HIGHWAY WORK NOW BEING DONE IN THE COUNTY IS PLEASING

Main Arteries and the County Roads Being Improved at Most Rapid Rate

THIS COUNTY IS TO BE IN ENVIABLE POSITION

Seeking Federal Aid For Widening and Surfacing 284 Through Pisgah

"If Transylvania county's vote could decide a National election, Governor O. Max Gardner could be elected president of the United States, king of England, Mahatma of India, or the world's most important citizen," asserted a leading citizen of the Toxaway section one day this week. He was speaking of the work being done on the county roads here, and stated further that this great activity is almost unbelievable in a county where people had gone so long without any relief in county road building or preparation.

District Engineer Howard, in charge of the road work in this and adjoining counties, has great reputation as an organizer, and the road work is said to be running as smoothly as clock work. The biggest job in the county just now is that being done on the Boylston road, where a real plant is being located just beyond Little Mountain. A convict force is being used on this job. A crusher has been placed, and the grading and leveling of the road preparatory to placing the crushed stone is well under way.

Next in importance, perhaps, is the project on the Gloucester road,

Ladies Not to Attend Masonic Home Coming on Account of Lack of Room

Plans have been altered somewhat in the Masonic home-coming event to be held this Friday afternoon and evening by Dunn's Rock Masonic Lodge, in that the entertainment of the Eastern Star and women in Masonic homes has been postponed to a later date. It develops that more than one hundred and fifty members of the Masonic lodge will be in attendance, and on account of limited quarters at the hall it would be impossible to entertain the women at the celebration. It is planned now to set another date for entertainment of the Eastern Star and women of Masonic homes.

A delegation of more than thirty men are expected from West Asheville lodge. The Degree team of that lodge, considered to be one of the best teams in the state, will confer the Master's Degree at the evening

FOUNTAIN AGAINST SHORT BALLOT PLAN

Raleigh, Oct. 21—North Carolina's tax laws should be written and sufficiently flexible so as to respond to the general economic changes taking place in the State, Lieutenant Governor R. T. Fountain said in a radio address last week. The third of the candidates for governor to take the air. He suggested that it might be advisable to submit to the people a constitutional amendment which would permit an income tax rate greater than six per cent, since this appears to be one of the most just forms of taxation.

Renewing his attack on the short ballot, Mr. Fountain explained that by short ballot is meant that the people elect the Governor and that he name all other officials and servants of the State. He maintained that this is too much power to be placed in the hands of one man. Mr. Fountain said he favors the quadriennial revaluation of property for taxation, and reiterated his statement that he thinks the six months school term should be supported entirely by taxes other than on land.

"I do not favor any kind of sales tax, but if one is necessary, I prefer the so-called luxury tax in the place of the gross sales tax," he stated.

NEW CONCERN TO BUY UP ITS OWN ENDORSED PAPER

"Chessay, Inc.," name of a recently incorporated concern announced in the press last week, has occasioned much comment, and inquiry has brought forth full information about the new company. It is an organization composed of former officers and directors of the Brevard Banking company who signed several notes in obtaining money in an effort, it is said, to keep the bank open. Collateral notes held in the bank were put up with these personally endorsed notes of the directors, it is explained, and formation of the new organization is to handle the matter of clearing up these personally endorsed obligations.

SCHOOL BUDGETS MAY BE INCREASED

May Range from 5 to 50 Per Cent Above the State Standards Set

Raleigh, Oct. 21—Increase of school budgets above the State standard may range from 5 to 50 per cent, based largely on numbers of teachers, in a schedule adopted last week by the State Board of Equalization.

Eight of the larger charter districts, Asheville, Charlotte, Durham, Greensboro, High Point, Raleigh, Wilmington and Winston-Salem, are permitted to increase their budgets 50 per cent over the State standard, contingent on agreement of the school boards and taxing authorities; seven others, Rock Mount, Gastonia, Salisbury, Leaksville and Wilson, may increase their budgets from local taxes 3-13 per cent; 23 others, which list includes Shelby, Reidsville, Lexington, Roanoke Rapids, Thomasville, Hamlet, Morganton and Mount Airy, may add 20 per cent.

The remaining 60 special charter districts in the State may add 15 per cent. Among these are Rockingham, King's Mountain, Hendersonville, Lumberton, Scotland Neck, Southern Pines, Beaufort, Red Springs, Aberdeen, Madison, Elkin and Vass-Lakeview.

County system rural schools, which participate in the tax reduction fund for the extended term, are limited to increase 5 per cent, while those not participating in the tax reduction fund may increase their budgets 10 per cent. However, those rural system schools which have more than 30 teachers will be considered, for this purpose, as charter schools, taking their places in the proper four groups of charter schools, based on numbers of teachers.

In the rural schools the salaries of agricultural and home economics teachers, when paid jointly by the district and the State, are not included as supplemental. In the charter districts, General Control, which includes salary and office expenses of the superintendent, is not included in the supplement.

The Board of Equalization adopted this percentage increase schedule to fit all districts, so it would not be necessary to take up individual budgets of the 98 charter schools, and 946 taxing district schools, with resulting chances of inequalities.

DR. HARDIN ATTENDS DISTRICT MEETING

Predicts Dental Clinic In This County During the Coming Year

Dr. Carl Hardin, Dental member of the County Board of Health, attended the First District Dental Convention, held at Lenoir on the 15th and 16th of October.

Dr. Branch, Dental Officer of the State Board of Health, was one of the principal speakers. Since this is the first year that Dental members have been included on the County Health Boards, Dr. Branch spoke on the duties and special tasks of the dental officers. He explained that it is the aim of the State Health Board to conduct dental clinics in every school in the state.

Dr. Hardin announced Tuesday that the local Health Board was very sorry that it had become impossible to obtain a clinic for the Transylvania Schools this year. Several clinics of this nature have been held in the county in past years. They were found distinctly valuable to the health and comfort of the school students.

Many ailments are found to be directly due to bad and uncared for teeth. The clinics treat the child's teeth in every needed manner, clean them thoroughly, and the officers urge and encourage the students to clean their teeth properly and regularly.

It has been found by State Dental authorities that the best plan for caring for the teeth, includes several steps: Clean your teeth at least twice daily, using a good tooth paste or powder. Rub with an up and down movement instead of the customary backward and forward stroke. It is advisable to consult a dentist, at least twice a year.

Fully 90% of the children examined in state schools have been found to have decayed and dirty teeth.

This figure leaves a very low percentage of sound teeth among the children. Proper care and knowledge of how to administer proper care are important facts which are revealed during the dental clinics.

It is expected that a clinic will be held for the Transylvania schools by the next school year.

ROSMAN FAIR NOT TO BE STAGED THIS YEAR

The following statement was given to The News late Wednesday afternoon by Prof. John F. Corbin, Agricultural instructor of Rosman High School relative to postponement of the Rosman Community Fair:

"We are very sorry to state that we will not have a fair in the Rosman community this year. Several things conflicted so much that it seems impossible to have one—some of the conflicting causes were: the trip to St. Louis; lack of the use of the school buses; and the shortage of funds.

"However, we are determined to have one big and good enough next year to make up for both years. Let's start now getting ready to have a real fair next year."

The Rosman Community Fair held in 1930 was an outstanding event in the county, and did credit to Prof. Corbin and his boys and to the Rosman community at large.

BANKER IS FOUND NOT GUILTY IN WAKE TRIAL

Raleigh, Oct. 21—W. E. Drake, president of the defunct Raleigh Banking & Trust Co., was found not guilty by a Chatham county jury in Wake Superior Court last week of receiving deposits knowing the bank to be insolvent, more than a year ago. His best defense was that he and members of his family and employees of the bank made deposits on the day the bank closed, following a run. He had an able battery of lawyers, including U. S. Senator J. W. Bailey, who closed for the defense with a speech of more than two hours to the jury.

756 VACCINATED AT TYPHOID CLINIC IN COUNTY THIS WEEK

Authorities Well Pleased With Response Made By Citizens of the County

SUCCESSIVE TREATMENTS TO BE GIVEN IN FUTURE

Three Treatments Guaranteed Against Typhoid During Period of 3 Years

According to Dr. C. L. Newland, County Health Officer in charge of the vaccination program of the county, 756 persons were given the typhoid treatment at Rosman and Pisgah Forest on Thursday and Friday of the Past week. Thursday 266 persons from Pisgah Forest received the vaccination and on Friday 488 persons of Rosman were treated.

The typhoid treatment requires three doses of the serum and the persons who took the first dose last week will receive the second today and tomorrow and the third on the regular days next week. For the benefit of citizens who did not hear of this free treatment or were in one way or another prevented from attending the first clinic, a fourth week has been arranged and persons who take the treatment today at Pisgah Forest and tomorrow at Rosman will be able to have the advantages of the complete vaccination. Dr. Newland said early this week.

The treatments were and will be given at the Pisgah Forest school Thursday, October 15, 22, 29 and Thursday, Nov. 5; at the Rosman school Friday, October 16, 23, 30 and

METHODIST PAY-UP PERIOD IS PLANNED

"Pay Up Week" will be observed at the Brevard Methodist church during the week beginning next Sunday, November 25, and continuing through Sunday, November 1. During this period supporters and members of the church are expected to take care of the financial problems now confronting the institution.

At a meeting of the Board of Stewards held Monday evening at the church, statement was made by the finance committee that although there was a large sum of money to be raised before Annual Conference which convenes in Asheville on Nov. 11, that with the full cooperation of every member this financial barrier would be crossed, allowing the pastor, the Rev. J. H. West, to go before the conference with a report of which both he and friends of the Brevard church would be proud.

Letters are being mailed this week by the board to all members and supporters of the church setting forth in detail the financial stress of the church. It was the expressed belief of the board that with the proposition put squarely up to the membership that the loyalty heretofore evidenced by the congregation would be shown and that the deficit would be wiped out during the coming "Pay Up Week."

GOVERNMENT CANNOT RELIEVE THE SITUATION

"If we can get our farmers to produce sufficient food and feedstuffs for house requirements, the problem of cotton and tobacco acreage will solve itself," Tve Taylor, executive counsel, told the Durham Kiwanis club last week in an address in which he voiced objection to the "wholly vicious tendency to turn to the government for relief from all economic and social ills."

"What we need in North Carolina is intellectual honesty—a willingness to face the facts—and a final recognition that we must, in a spirit of cooperative individualism, work out our own economic salvation. A law is not going to help anything. We have too many laws now," he said.

District Meeting of the Business and Professional Women to be Held Nov. 7

Mrs. Mary Jane McCrary, chairman of District No. 1, Business and Professional Women's clubs, announces tentative program for the district meeting which is to be held in Asheville on November 7, afternoon and evening. The sessions will be held in the Woman's club building. Miss Nettie Brogden, state president, will deliver an address on "A Vision for Service," which is expected to be one of the most important features of the meeting.

Miss Lona Glidewell, past president, will preside at the afternoon session, and lead a round table discussion on the subject "The Technique of Contacting Prospective Members." A banquet will be given at 8 o'clock and Miss Sybil Wilson, of Canton, will act as toastmistress. Miss Genevieve Rutherford, of the Asheville club, will deliver the address of welcome, while Mrs. L. M. Robertson, president of the Brevard club is scheduled to respond to the welcome address.

FARM AGENT IS NEED OF THE COUNTY SAYS PROMINENT CITIZEN

M. O. McCall Points Out the Waste of Time and Money to the Farmers

CITES WORK DONE BY AGENTS IN OTHER STATES

Outlines Services of an Agent, and the Big Need of Such Services in Transylvania

"Transylvania county farmers need a farm agent more than anything else," asserted Mr. M. O. McCall, farmer and business man, upon return from a trip to South Carolina markets the other day. "Here I and other farmers have been driving from town to town, loaded down with produce, and hunting for a market like a group of half-blind people searching for a needle in a haystack. If we had a farm agent who could keep in constant touch with the towns and cities, and know just where to send the farmer with his load of produce, real money could be saved, to say nothing of the time lost in going from post to pillar trying to find a buyer."

Mr. McCall told of meeting farm agents in South Carolina towns and cities who made it easy for the farmers and truckers in their respective counties to market their produce. He brought back many letters from the files of these farm agents, showing just how the agent kept track of the markets, and directed the farmers and truckers to a ready market, where the best prices prevailed for whatever kind of produce the far-

PROF. GLAZENER IN APOLOGY TO FRIENDS

Prof. J. A. Glazener announced Tuesday that due to a very gross oversight, several worthy parties who aided very much toward the success of the Sylvan Valley Fair held here three weeks ago had not been given just credit for their efforts.

Jerry Jerome placed the fair officials deeply in debt to his services by mingling among the citizens of Brevard and collecting over $25.00 for the fair expenses.

Mayor Ramsey and Winston Ashworth are due credit in their efforts toward cleaning and arranging the grounds for the cattle, sheep and horse exhibits of the fair.

Hale Siniard and J. S. Bromfield were kind enough to furnish trucks to haul the necessary lumber from the Carr Lumber Co.

Mr. Glazener said that if there were others who contributed to the fair's success, he wished to extend to them through this column his deep appreciation for their services. For his failure to thank them was merely an oversight, caused by the hubbub of fair plans and was not done intentionally.

GARDNER TELLS GROUP PART THIS STATE PLAYED

Raleigh, Oct. 21—Governor Gardner, in Yorktown, Va., for the Sesqui-centennial Celebration of the Cornwallis surrender, didn't fail to recount North Carolina's part in the movement toward freedom in speaking for this State Friday. The Declaration of Independence was the first of a drama which unfolded itself until it came to the climax, the Cornwallis surrender at Yorktown, he said.

"For," said Governor Gardner, "independent of popular revolts the Boston, Edenton and Wilmington tea parties were; solemn and significant as the Mecklenburg Declaration, the Halifax Resolves and the Philadelphia Declaration of Independence were neither picturesque nor decisive." But, after Kings Mountain and Guilford Court House, came Yorktown and victory, he said.
