

TOM GRAHAM NOW TWIRLING FOR SEARS

Tom Graham, for the past two seasons one of the best little mounds-men seen around Brevard, is now "twirling" for Sears-Roebuck Co., of Atlanta, Ga., where he has secured a position in the office of the general manager of the widely known merchandising concern. He left Monday to take up his new duties in the Booster City.

Upon completion of the general course at Brevard Institute, where he graduated with high honors, young Graham completed the Commercial course, and meanwhile has been mixing business in with his school and athletic activities. The many friends of Tom in Brevard will watch with interest his career in the commercial field, and will be "rooting" just as strong for him in his new role as they ever did when he was piloting the B. I. football squad or tossing them down the alley for the local baseball nine.

DR. PURSER SPEAKS AT BAPTIST CHURCH

Dr. F. M. Purser, of Oxford, Miss., spoke to one of the largest congregations of the season at the Baptist church last Sunday evening. His theme, "Jesus's Challenge to Youth", was an earnest and eloquent appeal to the young people of this generation to hear the call of the universe and the contingents by accepting Jesus Christ as Master and Saviour.

Another feature of the evening service was the splendid song service by the combined young people's choirs of Brevard and Pisgah Forest Baptist churches.

Large numbers of people from many states have registered in the official register book at the entrance of the church, and it has been host to an increasing number of visitors since the summer season began.

LARGE MUSKMELON GROWN HERE BY RED BREWINGTON

Red Brewington, piano tuner extraordinary, has branched out in his work and is now proudly displaying huge muskmelons and cantaloupes grown on the Neely Farm near Brevard. One of the melons, of the "Banana" variety, weighs seventeen, one-half pounds. Red is emphatic in his assertion that melons of high quality can be grown in the county with the proper care, and offers as proof of his contention the beauties in his field.

FITTING DAIRY CATTLE FOR THE SHOW RING

Well trained and properly fitted animals place high in competition and owners should begin now to prepare their cattle for showing at the fairs this fall.

"Preparation for showing should begin at least two months before the animal is to be shown," says J. A. Arey, dairy specialist at State College. "This amount of time is needed if the animal is in fair condition. If in poor condition more time is needed."

Each animal should be taught to lead well, stand squarely on its feet and have good feed and attention, states Mr. Arey. If the hair is long the animal should be clipped all over about six weeks before showing. This gives the hair time to grow back and it will present a smooth glossy appearance. Where the hair is not long the head, ears, neck back to the shoulder vein, the tail setting, and belly should be clipped.

After clipping the animal should be blanketed to improve the quality of the hide and hair. Burlap sacks sewed together make a very satisfactory blanket, says Mr. Arey. A good brushing and rubbing each day will stimulate circulation and also improve the appearance of the hair. About once each week, the animal should be thoroughly washed using plenty of water, soap, and elbow grease, he states.

The horns should be scraped with a piece of broken glass or a steel scrape and followed with sand paper. They can then be smoothed with a fine emery. For polishing, strips of flannel cloth should be used.

For the ration during this fitting period, Mr. Arey recommends a grain mixture of 30 pounds of corn meal, 30 pounds of crushed oats, 25 pounds of wheat bran, and 15 pounds of linseed meal. If the animal is this at the beginning of the period, a small amount of ready mixed molasses feed may be added to the grain ration. This will put the animal in good condition for showing, he says.

Farm Wanted

I want to purchase a Farm on the Boylston Road, either in Transylvania or Henderson County. Place must have good, all-year water supply, well drained, some woodland, and a stream flowing through it from the mountains. Not so particular about buildings, just so slight repairs would make them comfortable.
