Pleasant Grove News

Mr. and Mrs. Coy Blythe attended church at Pleasant Grove Sunday and were dinner guests of G. Banks.

Florence and Katie Blythe were Sunday dinner guests of Arrie Rushton.

Lavada Orr of Pisgah Forest, attended church at Pleasant Grove on Saturday afternoon and was supper guest of Florence Blythe.

Rev. C. E. Blythe delivered an interesting sermon Saturday afternoon at Pleasant Grove. The pastor, Rev. I. N. Kuykendall, was present, but was not able to preach on account of a very bad cold.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Orr visited their daughter, Mrs. Grady Allison, of Etowah, on Sunday. Mrs. Allison is reported sick.

Mattie Hamilton of Stanley, N. C., spent the week-end with friends and relatives here.

Mrs. F. H. Blythe, who has been ill, is reported better.

The roads are not so bad as they have been, and all are hoping they will soon be able to travel in comfort over them.

We had an old-time meeting at Pleasant-Grove church Saturday. It looked like good old days gone by to see everybody come walking.

Victor Orr made a business trip to Greenville recently.

Coy Blythe, Walter H. Grey and son Earl, made a business trip to several places in the South recently.

We have been hearing from Carl Kilpatrick, who has been ill at Aston Park hospital through The News, and would like to hear again if he is still improving.

February 21 is set apart to elect a pastor for Pleasant Grove Baptist church. All members are urged to be present.

THE PRAYER CORNER

THE GOD OF ALL COMFORT Read 2 Corinthians 1:3, 4

"Among all the names that reveal God, this the God Of All Comfort," says a writer whom I greatly admire, seems to me one of the most lovely and the most absolutely comforting. The words All Comfort, admit of no limitations and no deductions. What is meant by the Comfort God gives? Is it a sort of pious grace that may perhaps fit us for Heaven, but that is somehow unfit to bear the brunt of our every day life with its trials and pains, or is it an honest and genuine comfort as we understand comfort that enfolds life's trials and pains in an all embracing peace? "With all my heart," says the writer to whom I referred, "I believe it is the latter."

Comfort, whether human or Divine, is pure and simple comfort, and it is nothing else. We, none of us care for pious phrases, we want realities, and the reality of being comforted and comfortable seems to me almost more delightful than any other thing in life. We all know what it is, or at least many of us do.

When some little children we have cuddled up into our mother's lap after a fall or a misfortune and have felt her dear arms around us and her soft kisses on our hair, we have had comfort.

When after a painful illness, we have begun to recover and have been able to stretch our limbs and open our eyes without pain, we have had comfort.

When some one whom we dearly love has been ill almost unto death, and has been restored to us in health again, we have had comfort.

Many times in our lives, probably, have we said, with a sigh of relief, as of toil over or burdens laid down, "Well, this is comfortable," and in that word comfortable there has been comprised more of rest and relief and satisfaction and pleasure, than any other word in the English language could possibly be made to express. We cannot fail therefore to understand the meaning of this name of God, "the God of all Comfort."

But alas, we have failed to believe it. It has seemed to us too good to be true. The joy and delight of it, if it were really a fact, have been more than our poor suspicious natures could take in. We may venture to hope sometimes that little scraps of comfort may be vouchsafed to us, but we have run away frightened at the thought of the All Comfort that is ours in the Salvation of Jesus Christ.

And yet what more could He have said about it than He has said—"As one whom his mother comforted so will I comfort you; and ye shall be comforted." Notice the AS and SO in this passage, "AS one whom his mother comforted, SO will I comfort you." It is real comforting that is meant here, the sort of comforting that the child feels when it is "dandled on its mother's knees, and borne on her sides," and yet how many of us have really believed that God's comforting is actually as tender as a mother's comforting, or even half or quarter so real. "Instead of thinking of ourselves as being dandled on His knees and hugged to His heart as mothers hug, have we not rather been inclined to look upon Him as a stern, unbending Judge, holding us at a distance and demanding our respectful homage. Is it any wonder that our religion, instead of making us comfortable has made us thoroughly uncomfortable? Who could help being uncomfortable in the presence of such a Judge?

But I rejoice to say that that stern Judge is not there. He does not exist. The God who does exist is like a mother, a God who says to us as plainly as words can say it, AS one whom his mother comforteth SO will I comfort you. (to be continued)

A PRAYER

Father of all Mercies! God of all Comfort! We would remember before Thee the wants and sorrows of our fellows. Unto those, O God, who feel the pain and darkness and mystery of life, let the Sun of Righteousness arise with healing in His Wings.

Remember in pity, the sick, the needy, the distressed of body or of mind. Open the souls of all who be in beds of weariness to the inflow of Thy Divine Life. In the silence may they hear Thy Voice saying, "I have heard thy prayer; I have seen thy tears, behold I will heal thee."

For the burden bearers, the tempter tossed, the afflicted and not comforted, I pray Thy consolations are greater than all the sorrows of the world. Bind up the broken hearted, and with Thy Touch heal those wounds of the soul that bleed, and will not cease. Give a spirit of endurance and of trust to those whose thorn in the flesh must remain. Save them from despair and from the indifference of a heart without faith, and perfect Thy strength in their weakness. Comfort all men everywhere with Thy Light and guide them by Thy Spirit, for Jesus Christ's sake, Amen.
