plants have recently been built at Jacksonville, Miami, Gaines City and Lakeland, Florida, in order to insure a sufficient and regular supply of ice for the cars.

This is in addition to the movement of 10,000 cars of Georgia peaches and other thousands of cars of small fruits and vegetables in ice cars from the Carolinas and Virginia, where large modern icing plants have been constructed.

These figures will be startling to the thousands of fruit and vegetable growers of the South who have not been informed as to the actual workings of the great new adjunct to the transportation industry that is fast increasing the wealth of the Southern States.

A mass of conflicting information and fragmentary figures was recently submitted to the Interstate Commerce Commission in Washington in connection with the application of the Florida Railroad Commissioners for a reduction in refrigeration charges, and in the near future the effort will be made by the transportation companies to throw the spot light on the actual operations and all the costs involved in protecting the products of Southern fruit and vegetable growers.

from their farms and plantations to the tables of consumers in New York, Chicago and other great and distant markets.

Certain of their officials state that the public lacks reliable information of what it actually means to take an orange, a head of cabbage or lettuce, a bunch of celery a grape fruit or a box of strawberries from the warm Southern climate to the table of the Northern consumer in as fresh and edible condition as though grown in his own back yard. They want that information to be gathered by an official body so that the farmer who raises and ships his crop and the man in New York, who buys the fruits and out of season vegetables, once looked upon as luxuries, may know whether they are paying fair charges for refrigeration enroute to market, and whether the transportation companies can give proper service on the charges allowed by the Federal Commission.

The volume of shipments under refrigeration out of Florida alone, last year, was twice that of two years ago and six times that of nine years ago, indicating the importance of the question for the future both to producers and consumers.

GIGANTIC FEATURE IS ADDED TO BIG CIRCUS

Ringling Bros. Barnum & Bailey Program Includes Europe's Great Wild Animal Show.

With Europe's biggest trained animal show as one of the many splendid features, the Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey Combined Shows will exhibit afternoon and night at Asheville Oct. 8.

This marvel circus of 1921 offers the greatest congress of attractions in history. Without eliminating any of the thousand thrills produced by hundreds of the most skilful men and women performers, the Ringling Brothers have added, without additional charge, the most sensational of wild beasts displays. Not only will you see the artists who occupy the three rings, five stages, the great hippodrome track and the aerial rigging in the tent top, but four spacious steel arenas filled with wild beasts as well.

Tigers riding peaceably on the backs of elephants, black-maned African lions springing to and fro from galloping horses, great troupes of polar bears walking ropes or playing at see-saw, leopards jumping through hoops of fire — these are some of the marvelous things that these wonderful animals do. While these beautiful creatures are under absolute control, they are presented only in great arenas of steel. Elsewhere in the main tent you will see camels performing much after the fashion of horses — an act never before presented anywhere. There

Hidden Strength

The ancient Greek artisans displayed as much care over their handiwork in hidden places as in the parts exposed to view. They said it was because the gods could see everywhere.

What they were really trying to express in their primitive way was their understanding of the fact that a thing was neither beautiful nor strong unless the quality endured throughout.

Framework Is Important

The finished floor may be made to look strong by the flooring which covers it. But its strength lies in the skeleton—the framework and timbers beneath. It must be good to be strong.

In beams, rafters and lath, as in all varieties of lumber, we have concentrated our attention on getting only the good qualities. You can buy with assurance here. Come to us for
