P. T. A. ENTERTAINS TEACHERS

On last Friday afternoon, the parents of the Brevard Teachers Association entertained the teachers of the local schools with their annual picnic at Rockbrook Camp.

Swimming and friendly "chatting" were enjoyed until a bell called the friendly group of parents and teachers to the Camp lodge where a most delicious picnic lunch was served. There was fried chicken galore, chicken salad, pickles, sandwiches, cakes and pies and steaming hot coffee. The coffee was furnished by Mrs. Henry Carrier, through whose courtesy the camp was afforded for the occasion.

Each year the teachers look forward eagerly to the picnic with great anticipation. After the picnic this year they all agreed that this was one of the best ever given.

Rockbrook Camp is an ideal spot for such an outing and the teachers enjoyed the fresh air and the freedom from the tasks of a busy day.

One of the teachers said, "We understand the children better by knowing their parents," and thus the picnic played an important part in creating friendship between the parents and teachers.

of Glen Cannon waterfalls. The presentation was made with the following beautiful words:

"Worthy Grand Matron: I have in my hand a gift for you from this chapter. We were not able to give a gift that would be deserving tribute to your zeal and worth, nor one that would fully express our love or appreciation of you. However, Emerson said, 'The only gift is a portion of thyself.' None of us have painted this scene or created this fall, but it is a part of us because the beauty of the scene has grown into our souls helping to make us what we are. Please accept this picture as a token of our fraternal love—a little memento of these mountains and this visit. In behalf of Pisgah Chapter No. 198 I present this gift and their love."

DR. SEVIER HEARD HERE LAST SUNDAY

The annual celebration of Davidson River Day, was observed last Sunday at the old Davidson River Presbyterian church, near Pisgah Forest.

Dr. Joseph R. Sevier, president of Fassifern College, preached the morning sermon. Always a good speaker and powerful preacher, he was at his best and held the congregation's closest attention.

As usual, this annual Home-Coming Day brought out a large crowd from Transylvania and Henderson counties, with quite a number from surrounding counties.

At noon, a picnic dinner was served. The long tables were loaded, and the viands were prepared as only Transylvania and Henderson county cooks can prepare them. The supply was abundant for the hundreds present, and the traditions of the Davidson River Day Dinner were amply maintained.

This annual Home-Coming Day of the old church is always well attended, and, as is the custom, an unusually enjoyable time was had by all.

NAME LEADERS FOR THE SCOUT TROOP

The local troop of the Boy Scouts of America is completing the final steps in its reorganization, since several of the members have gone away to college.

Friday night at the regular meeting, with Rev. R. L. Alexander, Assistant Scoutmaster in charge, two new Patrol Leaders were elected by the troop, to lead in the reorganization of the troop affairs. They were Craig Misenheimer and Mark Taylor Orr.

The old patrols have disbanded and the members of the troop will be divided into two patrols, headed by young Misenheimer and Orr.

All boys who are interested in the Scout work and are of eligible age between 12 and 18 are urged to visit one of the regular Friday night meetings at seven thirty and apply for membership.

If their applications are accepted by the troop, they will be given the regular four-weeks trial, during which time they will attend all meetings and participate in troop activities. If at the end of that time they still desire to become Scouts the troop will place their name in order for election into the troop.

NIGHT SCHOOL FOR NEGROES IN COUNTY

Night school for Transylvania county colored people began in the Rosenwald school Tuesday night, Prof. J. M. Harris, principal of the school, announced this week.

The classes for adults will be conducted every Tuesday and Thursday night in the Rosenwald School at seven o'clock. All colored people interested in acquiring an education by working a few extra hours every week are urged to attend the school and avail themselves of this unusual opportunity.

Night schools are being conducted over the state for both white and colored people. In late years the number has increased appreciably. The advantages offered in night schools though not as valuable as day schools, are reaping wonderful results, by teaching eager persons to read, write and the fundamentals of Arithmetic and other subjects, such as history and geography, which are of interest to everyone.

When the night schools first began they were primarily in the larger cities of the state, however, since they have gained a foothold, they are spreading over the smaller towns and communities. Night schools are playing an important part in the education of America today, for there are thousands of people who have to work all day and find it impossible to attend any form of school. The night school here will be the solution for the colored people and it is expected that a large number of men and women will be regular members of the Rosenwald Night School.

NEGRO MAGICIAN TO BE IN BREVARD THURSDAY

Prof. Maxwell, the world's greatest Colored Magician, of Greenville, S. C., will appear at the Rosenwald school, for colored people, Thursday night at 8 o'clock. Prof. J. M. Harris announced Tuesday. Maxwell will perform many tricks, sleight-of-hand, disappearing acts and unusual examples of skill in the magician's profession.

A moving picture, "The Shadows of the West," in five reels, will also be shown, and a two reel comedy will be an added attraction.

B. I. AND PICKENS IN NO-SCORE CONTEST

The Brevard Institute football team led by Capt. Prillo Mitchell ventured to Pickens, S. C., Friday to tackle the heavy Blue Flame eleven, and whereby met their match.

The game ended with no scoring having been made by either team: Brevard 0; Pickens 0.

Practically all of the game was played in center field, neither team getting within striking distance of the goal. The quarterbacks called out their punters and there ensued a spirited punting contest. It was indeed a fierce contest, with the teams evenly matched and fighting for every inch of ground. Capt. Prillo Mitchell punted for B. I. and it is said that he made some superb kicks during the course of the game.

The line-up was not changed during the game, reported Coach Trantham, since the boys were playing so well, and holding their own evenly, he saw no need for substitute.

The B. I. boys will meet Sylva High on the Sylva field this Friday afternoon.

LIGHT is SAFETY in your HOME

Figures from large insurance companies prove that personal injuries in the home are often the result of inadequate lighting. Unlighted hallways, dark stairways, dim rooms, all provide settings where accidents may easily occur. You can remove these sources of possible danger by providing easily accessible, convenient lighting in all dark spaces in your home.

Lights properly placed will dispel the uncertain shadows that lead to accidents. And outside of your home, lights which may be controlled from inside the house will serve to guard against burglary and midnight marauders. You are adding safety to your home when you ADD-A-LIGHT.
