TWO FIRES IN ONE DAY RECORD HERE

Two small lads crept hurriedly, in a frightened silence from the loft of Mr. W. C. Hunts garage Tuesday at noon leaving a small three year old girl frightened beyond description alone with the sudden fire they started while playing with matches. The little girl managed to reach the stairs and stumbled down them before the flames reached her.

When the flames leaped higher and higher through the loft burning the dry corn and catching the interior on fire, Mrs. Hunt succeeded in calling the fire department and driving her car out of the lower part of the garage before it was damaged.

The fire truck was rushed to the scene but before suitable connections were completed the garage was burned beyond repair.

The Moral is; keep matches away from small children for they may destroy, their own lives or the life of someone else.

The fire department was called out at four o'clock Tuesday morning to rush to the fire at the home of Earl Thomas near the Transylvania Tanning Co. They arrived too late to be of material service since the fire had gained a strong headway.

It is reported that Thomas awoke in the night and noticed smoke in his room, he arose and called his wife. They carried out a trunk and it is said that when they reached the outside door it was too hot to return after more household goods.

SINGING AT CASHIERS

Editor The News:

I wish to announce through your paper that an all day singing will be held in the Methodist church at Cashiers Valley, Sunday Oct. 11. All singers and lovers of music have a special invitation to attend this singing, as we are expecting a large number of quartets and classes from many sections of the two states.

There will be a picnic dinner at the noon hour with plenty of welcome. Remember that the singing starts promptly at ten o'clock. Be on time if the weather will permit.

E. D. RANDOLPH.

EAST OF BORNEO ON CLEMSON PROGRAM

"East of Borneo" will be shown at the Clemson Theatre this Friday and Saturday, Oct. 9-10.

The story is laid in the wild jungle country of the Malay Peninsula, and many of the scenes were actually taken there by an expedition which is said to have traveled half way around the world from the studios in Hollywood. The authenticity of the scenes is unquestioned, and the picture as a whole constitutes real records of life and customs in that far-off land.

An Oriental rajah, an American woman and her former husband are principal characters in the picture. The husband made bitter by an unsuccessful married life endeavored to bury himself in the Malay jungles where he is the only white man, and where he becomes personal physician to the powerful rajah. The wife follows her husband whom she has never ceased to love, to the jungles, where the repulsion of her husband and the covetous eyes of the rajah make a climax that is thrilling. Rose Ho'art and Charles Bickford head an excellent cast in the picture, with several hundred Malays supplying the jungle color. Critics have heralded the play as a production that is remarkable.
