By J. M. HARRIS

COLORED BOYS TO PLAY FOOTBALL HERE THURSDAY

The Brevard Panthers have been rejoicing all week over the fact that they invaded the Seneca, S. C., Wild Cat's territory last Friday and defeated them by a score of 12-7.

The thing that makes them feel so proud is that this is the Wild Cat's third season playing football, while this is the Brevard Panthers' initial year.

During the first quarter things looked somewhat dark for the Panthers when the Wild Cats pushed over the first touchdown by the way of a beautiful criss-cross around left end, which left the Panthers dazed trying to figure out what had happened. The extra point was gained by a short pass over right end.

The second period found the Panthers gaining courage. They were putting up a stiff fight when Red snatched one of the Wild Cat's passes out of the air on the Cats' forty yard line and ran for a touchdown after shaking loose all would be tacklers.

The third period found both teams fighting in midfield, but in the fourth quarter things began to happen when the Panthers started to push their way into Cat territory. With all the reserve strength that could be put into action the Cats were unable to stop the Panthers. When the time-keeper gave notice that there were only five minutes more to go the Panthers became furious and every-time the ball was snapped by the Cats they were thrown for a loss. The Cats made an effort to kick out of danger, but so great was the rush by the Panthers that the kick was short. Then Red Man had his hands on the ball again and with a quick pass to Hefner who stepped across the goal for the final marker. With two and a half minutes to go all hopes were lost to the Cats.

To Play Here Thursday
Thursday, October 29 the Panthers will play their first game at home. Game called at 3:30 on McLean field. They will meet the snappy team from Walhalla, S. C., who saw the Panthers in action last Friday and have decreed to stop the Panthers Thursday.

The local team is hard at work under Coach Jones, making preparation to keep the bacon at home. Everyone who would like to see the first colored football team in Brevard in action are urged to be at McLean Field Thursday afternoon.

There are some expenses to be met and we are charging a small fee of 25 cents. We urge that you come out and help us and see the Panthers in action.

The probable lineup for the Panthers Thursday:

Rev. J. L. Bragg held a preaching service Sunday night in the Enon church. Mr. Bragg's regular services have been at 11 a.m. on the second and fourth Sundays, and he now, with members of the church, plans to have two night services each month.

Sunday school observed special Mission Day last Sunday. The several classes gave an offering and presented the class work by an address from a class member. The funds collected will be used in State Missions.

The Enon church folks are attending the school being conducted by the Rev. Paul Hartsell in the Brevard church this week. Those in attendance this week are Rev. J. L. Bragg, T. F. Middleton, Mrs. M. H. Holliday, Miss Garnett Lyday and N. L. Ponder. This is an interesting school and those in attendance are commending Mr. Hartsell's work.

The grounds on the west side of the Penrose school now have a much better appearance and provide a better place for the children to play. This beautifying was done by the children who have used their playtime as worktime for more than a week.

Penrose school folks should remember P. T. A. for Friday. Mr. Jones, or some other speaker will feature the program.

Lawrence Williams and some of the boys began basket ball practice on the Penrose court Monday afternoon. It is expected to have a Penrose gang that will do some good playing this season.

N. L. Ponder Jr. celebrated his 7th birthday with a party on last Saturday. Those present to enjoy the afternoon were: Mildred, Margie and Sam Talley; Mildred, Edwin and Raymond Cheek; Lois Jean Woodfin, Billy Joe and Margaret Jean George. The party visitors brought several nice presents. Games were played and refreshments served, making it a pleasant afternoon for the children.

W. O. W. MEETING WITH MURPHY CAMP

Western North Carolina convention Woodmen of the World is being held at Murphy, beginning Wednesday, Oct. 28 and ending Thursday, 29th. Delegates from Brevard, Rosman and other camps of Western North Carolina are in attendance. A night session was held in the court house on Wednesday. A square dance was held after the meeting. The sessions will last through Thursday, closing with a banquet tendered the delegates by the Murphy Camp.

THE PRAYER CORNER

THE BLESSEDNESS AND SACREDNESS OF THE SABBATH TO THE CHILDREN

In teaching children the Blessedness and Sacredness of The Sabbath nothing is trivial. A light touch may destroy the beauty of the sculptor's soft image in clay, or a few such touches make it a joy and wonder.

We begin to teach our children the observance of Sunday by simple acts, the putting by of mother's work basket, the general setting to right on Saturday. Some of us can remember how it increased our awe of God's Day that our mothers prepared their Sabbath food on Saturday and that our fathers left not so much as the blacking of boots or shaving to mar the Sabbath rest for themselves or any of the household, walking to church, rather than keep horse or driver from their portion of rest, and eating plainer fare than other days lest a Sabbath feast should be soured with the thought that it cost some one their God given right to a day for conscience.

On the other hand, the driving up at the door on the Sabbath of the Sunday carriage or auto, helps to mar the Sabbath in a child's heart. "Please, Father, is it wrong to go pleasuring on the Lord's Day? My teacher says it is." "Why, child, perhaps it is not exactly right." "Then it is wrong, isn't it Father?" "Oh, I don't quite know that, it is only once in a while." "Father, you know how fond I am of sums?" "Yes, John, I'm glad you are. I want you to do them well, and be quick and clever at figures, but why do you talk of sums just now?" "Because, Father, if there is one little figure put wrong in a sum, it makes it all wrong, however large the amount is." "To be sure, child, it does." "Then, please, Father, don't you think if God's Day is put wrong now and then it makes all wrong?" "Put wrong child—how?" "I mean Father, put to a wrong use." "That brought it very close," said the father, as if speaking to himself, and then added—"John, it is wrong to break God's Holy Sabbath. He has forbidden it, and your teacher was quite right. Remember the Sabbath Day to keep it holy."

An incident of a father and his son is full of suggestiveness in this connection. He was an upright business man. In his heart he believed the Religion of Jesus Christ to be true, but he was very busy, and when Sunday came he was thoroughly tired. He became interested, too, in his Sunday paper, so he gradually dropped off going to church. His wife went regularly and sometimes the children. One morning just after his wife had set out, he was comfortably seated reading the money article, when he heard his boys talking in the next room. Said eight-year-old Willie: "When you grow up, shall you go to church as mother does, or stay at home like father?" "I shall do neither," said the older one decidedly. "When I'm a man, I shall have horses or auto, and be on the road Sundays, and enjoy myself." The newspaper suddenly lost its attraction. Between the father and it there came a picture of his boys drifting into a Godless, reckless life, and of himself looking on, in his old age at the fruit of his self indulgence. Five minutes after he was rapidly walking toward the church. When the service was over, his wife coming down the aisle saw him waiting at the door. There was a questioning, glad surprise in her eyes, but he only remarked that he had taken a walk and thought he would join her on the way home. Next Sunday, however, the whole family were in their pew, and all the rest of the day there was a kind of peace about the house that reminded him of his boyhood days in his father's home. And who will say that he was less fitted for another week of business life by this share in the services of God's House, instead of staying at home on Sunday to rest? For the sake of your children, if not your own sake—"Remember the Sabbath Day to keep it holy."

Our strongest hope for an improved Sabbath lies in creating a greater reverence for it is the next generation while it lies plastic in our hands, in the childhood of today. The coming man will keep the Sabbath if the little men and women of our homes and schools are taught to love it as a gift from God, and for man.

A PRAYER

For the Blessedness and Sacredness of the Sabbath to the Children.

Most Holy God, I do thank Thee for the precious gift of the Holy Sabbath Day and the wonderful blessings of which it is the pledge. I thank Thee above all for its redemption in the death of Jesus from the power of sin, and its restoration to us in the power and the joy of His Risen life. Oh, grant that each succeeding Sabbath may lead me deeper into Thy rest, the rest of God in Christ, and so unto the Fellowship of Thy Holiness and The Blessedness, may a daily life, that seeks its only joy in Christ and is wholly yielded to the spirit prepare me for keeping the day holy.

Blessed Father, I specially ask for grace to train my children to love and hallow Thy Day. I know it is nothing but the joy of Thy presence in my own life that can fit me for it. Give me this, and then give me the wisdom, as Thy servant, to bring to them the sense of Thy Holy Will and Thy Loving Kindness, in claiming the day for Thyself, and then giving it to them as Thy Own Day, that the fear of grieving Thee, and the joy of pleasing Thee may each find due place in their hearts. So may the command and the promise, the duty and the pleasure, be one with them, and their delight in Thy Day indeed meet the promised reward. Then shalt Thou delight Thyself in the Lord. Amen.
