

EAST FORK NEWS

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Jim Gravely on October 3rd, a son, William Hensley.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Gillespie, October 17, a daughter.

The Bible and flag presentation to East Fork school Sunday, October 10, by the Junior Order of Rosman, was an enjoyable day for all the community as well as the school children. There were several good talks given by members of the Order. Also an interesting address given by Mr. Lewis Hamlin.

Mrs. Hubert Summey and son Roy, are in Gastonia, where Roy is taking treatment.

The friends of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Gillespie of Asheville, are glad to learn that their little daughter, Lucille, is improving after ten weeks illness. She is still in Merriweather hospital, where after two operation for mastoids. She is improving daily.

An East Fork citizen has a stalk of cane fourteen feet and nine inches long. He has it on display in his front yard. Our County Agent should take notice and display that is inch ear of corn.

We see candidates on every turn at a corner. Some come in daytime and some at night, and they everyone are regular old fashioned hand shaking sort. But for our lives we can't see why folks at other places need to vote. Its East Fork they want and East Fork they mean to have. Still some how we have an idea that some poor fellow is going to be beaten—yet we mean to do our best to elect them all.

FREE MUSICAL TO BE GIVEN AT HIGH SCHOOL TUESDAY

The Girl Scouts will observe music day during national girl scout week by presenting a free musical program at the high school auditorium Tuesday evening, October 26, at 7:30 o'clock.

The first part of the program will consist of musical selections by different local musicians, and the last part by singing of Girl Scout songs and other scouting activities.

MANHATTAN CAFE CHOSEN AS NAME FOR NEW CAFE

Manhattan cafe is the name chosen for the new cafe under the management of Chas. Valsame in the Waterline hotel building. Of the numerous names submitted in the recent guessing contest for the correct name of this cafe, none was correct, consequently the five dollar prize offered goes to the local Red Cross, according to previous announcement.

An official representative of the Red Cross may obtain the five dollars prize money by calling at The News office.

GIRL SCOUTS TO HOLD UNION SERVICE AT HIGH SCHOOL SUNDAY NIGHT, OCTOBER 24

As part observance of national Girl Scout week, a union service in which all churches of the town will participate will be held at the high school auditorium Sunday evening at seven-thirty o'clock.

A good program has been arranged, including special music by the combined choirs of the different churches, a male quartette, violin solo by a Chezo Slovakia student at Highland Institute, and selections by the Baptist orchestra.

Rev. W. H. Hartsell, pastor of the Brevard Baptist church, will deliver the sermon for the occasion, and the other pastors of the town will take some part on the program. The collection will be used to fund the local Girl Scout work.

A cordial invitation to attend this service is extended all people of the town and county, and it is hoped the large auditorium will be well filled to encourage the Girl Scouts and to learn more of their organization and its various activities.

It's too late for farmers to think of holding cotton after it has passed from their hands.

Tom Tarheel says his cotton will be in storage until the market is a better condition.
