

Pisgah Forest News

We are reminded in our daily observation that the trend of this age and time is high and fast living. We believe people are becoming extreme in their thinking and future purposes in life. We, as a people, talk too much and thus the benefit of the doubt goes in the wrong direction. Too much talk always brings doubts and discouragements. The old adage "make haste slowly," and we will feel better and we will know more. Prosperity comes to folks who expect something for nothing. Let us take courage and help bring prosperity about by being active workers in deed and in thought and in word.

CULLOWHEE NOTES

Cullowhee, N. C., Jan. 26—"Did-yohoski" has been chosen as the name for the annual at Western Carolina Teachers College. The word is the Cherokee Indian name for teacher. As this is a teachers college, the name is very appropriate.

Cullowhee, N. C., January 26, 1931—"Check-up" seems to be one of the most used words in the vocabulary of every member of the faculty at Western Carolina Teachers College. Especially is this true at this time during the quarter. Last week the word with all of its meanings, which was analyzed meant only one thing, was invariably used in every class—in this connection: "I think it is about time for a check up." And the students know what that means. The check-up (in reality examinations) reminds them of the fall of the year—the leaves begin to turn.

Cullowhee, N. C., January 26—The Allpress All Star artists gave a concert at the auditorium at Western Carolina Teachers College Tuesday evening, January 27. This was the fourth lyceum number of the year.

Cullowhee, N. C., January 25—Spice and more spice was added to the basketball game between the girls of the two literary societies last Wednesday evening at Western Carolina Teachers College when the faculty team played during the half. Mrs. Lucy Posey and Miss Maurie Simpson jumped center. Those starting in the game were Misses Maurie Simpson, Gertrude Rhodes, Nannie Tilley, Mary Hope Westbrook and Mrs. Lucy Posey. The Columbian Society won with a margin of five points, the score being 16-11.

Cullowhee, N. C., January 26—Miss Sue McCulley of Sylva was elected house president of Reuben Robertson Hall last week.

Cullowhee, N. C., January 26—Four basketball games are to be played by the Western Carolina Teachers College Yodelers this week, Monday night both teams will play Biltmore Junior College teams on the local court. The boys will play Canton "Y" the 28th and the girls will play Enka on the 30th.

Cullowhee, N. C., January 26—The Faculty Club at Western Carolina Teachers College will meet Friday evening, January 30, at Reuben Robertson Hall. Miss Thelma Howell and Nannie Tilley will be hostesses. Miss Howell will speak on Einstein and his theory of relativity. Following the talk the club will have a social hour.

Doctors Disagree
When children are irritable and peevish, grind their teeth and sleep restlessly, have digestive pains and disturbances, lack of appetite, and have itching eyes, nose and fingers, doctors will not always agree that they are suffering from worms. Many mothers, too, will not believe that their carefully brought up children can have worms. The fact remains that these symptoms will yield, in a great majority of cases, to a few doses of White's Cream Vermifuge, the sure expellant of round and pin worms. If your child has any of these symptoms, try this harmless, old-fashioned medicine which you can get at 35c per bottle from

Here's Tip for Andy Unless He Decides to Marry Madam Queen

Greenwood, Jan. 25—If Andrew Brown, betimes president of the Fresh Air Taxicab company of America and at the present writing alleged shatterer of Madam Queen's heart, really wishes to dispel his periods of "regrettedness" and avoid "happus cappus" proceedings, he would do well to get in touch with Charlie Holtzclaw, formerly of Greenwood, now of the Augusta, Ga., arsenal.

Some time ago Charlie got into quite a "mess" at Ware Shoals and landed in jail here. It is of record that he found it of no avail to pine over his "sichashun" so he began to opine all to himself and a "big business proposition" was evolved therefrom.

Charlie wrote a letter to the local afternoon newspaper in which he offered to marry any woman who would pay his fine of $15 and thus open the doors of his cell to freedom. That was on the 27th of December. Day piled on day with monotonous regularity and he was about to promise an ice box and a fur coat as additional inducements, but on the 14th day there came the bride-to-be and $15, and Charlie paraded out of jail with a pronounced Mendelssohn stride.

But his march must have led to a King Fish's party because it is not of record that he lived up to his marriage vow. And the woman? Well, he ought to hear "Brother Crawford" tell about it.

No more was heard of Charlie until Friday when he turned up at the jail again and asked the jailer Tom Clem to lock him up quick and as soon thereafter as possible to take him to some United States Army fort.

"I am a deserter," said Charlie to Mr. Clem, "and you treated me so nice before I got out on a marriage promise that I wanted you to get the $50 reward offered for me."

Yesterday Charlie was taken to the Augusta Arsenal by Officers Clem and Curtis Corley and turned over to the military authorities there. They know nothing about him, but said they would look into his statement that he left a cavalry troop at Fort Bliss, Texas in February, 1930 after having served only three days.

Anyhow, Charlie is in the army jail now, far removed from rose petals, Lawyer Snoops and M. Smith. Meanwhile, Jailer Clem is checking his prospects for collecting the $50 reward.—Greenville News.

Using Left-Overs Tests the Housewife's Thrift

ECONOMICAL cooking is the boast of the clever and well trained housewife, whether she gets her training in a school of home economics or in her own kitchen. The household budget may be made a reflection of the thrifty housewife.

Nor are the dishes made from vegetables, fruits, meats, and puddings to be scorned as a "poor man's meal." Even the excuse of camouflaging left-overs is unnecessary. They can be made palatable and attractive and used as the base served with either a thin or medium white sauce, as the type of dish demands. They are essentially nutritious.

A creamed meat served on toast may be garnished with a sprig of parsley, or it may be served in a timbal or rosette patty.

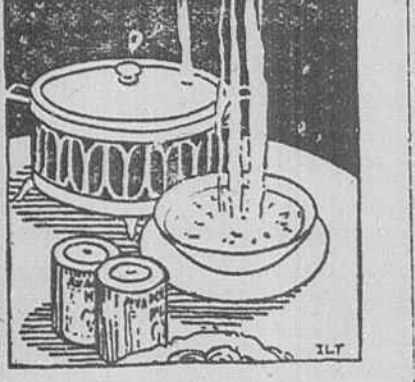

Do not scrap your left-over vegetables. Serve them either in a cream soup these cold winter days or creamed as a side dish. Green beans, carrots, asparagus, onions, cabbage, potatoes and cauliflower lend themselves to this style with a thin white sauce. This sauce is best made with evaporated milk.

In a cream vegetable soup or in a creamed vegetable dish you are giving your family important nutrition protection. This is one way of introducing milk into the daily menu. The thrifty housewife is never without several cans of evaporated milk nowadays and since this is much more economical than bottled milk, she is caging two thrifty birds with one stone, by planning a menu of creamed left-over dishes.

Cream of Vegetable Soup
1 1/2 cups left-over vegetables if desired
Double recipe of Thin White Sauce
1/2 tsp. celery salt
Add the seasonings and sliced vegetable to the hot white sauce; keep hot over boiling water until ready to serve. Serve piping hot with a dash of paprika. Yield: 6 servings. Variation: If there is any vegetable liquor available it may be substituted for the boiling water called for in the recipe of Thin White Sauce.

Creamed Vegetables
3 cups diced or sliced cooked vegetables
Such vegetables as carrots, green beans, asparagus, onions, cabbage, potatoes and cauliflower are particularly suitable to be creamed. White sauce for creaming vegetables is improved if vegetable liquor is substituted for boiling water called for in the White Sauce recipe. Yield: 6 servings.

Thin White Sauce
1 tbsp. butter
1 tsp. salt
Dash pepper
1 tbsp. flour
1 cup boiling water
1 cup evaporated milk

Melt butter in top of double boiler placed directly over flame. Add salt, pepper and flour and mix thoroughly. Do not let flour brown. Add water, stirring to keep smooth. Cook directly over flame two minutes, stirring constantly. Add milk and continue cooking over hot water 5 minutes longer, stirring occasionally. Yield: 1 1/2 cups. Variation: This may be used as a cream sauce for left-over cooked vegetables, left-over meats or cream soups.

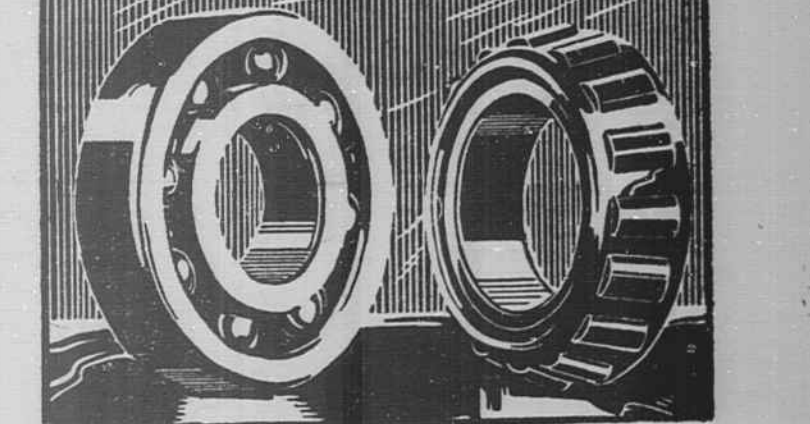

Creamed Meats
1 1/2 cups cubed cooked meat
1 recipe Thin White Sauce
Cut the meat in 1/2-inch cubes. Add to the hot white sauce and mix well. Serve hot on toast r mashed potatoes, and garnish with parsley or pimiento. Yield: 6 servings.

A la King Variations may be made by adding 1/2 to 1 cup of cooked pepper or cooked, diced celery; 1 cup of mushrooms, chopped and sautéed for 5 minutes in 1 tsp. butter; 1/4 cup shredded pimiento or 1/4 cup chopped, hard cooked eggs. These may be used in any desired combination. Variation may also be obtained by substituting meat broth (or bouillon cubes plus water) for the water called for in the Thin White Sauce recipe.

FORD SMOOTHNESS

The new Ford has more than twenty ball and roller bearings

EVIDENCE of the high quality built into the new Ford is the extensive use of ball and roller bearings. There are more than twenty in all — an unusually large number. Each bearing is adequate in size and carefully selected for the work it has to do.

At some points in the Ford chassis you will find ball bearings. At others, roller bearings are used regardless of their higher cost. The deciding factor is the performance of the car.

The extensive use of ball and roller bearings in the new Ford insures smoother operation, saves gasoline, increases speed and power, gives quicker pick-up, decreases noise, and gives greater reliability and longer life to vital moving parts.

Other outstanding features that make the new Ford a value far above the price are the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield, silent, fully enclosed four-wheel brakes, four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers, aluminum pistons, chrome silicon alloy valves, three-quarter floating rear axle, Rustless Steel, the extensive use of fine steel forgings, and unusual accuracy in manufacturing.
