FARM NEWS

(By L. A. AMMON)

Better than two thousand hens are now listed for the blood test for white diarrhea. Applications must be sent in at once if the work is put through in time for hatching this year.

Some people would like to enter the poultry business in a commercial way, but lack the cash. If those wishing to invest with reliable farmers will let it be known I will be glad to help get the two together.

Jack Frost during the past weeks, did much killing, but much is yet alive. No damage done to speak of, as all were ready, and many wishing for a frost to kill the weeds and grasses, so potatoes, and plowing could be done easier.

Wanted—The best of the crops to take to the Western N. C. Fair at Asheville on the ninth of November, to show the people what we are doing. Bring to my office. Not the largest of everything, but the best.

Cattle are moving around the four cent mark, with extras bringing five cents. Looks as if there will be an extra large number fed this winter.

The shoat price is around fifteen cents for the best, down to ten cents for mountain raised pigs. "Hard to find," is the usual remark. Irish potatoes are very spotted in yield, some very good, some very poor. One-fifty is about the average market.

The larger acreages of potatoes are already contracted for, and will not glut the home market.

A gentleman has been discussing with me, the project of putting in a small factory here to cure hams and bacon. Would use quite a few hogs, and as he states the market is good for this more or less home-cured meat. The Hampshire and Tamworth hogs being the ones mostly used.

The car of gurnsey heifers, we were to have gone for this week, were sold before we started. Looking for more.

Rye prices are being cut heavy to see if it can be moved.

Why not a community camp for the Scouts, Extension clubs, and the many outside clubs that would come if we had one. Would cost around five thousand, and as Rocky Bottom, should be self supporting.

Look out for the cows and pigs these cool nights, already starting trouble. Keep warm and give room to exercise some. The latest dope on keeping these two animals healthy is to see that they have plenty of mineral matter, and the secret is that unless they have direct sunlight, they cannot use the minerals, especially lime.

COMMUNITY NIGHT SCHOOL IS ORGANIZED IN BREVARD

A committee composed of representatives of the various clubs and organizations of the town met Tuesday afternoon to perfect plans for the opening of a community night school here within the near future. This undertaking will be sponsored by the different local federated clubs, and it is hoped that additional funds will be secured from the community chest drive to help defray the expenses.

Miss Mary L. Butler, principal of the Blantyre school, has been secured as the head of the night school, and Mrs. C. P. White and Mrs. R. Y. Neel have volunteered their services as assistant teachers. The school will continue in session six weeks, meeting two nights each week, Tuesdays and Thursdays, and will be carried on mainly for the adult illiterates in the town and county. It is hoped that all arrangements will be completed for the opening of the school not later than the middle of November.

BREVARD WINS FROM CHRIST SCHOOL IN FAST GAME, 1-0

In a fast game played here last Friday, Brevard high won from the Christ School eleven in a forfeit game 1-0. The Christ School coach took his players off the field with only about one minute to play, after he refused to recognize a penalty for off sides.

The teams were evenly matched throughout the game, furnishing plenty of excitement for the large crowd of fans.

Jack Trantham was again the star of the game, although the entire team played an extra good game.

JOSEPHUS DANIELS SPOKE TUESDAY

A crowded house of men and women greeted Josephus Daniels, former Secretary of the Navy, at the court house Tuesday night when he spoke for more than an hour on the political issues of the day. W. E. Eeese introduced to the audience a fellow townsman and attorney, H. E. Martin, who in turn introduced Mr. Daniels, the speaker of the evening.

Mr. Daniels dwelt mainly on the national issues, emphasizing the corruption in the Republican primaries, Newberryism, high tariff, Republican prosperity issues, giving quite at length a review of the Teapot Dome affair and calling attention to the failure of the present administration to bring about a settlement of the matter, and paying tribute to the Democratic leaders who figured prominently in the case. Mr. Daniels closed his timely remarks with a few words about the home and its ideals in relation to politics, about the progress in education in North Carolina within the past 50 years, and bemoaning the fact that every county in the state has not adopted the nine months uniform school law, stating in this connection that he was happy to be in a county which had adopted the nine months school term.

The noted speaker made a final appeal for all voters to take enough interest in political affairs to go to the polls and vote at the coming election, and gave an especial tribute to women in politics stating that women voters are needed to give fresh ideas and impulses to make our government worthy of the highest ideals.

PARENT-TEACHER ORGANIZATION IS PERFECTED HERE

MEETINGS TO BE HELD FIRST MONDAY IN EACH MONTH

A Parent-Teacher association, and one destined to exert a beneficial influence in the community, was organized at the high school auditorium Monday afternoon with an interested group of parents and teachers present.

Prof. W. W. Hanaman acted as temporary chairman and called the meeting to order, explaining that two organizations of the association would be perfected, one for the high school and one for the elementary school, the latter to be organized at a later date.

Officers for the parent-teacher association were elected as follows: President, Mrs. S. C. Yates; vice-president, Mrs. A. E. Hampton; secretary, Mr. S. C. Yates; treasurer, Mrs. M. M. King.

It was decided to hold the meetings on the second Monday of each month, the next meeting to be held at the high school building Monday afternoon, November 8. The program for this meeting will be in charge of the school, and it is probable that a prominent speaker from Asheville will be secured for the occasion. At the conclusion of the meeting, tea will be served by the home economics class of the high school.

Prof. Hanaman, in a few well-chosen remarks, spoke of the aim of a parent-teacher association being to bring about co-operation and a better spirit of understanding between the school and the home, and mentioned several activities which might be carried out to mutual benefit. Some of these suggestions to be worked out in the local situation include: a solution of the hot lunch problem, make a survey of home conditions which should be

ALVIN MOORE IS MAKING GOOD IN MUSICAL CAREER

The many friends of Mr. Alvin Moore will rejoice to know that he is making good in his musical studies at the Conservatory of Music, Utica, N. Y., where he went in the early fall to pursue his studies this year. He stands now at the head of his class and is making a fine record in all branches of the music department.

He writes interestingly of his work there and is very much pleased with the Conservatory and all its connections, and it will doubtless be no surprise to the folks back home to hear from time to time of his rapid progress in his musical career and of his ultimate far-famed success as a gifted musician.

DEATH OF MARDINE COMPTON

The Dunn's community was saddened by the passing away of little Mardine Compton, aged four, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Coy Compton, last week, October 18. She was a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Raxter, and leaves a wide family connection to mourn her loss. Her parents and friends take comfort in the hope of a re-union where disease and death have no power, and they shall see their little one again—"safe in the arms of Jesus."

Mr. Simpson comes here from Spindale Methodist church and brings with him his wife and three children.

After a pastorate of three years at the Brevard Methodist church, Rev. E. R. JOHN CHAPMAN DIES FROM HEAD WOUNDS; TWO S. C. MEN HELD

PRELIMINARY HEARING WILL BE HELD THURSDAY

John Chapman, of the East Fork section, died here Sunday morning at Transylvania hospital, following a stroke of paralysis suffered last Thursday morning, caused, it is claimed, by the direct result of wounds received four weeks ago in an alleged fight with Richard Edens and Carl Lynch, of Pickens, S. C., when Chapman was attacked and severely beaten by the two men and left for dead about half a mile off the highway near his home, after he had consented to help the two men with a wrecked car on the Greenville road. A coroner's inquest found Chapman died as the result of a blow on the head. Lynch and Edens are both held in the Brevard jail pending a preliminary hearing Thursday morning. The two men were arrested in Pickens within two hours after Chapman's death, having been caught and brought to Brevard by Rural Policeman Eck Sims.

At the time of the alleged fight, about four weeks ago, Chapman was seriously wounded by a blow on the head with some blunt instrument, supposedly being struck over the head by Edens with a pistol, Chapman claiming he was knocked unconscious, taken a half mile from the scene of the fight, thrown into an old sink hole, covered over with grass and brush and left for dead. After four hours of unconsciousness in this place, Chapman revived and returned to his home. Officers were summoned and the two men arrested on charges of assault with deadly weapon. Lynch was later acquitted and Edens released on $800 bond.

THE PRAYER CORNER

TWO PATHS IN FRIENDSHIP

"We took sweet counsel together, and walked unto the House of God in company"—Psalms 55:14.

There are two paths in Friendship, UP and DOWN.

What are you seeking in human intercourse? It is said that a man may be known by the company he keeps. Not always. He may be better known by the purpose with which he keeps it.

The Pharisees kept company with respectable folk, and found dead mens bones. Christ kept company with publicans and sinners, and found hidden treasure.

If you are seeking in your fellow-men that which ministers to ambition, or avarice, or sensuality, or trying to make friends simply in order that they may help you to secure certain advantages in the world of wealth or fashion, or forming ties of intimacy whose chief attraction lies in their appeal to that which is selfish and greedy and base in your nature, then you are surely on the descending path.

But if you are looking for that which is best in the men and women, with whom you come into contact; if you are seeking also to give them that which is best in yourself; if you are looking for a friendship which shall help you to know yourself as you are, and to fulfill yourself as you ought to be, and for a love which shall be a true comradeship and a mutual inspiration to all nobility of living, then you are surely on the ascending path.

I do not, cannot ask for you a lesser blessing, than GOD'S OWN LOVE. To dwell with Him, and all His boundless wealth possessing in Heaven above. For you and I are waiting here as strangers—still bound for Home—Abiding midst earth's darkening shades and many dangers—till God says "Come."

A PRAYER FOR THE UPWARD PATH IN FRIENDSHIP

O Thou Infinite Friend, whose Friendship sure has been the same forevermore, help us ever to walk in the Upward Path of Friendship.

Let us never seek in our fellow-men that which ministers to ambition, or avarice, or sensuality, or try to make friends simply in order that they may help us to secure certain advantages in the world of wealth or fashion, or form ties of intimacy whose chief attraction lies in their appeal to that which is selfish and greedy and base in our nature, for then we are surely on the Descending Path.

But give us grace to look for that which is best in the men and women with whom we come in contact, seeking to give them that which is best in ourselves, ever looking for a friendship which shall help us to know ourselves as we ought to be, and for a love which shall be a true comradeship and a mutual inspiration to all nobility of living. So shall we know that we are surely on the Upward Path in Friendship, and the Blessing of God's own love shall be ours, and we shall dwell with Him in Heaven, for we are strangers and Pilgrims here on earth, abiding midst its darkening shades and many dangers, till God says "Come."

Grant this, Thou Infinite Friend, whose Friendship for us has been the same, always pure and steadfast, we ask it in Christ's Name, who has ever been the Friend of the friendless and the Helper of the helpless, and ever will be, Amen.

SALE AT HUNT COTTAGES POSTPONED TILL SATURDAY

On account of inclement weather Tuesday, the auction sale of furniture in the Hunt Cottages was not completed. Quite a large crowd was present, but it was known that many other people desired to attend the sale and were prevented because of weather conditions, hence the sale was continued until next Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. Bidding was lively during the few hours of the sale Tuesday, although only one of the cottages was opened to the buyers. Next Saturday furniture in the remaining cottages will be offered at public auction.

Those buying Tuesday seemed highly elated over the genuine bargains they were able to buy at the auction sale, and record-breaking crowd is expected to attend the sale Saturday.
