BLANTYRE:

We seldom see anything in our paper from this place, but if it gets by "Mickie", several States of the Union shall hear from us again. We are more important than we like to tell. I guess that is why no more is said through these columns about us. However small or however great we are still growing as is evidenced by the new combination store and dwelling house being erected and almost completed, by the Rev. Mr. Smith formerly of Asheville.

Mr. Craig, owner of the State or Reed farm, is also making an attractive addition to his residence which we understand is to be used as a summer boarding house.

Our school is progressing nicely. The attendance being such as to justify the service of a third teacher, so Miss Ollie Gillespie was employed as primary teacher and Miss Ella McCall, the former primary teacher, was placed as teacher of the intermediate department. There being but two class rooms, the primary department is occupying the Library Room at present with fond hopes that we shall have a nice new room next year. Out of the recorded census of 111 children there is a total enrollment this year of 98 or almost 90 per cent. of the district census. So don't tell us that Blantyre is divided against itself for when it comes to going to school we all rally around the banner of the B. G. S. Here's three cheers for the News; for the State Highway; for the Deer Lick Lake. We control the best outlet and inlet for the lake to the railroad and highway, and of course we expect our part of the toll. So tell your neighbor that you read about me in the Brevard News.
