

SHIPMAN BOOSTER FOR PROSPERITY

Free Employment Bureaus Operated
By Mr. Shipman Are Giving
Entire Satisfaction

(Winston-Salem Journal)
We have good prosperity when everybody has a good job and nobody is hungry or hunting for work. Any person, official or agency that is helping to bring about that condition is therefore a real booster for prosperity.

Hon. M. L. Shipman of Raleigh is such a booster, he is not only holding down his job as Commissioner of Labor and Printing for the State but he is directing all the free employment bureaus being operated in North Carolina under appropriations from both the Federal and State Governments. For the last several months, during the most trying period of acute business depression, Mr. Shipman has devoted a large part of his time to this business of bringing the jobless man and the manless job together. And he has succeeded beyond the dreams of his most ardent supporters, no few of whom doubted that anybody could make a success of these employment offices in North Carolina.

Similar offices are being operated in other States of the Union, all under one general head at Washington, North Carolina, under the leadership of Mr. Shipman, is leading the southern states. As a result labor conditions are not now and have not been at any time as serious in this state as in many other sections of the country.

The opening of these offices in all the principal cities of the state for the purpose of lending a helping hand to men and women looking for work, has been of untold benefit. In our judgment nothing has done more to help our people through the serious period of depression from which they are now emerging.

This service has proved its value to society. We believe it has come to stay. It is a great convenience both to those who are hunting jobs and also to those who employ labor. Both classes are taking advantage of the service in Winston-Salem. And the longer the office stays open the wider its usefulness becomes. The free employment office in Winston-Salem is a distinct community asset.

REVENUE OFFICER HAS ACCIDENT

Suffers Painful Injury While Bringing in Prisoners and is Saved
By Them.

Owing to a debt of gratitude to two men he had arrested and was taking to jail whose actions possibly saved his life, United States Deputy Marshall W. F. Swann returned yesterday from a trip through adjoining counties.

The two men were Walter Curran and Will Hollinsworth, wanted on a charge of trespass on the lands of the Pisgah government reservation.

The marshall with his two prisoners was coming in from the mountains over the track of a lumber company's railway, riding a gasoline speeder, when the machine overturned about eight miles northeast of Pisgah Forest station and Marshall Swann was pinned beneath the car.

His erstwhile prisoners were thrown clear and received no hurt. They went to the rescue, and extricated their former captor. The latter's left leg was so painfully injured he was unable to walk, and he was carried to the nearest road, where a passing auto was pressed into service.

The marshall rode into Brevard, the nearest town, a capto-captive, with a "prisoner" on each side, who took him from the car and carried him into a drug store. They then reported to the authorities and made bond.

The marshall's injuries are not serious, and he will be "on the trail" again within a few days, it was stated after expert examination.—Asheville Citizen.

MR. AND MRS. STEVE FONTAINE SERENADED

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Fontaine, who were married Saturday, were serenaded on Monday night by a number of their friends. After the serenade they were invited in where they spent a short time with the bride and groom.

SUMMER TOURIST FARES TO BE CUT BY SOUTHERN

Washington, D. C.—General Passenger Agent H. F. Cary, of the Southern, will put in round-trip tourist rates to mountain and seashore resorts for the coming summer season at 80 per cent of the double one-way fares, which is a very substantial reduction under the tourist fares in effect last summer. For example, where the one-way fare is $10.00, the round-trip rate this summer will be $16.00. Last year the round-trip rate would have been $18.00 plus $1.44 war tax, making a total of $19.44. These rates will apply from all stations to all mountain and seashore resorts reached by the Southern and are expected to have a great effect in stimulating tourist travel.

BEE HIVE BARBER SHOP MOVES

The Bee Hive Barber Shop has been moved from underneath Plummer & Trantham's Store to the King Building, formerly occupied by S. F. Allison's Meat Market. The Barber shop is beautifully and artistically furnished and freshly painted on the exterior. Messrs King, Huggins and Simpson urge their friends and patrons to make them a call.

TULIP

Does Your Money Help Your Community?

You who demand better streets, better sidewalks, better police and fire protection—are you doing your part towards such improvement? Not if you send money out of town—money that would have just as much buying power at home.

Every nickel you send away makes your community so much poorer, for the people who receive it do not re-invest it here. That money goes for the development of another community or city.

Patronize our home merchants whenever possible and you will do one of your foremost duties to your community.

NEOSHA PLAN OF ADVERTISING IS GIVEN BREVARD

Organization Meeting Is Enthusiastic
Session of Citizens

B. C. Leiger,
(Staff Correspondent The Citizen.)

Brevard, N. C., Feb. 27.—The Advertising club of Brevard was organized here tonight under the Neosha plan of community advertising, at an enthusiastic meeting of citizens, over thirty being present and taking part in the program. Officers were elected by a unanimous vote as follows: R. H. Zachary, president; John W. Smith vice-president; and A. E. Hampton, secretary and treasurer.

This is the second club to be organized in North Carolina, the first having been organized at Hendersonville several weeks ago, but is the first to be organized personally by Gurney Lowe, founder of the Neosha plan. Committee chairmen were named as follows: Auction, C. C. Yongue; mailing list, S. M. MacFie and rural service, T. H. Shipman. N. Buckner, secretary of the Asheville Chamber of Commerce introduced Mr. Lowe and spoke a good word for community advertising. He was extended a vote of thanks for his part in bringing the plan to the attention of Brevard citizens.

The new plan will be put in operation on April 3, when farmers will gather from all sections in the vicinity of Brevard and will auction farm implements, livestock and farm products. The merchants will have "Golden Rule" sales, each merchant advertising in the same manner and giving bargains of their respective stocks.

THE BETTERMENT SOCIETY

The Betterment Society met on Monday with a good attendance. Much interest was manifested in the various items of business. The committee on the Nurse's Loan Closet reported having bought the sheets and pillowcases which are now to be made. The book committee reported almost three hundred dollars in sight towards the school library, besides a gift of thirty volumes; and a request was made for donations of books recommended for accredited school libraries. The Lyceum committee reported that the next number would present a magician with wonderful stunts. The school lunch committee turned over the proceeds of the moving picture night kindly given by Mr. Glenn. A clean-up committee was appointed, as well as another to urge the Brevard Club to take steps toward securing better electric light service during the tourist season.

Miss Lucile Clarke thanked the Betterment for the generous kitchen shower for her class in Cottontown, and was promised several other necessary articles. Chairs are still needed there.

WM. DUCKWORTH FOR THE LE- GISLATURE

Wm. Duckworth is announced for the Legislature and this will not come as any surprise to the Democratic voters of Transylvania county. Mr. Duckworth's qualifications for this office need not be dwelt upon in these columns because, in all our county, a finer Christian gentleman could not be found. He has always been a conscientious and ardent worker for the Democratic party and he is undoubtedly one of our foremost citizens in the great love and ambition for the future growth and prosperity of the citizens of his County. He is known by young and old in every corner of the county and his great host of admirers predict that when elected to the Legislature that he will do something for his neighbors. They realize that he will work for the interest of his constituents and not for his own personal prejudices and ambitions. He is the man for the Democrats to nominate.

THE CATALOGUES OF SUMMER CAMPS

The News has received the following Catalogues: Camp Keystone for Girls, this is the seventh season under the direction of Mrs. F. O. McCuen and Miss Fannie Holt. The camp's season opens July 6th and closes August 30th, 1922. The printing of this catalogue is good and the halftones perfect.

Camp Illahee for girls between the ages of nine and eighteen has a beautiful catalogue, well printed, the engraving lovely, and the halftones, the workmanship, style and color of paper, etc., is of a very high order. The Illahee season is from June 28th to August 19th.

Camp Sapphire for boys, one of the largest summer camps in Western North Carolina has an unusually attractive catalogue this season. The work is of a high order and has some wonderful scenes of Camp Life and the scenic grandeur of "The Land of Waterfalls."

Camp Transylvania, for boys is a wonderful creation of the printing art and after gazing upon the beautiful scenes, etc., any one can understand the delightful vacation the boys can spend in "The Land of Waterfalls."

The News expects to give a full account of all the summer camps and will appreciate a catalogue from all who have overlooked us.

State Treasurer Lacy Declines To Give Up Work Although
Near Death's Door

Raleigh, N. C., Feb. 27, 1922.—Raleigh has been anxious the past week for an encouraging word from the bedside of State Treasurer B. P. Lacy who became seriously ill enroute to New York several days ago for the purpose of signing and delivering a large issue of North Carolina bonds to recent purchasers in that city. Joseph G. Brown, President of the Citizens National Bank of this city, accompanied by Mr. Lacy on the mission was with him in the Pullman when the attack came and stuck by the sick friend until improvement was shown in his condition. From the train the stricken official was taken to the Pennsylvania Hotel, New York where he lingered for hours between life and death. At this writing a slight improvement in his condition is reported. Mrs. Lacy has been with him for more than a week.

Although sick night unto death, Treasurer Lacy insisted upon fulfilling the mission, which had taken him from home when he should have remained in bed, and was permitted to sign a large batch of the bonds in the sick chamber. This official act was performed at the risk of his life, but he was determined to keep his engagement with the New York bankers who had previously named a final date for the delivery of the North Carolina bonds and bull-dog tenacity enabled him to "keep the faith." Mr. Brown, in the meantime, succeeded in arranging for a later date for the signature and delivery of the bonds the State Treasurer had been unable to sign and the brave official collapsed on receiving information that further exertion on his part was not necessary. A recent amendment to the State Bonding Act permits the signature of some other member of the Council of State and Auditor Baxter Durham may perform that service, if present plans are developed.

Deductions worked out by the State Tax Commission indicate a material reduction in the property values for 1921. The total assessed value of taxable property in the State for the past year is placed at $2,575,230,000, or $583,250,072 less than that of 1920, the "valuation year." Probably forty counties reduced values and many of these have since found themselves "twixt the devil and the deep blue sea" in trying to provide funds for county expenses. The State Tax Commission gave local authorities sufficient rope to hang themselves and not a few of them availed themselves of the opportunity to get back to "normalcy." The estimate of the Tax Commission does not include assessments of city property for municipal purposes.

The Baptist churches of Raleigh have been making ready for the big Truett evangelistic campaign scheduled to open at the Tabernacle church on Wednesday evening, March 1st. Sixty cottage prayer meetings have been held in various sections of the city and personal workers selected by the various churches will undertake to interest the unconcerned in attending the meetings, which following the first three services, will be held in the city auditorium. Monday night, March 6th, is to be "students night," when students of the various schools in the city, Wake Forest College, Buie's Creek and other places will have special seats reserved for them.

"North Carolina Day," is scheduled for Tuesday, March 7th. A record crowd is expected here on that day. Many have written already for reservations at the hotels, boarding-houses and in private homes. Special invitations have been sent to pastors of churches throughout central and eastern Carolina and scores of them have indicated their purpose to attend. Raleigh will welcome the distinguished divine with open arms.

REV. HAY DECIDES TO STAY

We are informed that Mr. and Mrs. John R. Hay, after careful consideration of his call from Lowryville have decided to decline it and stay in Brevard. This news, we feel sure, will be welcomed by many in Transylvania.

PISGAH NATIONAL FOREST TRAILS

Dr. Hunt Communicates With Mr.
Verne Rhodes and Secures
Splendid Results.

As a result of letters written to Mr. Verne Rhodes, Forest Supervisor, by Mr. Thomas Shipman and Dr. Hunt, the following letter was received from Mr. Rhodes:

Feb. 24, 1922.

Dr. C. W. Hunt,
Brevard, N. C.
My dear Dr. Hunt:
Replying to your letter of February 21.

I believe that neither of us have fully understood the other in our previous correspondence. I gather from your letter of the 21st that your idea is to have a trail to Pilot by way of Cat Gap and then up Laurel Fork. I had it in mind before that you wished to follow the old trail which goes Pilot directly up the ridge from the Gloucester Gap.

I did not know that the bridges on the road up King's Creek were in such rickety shape. Certainly we shall do our level best to keep such roads and trails as we have open and fit to travel, even if we do not obtain funds enough to construct new trails. I am turning your letter over to Ranger O'Kelly, on Davidson River with instructions to see what can be done before the tourist season begins.

In so far as Upper Davidson River is concerned it is true that the Carr Lumber Company's logging operations will not affect our road and trail work greatly. The same is true with respect to Looking Glass Rock, the trail up there on a good grade would, I am afraid, be rather costly. O'Kelly and I looked out the approaches to the top of Looking Glass a couple of years ago with the idea of locating a trail with new alignment and grade.

The next time I am on Davidson River or in Brevard I shall make it a point to see you and we can talk better advantage.

Very truly yours,
VERNE RHODES.

Mr. Rhodes kindly interest and valued aid in giving our people and our many tourists a better opportunity to ride through The National Forest will be highly appreciated by the people of Brevard and Transylvania County.

We hope to have the trails inspected and opened where ever it is needed. One running from Brevard up the ridge by George Mackey's to Little Hickory Nut Mountain and thence to the top of Cedar Rock.

A trail leaving the above trail at the proper place and running to the top of Mount Cagle.

The bridges inspected and made safe up King's Creek to Wild Cat Gap with railings on sides as may be required for safety.

The trail inspected and made good, leading from Wild Cat Gap up the Davidson River Valley through by Gloucester to the Pilot Mountain and Balsam Grove.

Trails to Looking Glass Falls and to the top of Looking Glass Mountain. Where the trail becomes too steep for horses after using all possible curves and grades, the balance of trails to the tops of the mountains mentioned to be opened for walking to top, after dismounting.

All pole bridges over ravines, gorges and branches inspected and made safe.

Brevard is noted for sign boards pointing the way for its horseback riding parties and the horseback trails through our Great National Forest will add charm and inducement to all who wish to enjoy the exhilarating and healthful sport of horsemanship.

COS PAXTON TROWS HAT IN RING

Cos Paxton has come out and has thrown his hat in the ring for sheriff and tax collector. His many friends claim that he can draw more republican votes to the democratic folds than any other man in the county. His record is clean. He is a teetotaler and a strong conscientious man who says what he thinks in a straight forward manner straight to the shoulder regardless of where the chips may fly. He was the last democratic sheriff and has held nearly all the county offices to the credit of himself and Transylvania county. Cos has a great many friends who will work for his nomination.
