

RESUME OF WORK IN MEETING HELD HERE

(By JUDGE ROBT. L. GASH)
As The News went to press last week, Asheville Presbytery was then in session, and as only a very brief account was given, the following resume is now published.

The Presbytery met in the Brevard church at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning, and the opening sermon was preached by Rev. J. R. Sevier of Hendersonville. The many in this section who have heard Dr. Sevier do not need to be told what a treat it was to hear him.

After the opening sermon, Rev. W. F. Creson was elected Moderator, Dr. W. A. Murray of Black Mountain, Stated Clerk, and Rev. J. A. Flanagan of Franklin, temporary clerk.

Luncheon was served by the ladies of the church in the Hut both Tuesday and Wednesday. Tuesday afternoon was largely taken up with routine business and committee work.

Tuesday night, which is the regular Home Mission meeting, was well attended and unusually interesting. Dr. R. F. Campbell, chairman of the Home Mission committee, presided; the principal address of the evening was by Rev. H. B. Dendy of Weaverville, treasurer of the Presbytery and superintendent of the Home Mission. Dr. J. H. Gruver, superintendent of the Mountain Orphanage, gave one of his ever attractive and all comprehensive talks describing and telling all about the work of that institution which is now caring for sixty-six orphans.

Dr. R. C. Anderson gave a very interesting talk on the Montreal Normal School at Montreal. Rev. S. R. Crockett told of the work of Maxwell School near Franklin in his own inimitable way. Dr. Charles Chapin gave a very touching account of his work as chaplain at Oteen. Other interesting talks were by Dr. R. P. Hendersonville shrdl—L. shrd co aoa Smith of Asheville, Dr. L. T. Wilde of Hendersonville and many others.

All of the talks had an active ring and there was little, if any, appearance of stilted phraseology and formality which is too often too much in evidence in such meetings. Wednesday morning was the regular time for consideration of Foreign Missions and Dr. Wilde, chairman of the Foreign Missions committee, in making his report, announced that Dr. Egbert W. Smith, executive secretary of Foreign Missions, would preach at 11 o'clock.

Dr. Smith is one of the most brilliant preachers and eloquent talkers in the country and his sermon Wednesday morning was in unusually fine form. The entire congregation was at eager attention from start to finish. Dr. Smith, within the past two years, traveled around the world and visited in person all of the Mission Fields of the Western Presbyterian

Smith gave a talk or a travelogue describing many of his experiences in visiting the foreign fields and gave many interesting accounts of his visits in Korea, China, Brazil and the Congo, and promised, on some future occasion to describe his visits to the other Mission Fields.

On Wednesday night the other churches in Brevard adjourned their prayer meetings and united with the Presbyterians in hearing Dr. Smith. The house was crowded to the doors.

Asheville Presbytery is one of the Presbyteries entitled to send four commissioners to the general assembly which is the highest court of the Presbyterian church and in their selection, Presbytery paid a very high compliment to the Brevard-Davidson River church and to Judge Gash by electing him as one of the four commissioners.

A point of decided interest to church workers was included in the treasurer's report by Mr. Dendy. In spite of the general depression and hard times and the bank failures having tied up much of the funds of the Presbytery, the Presbytery was able to carry on all of its regular activities, keep its regular workers, meet its regular expenses and pay all salaries in full to March 31, the end of the church year, and still have a small balance of available cash on hand. In view of the general conditions during the past year this is truly a remarkable record.

HOME ECONOMICS CLASS ENJOYS PICNIC OUTING

By Glenn Miller, Jr.
On Saturday April 11, Mrs. Kimzey, the home economic instructor of the Brevard High school treated her first year classes to a picnic at Glen Cannon falls.

The classes left for the picnic grounds in the morning and on arriving, played games and hiked through the beautiful woodlands that surround these widely known falls.

With few mishaps, among which was reported that several lost their way and were late for the lunch, the picnicers returned to the grounds an dspread a lunch which did credit to the entire class.

After lunch the hikers returned to town and went in full force to the Clemson Theatre and enjoyed a theatre party.

Those who enjoyed this treat were: Clara Barnette, Clara Garren, Christine Joines, Zebbie Grooms, Dorothy Hudson, Helen Erwin, Mildred McIntosh, Mary Sue Jennings, Margaret Fullbright, Marie Galloway, Ester Mae McCrary, Mabel McNeely, Dare Bryson, Byrd Love, Belle Frady, Ruth Holtzclaw, Lavella Merrill, Margaret Smith, Edna Mae Nelson, Eltis Osteen, Majorie Hamilton, Carrie Lee Powell, Bernice Reid.

Miss Agnes and Miss Josephine Clayton entertained with a bridge party Friday afternoon at their home announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their sister, Miss Mildred Isabelle Clayton, to Mr. Fred B. Emerson, of Fort Scott, Kansas.

Guests to make up eight tables were invited and a number of tea guests called at the conclusion of the games. The rooms where the guests assembled were beautifully decorated with ferns and cut flowers, which together with the tallies, carried out a color scheme of green and white.

Mrs. LeRoy Case of Swannanoa, won the high score prize, Miss Gladys English was awarded the second high prize, and Miss Lois White was given the consolation gift. Miss Kathleen Hord, of Shelby, house guest of Miss Mildred Clayton, was also presented with a dainty gift. The refreshments were an ice course which bore a card on which was written "Fred-Mildred, June. Attached to the card were little silver wedding bells tied with white satin ribbon.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Clayton, of this city, and is a graduate of Brevard High School. She also attended Brenau College, Gainesville, Ga. Mr. Emerson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Emerson, of Fort Scott, Kansas, and is a graduate of Wake Forest College, where he is now a member of the coaching staff.
