BLANCHE BARRUS CIRCLE MEETS AT PASTORIUM

The Blanche Barrus Circle met on Feb. 17 at the Baptist pastorium with Mrs. Paul Hartsell. Mrs. Harold Norwood was in charge of the program, the topic being "Measuring the Home Task."

During a brief social hour following, Mrs. McCrary and Mrs. Merrill entertained with several musical selections.

FORTNIGHTLY CLUB HOLDS ELECTION OF OFFICERS

The Fortnightly Club at their regular meeting last Thursday at the home of Mrs. J. C. Wike held annual election of officers, Mrs. H. E. Boucher being chosen as president. Vice president elected was Mrs. J. S. Nicholson; recording secretary, Mrs. L. E. Brown; Miss Alma Trowbridge, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. J. E. Waters, treasurer.

The program was led by Mrs. Boucher, who read several poems about Abraham Lincoln, the day being the birthday anniversary of the subject of more poetry than any other individual.

The hostess was assisted in serving a delicious chicken salad course by Miss Flora Wike.

THETA DELTA BETA ENTERTAIN

Miss Rose Schachner, with members of the Theta Delta Beta club delightfully entertained at a dance on Tuesday evening at the Schachner home on West Main street. Music was furnished by Thomas Mahone and his Jazzmanians of Waynesville.

JOINT BRIDGE ENJOYABLE AFFAIR

One of the most enjoyable events of the winter season was a joint bridge given by Miss Margaret Miller and Miss Mildred Clayton Thursday evening in the lobby of the Brevard Battery company. The lobby was beautifully decorated with ferns, cut flowers, and floor lamps, the soft lights adding much to the gaiety of the party. Eight tables were arranged for playing. At the conclusion of the game prizes were awarded to Miss Rose Schachner, winning ladies' high, to Mr. Tom Whitmire men's high, while consolation went to Miss Rebecca Summey.

The guests were served a refreshment course after which the tables were removed and the following guests danced until a late hour: Misses Reba Kitchin, Gladys English, Elizabeth Ramsey, Annie Yongue, Agness Clayton, Josephine Clayton, Jack Clayton, Mary Osborne Wilkins, Rose Schachner, Almata Waters, Flora Wike, Rebecca Summey, Garnett Lyday, Geraldine Barrett and Mesdames Jerry Jerome, Lawrence Holt, and Connelly. Messrs. Leon English, John Chapman, Harry Clayton, Tommie Wood, John McMinn, Tom Whitmire, Edwin English, Ed Wike, Walter Clayton, Ernest Gibbs, Harold Whitmire, Walter Hart and Connelly.

More than 200 business men of Alamance county attended a banquet tendered them at Graham by farmers of the county to discuss a farm program for 1931.

Nine-Tenths Preventable

Nine-tenths of all the diseases of the American people can be traced directly to constipation, doctors say. Constipation throws into the system poisons which taint and weaken every organ of the body and make them easy victims for any germs which attack them. Prevent constipation and you will avoid nine-tenths of all diseases, with their consequent pain and financial losses. Herbine, the good old vegetable cathartic, will relieve constipation in a natural, easy and pleasant way. For sale by

S. S. CLASS ENJOYS VALENTINE

Under the direction of their teacher, Geraldine Barrett, the Junior Girls Sunday School class of the Brevard Methodist church spent a most enjoyable afternoon in the parlors of the church on last Saturday, the occasion being St. Valentine Day. Decorations were in keeping with the Valentine heart season, as were the games and contests enjoyed during the party, and being carried through to the dainty refreshments at the close of the games. Woven heart shaped baskets filled with mints, candy hearts, and Valentine cookies were presented to each of the guests, and grape-lemonade was served.

JUNIOR MUSIC LOVERS HAVE MEETING

The Junior Music Lovers Club met Monday afternoon, Feb. 9, in the Music room of the Primary building. The program committee included Marie Galloway, Pauline Hartsell, Dorothy Everett, and Margaret Fullbright.

Pauline Hartsell read the Life of Paderewski, Mr. Alvin Moore playing a composition of the heralded artist, Minuet. Rhuemma Beddingfield told many interesting facts about Paderewski, having recently had the privilege of seeing and hearing him. Marie Galloway and Dorothy Everett read the Life of Handel, another great musician.

Much interest was shown in the fortune telling of Anita Galloway. Refreshments were served to the young people present.

MISS HUDSON ENTERTAINS WITH VALENTINE PARTY

Miss Dorothy Hudson was hostess to a number of young friends at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Hudson, the Park Hill Cottage, Franklin Park, on last Friday evening. The Valentine spirit reigned supreme in the evening devoted to games, contests, and dancing. Refreshments were served by the hostess' mother.

Among those present were: Misses Zebbie Grooms, Nell Gillespie, Catherine Snelson, Christine Yongue, Mabel McNeely, Thelma Johnson, Helen Erwin, Lois Barnette, Barnard Schachner, John Pickelsimer, Mack Allison, Edgar Loftis, Moultrie Truluck, John Miller, John Lyday, Weilt Duckworth, Ralph Underwood, Ralph Galloway and Glen Miller.

WEDNESDAY CLUB MEETS

The Brevard Wednesday club met at the home of Mrs. Hinton McLeod the afternoon of February 11th. Fourteen members were present and the club was pleased to have as their guest, Mrs. Kennell of Bridgeport, Conn.

Following a lively discussion of current events, a very short business session was held, and after the usual roll call of books the program was presented by Mrs. J. W. McMinn who reviewed the lives of two famous women—Mrs. Jessie Evans Johnston, through whose influence The Alabama Industrial School for Boys was founded and was unique in that it was the first state institution having a board of directors whose membership were women.

Mrs. Johnston herself the mother of eight children, made room in her heart for 4000 unfortunate boys and gave them a new vision of life. She is affectionately referred to as a Builder of Souls and this splendid institution stands as a monument to the efforts of this splendid woman in behalf of the underprivileged boy. Assisting Mrs. McMinn, Mrs. Breeze gave a short sketch of the life of Margaret Junkin Preston, beloved poet of the South, and read one of her loveliest poems, "The Shade of The Trees."

MISS KITCHIN ENTERTAINS AT VALENTINE PARTY

Miss Reba Kitchin entertained with a Valentine Bridge at her home on Maple street, Tuesday evening, Feb. 10th. Each guest upon arriving was presented with hand painted tally cards enabling them to find their respective places.

The tables were arranged for play in the living room and the decorations were in keeping with the Valentine season.

High score was won by Miss Agness Clayton while second high went to Mrs. Jerry Jerome, and each guest was given an attractive box of Valentine candy.

Miss Kitchin served a refreshment course consisting of heart shaped sandwiches, red apple salad, coffee and cake.

Those invited to play were: Misses Gladys English, Elizabeth Ramsey, Margaret Miller, Mildred, Agness and Jackie Clayton, Flora Wike, and Mrs. Jerry Jerome.

Oakland News Items

The singing service at Toxaway Baptist church Saturday and Sunday nights conducted by E. D. Randolph of Rosman, were well attended at both services. We feel that the class here will be one of the best, with his excellent training ability and the talent of the students we are bound to see some good results.

We have the promise of a male quartet from Greenville, S. C., to sing at the Toxaway Baptist church on Sunday morning, Feb. 15, if the weather permits.

For fear that some one will think we are trying to steal the Toxaway news, let us say that the Toxaway Baptist church is actually on the Oakland side and we are rather glad of it.

FEED CORN TO HOGS TO GET BEST PRICE

"The most profitable method of marketing corn this year, and probably for the next two years, is by feeding it to hogs and then marketing the hogs," W. W. Shay, swine extension specialist of State College, says, in speaking of the low price of corn and the profit to be made in hogs at the present time. "Feeding corn to hogs is the safest farm investment and the surest way to make a profit in farming this year."

If the corn is produced at a low cost per bushel, Mr. Shay says that it is always profitable to feed such corn to hogs. Even, if the corn is high in price per bushel or the yield per acre is low, the feeding of corn to hogs will increase its bushel value. "When the farmer has a big loss in the cost of corn, due to low production per acre, this loss can be cut down by feeding to hogs, but not always eliminated."

The person who cannot produce at least 30 bushels of corn or more to the acre had best stay out of the hog raising business.

Self-feeder demonstrations in the eastern part of the state this past year showed that corn will increase enormously in value if fed to hogs. One demonstration showed a profit of 485 per cent on corn by such feeding; despite the death of one hog during the demonstration. The hogs, in this case, ate 209 bushels of corn, which would have brought $188.10 if sold as corn. After paying all other charges and deducting the value of the hog which died, $19.75, the hogs still paid a profit of $285.94 for the corn and left plant food worth $49.35 on the farm, whereas $31.35 worth of the plant food would have gone out with the corn, had it been sold. The other two demonstrations proved the same thing. In the demonstrations, the hogs were put on self-feeders half the time and then turned in on standing corn, supplemented with fish meal.

The raising of plenty of corn and hogs will be a great boost for the "Live-at-Home" movement, Mr. Shay believes. He wants many hog feeding demonstrations this year, with accurate records kept.

SCHOLARSHIP IS PRIZE FOR ESSAY

Local high school girls are to have a chance to win a university scholarship through participation in an essay contest which has just been launched.

Announcement of this event, the Eighth National Meat Story Contest, has been received from the National Live Stock and Meat Board headquarters in Chicago. The Board is sponsor of the contest which, it is said, also has the endorsement of the bureau of Home Economics of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, the home economics department of a number of state universities and colleges, and high school home economics teachers.

Each year since the first contest in 1924, between ten and fifteen thousand girls have been entered by their teachers and it is expected that the enrollment for 1931 will at least equal and perhaps surpass that of previous years. In addition to the university scholarships there will be cash awards for every state, it is said.

Judging of the stories will be in the hands of a committee of prominent home economics authorities. This committee has not been selected as yet, says the announcement; however, it is planned to include persons of similar position to those of last year's committee which was made up of Dr. Margaret Justin, dean of the Division of Home Economics, Kansas State Agricultural College; Miss Jessie Alice Cline, assistant professor, University of Missouri; Mrs. Kathryn Niles, University of Minnesota; and Mrs. Caroline B. King, associate editor of the Country Gentleman.

Contestants will be given complete freedom in the selection of subjects so long as they deal with some phase of meat such as production, marketing, selection, cooking, place in the diet, etc.

Announcement of the contest has been sent to high school home economics teachers throughout the entire country and it is said that many of them already have entered their classes. The event will come to a close on March 15.

N. L. Stedman of Halifax has purchased 600 feeder pigs in Georgia to fatten on his surplus corn under the Shay plan of feeding.
