Seventh Grade Pupils Report on Books
Two weeks ago the pupils of the seventh grade selected books from the library for class reports. This week the reports were given, and we find that we have many interesting books in our library that we may read. Each pupil gave the title, author and an interesting event that was told about in the book. Most of the reports were enjoyed, and we are looking forward to the next lesson of this kind.

Good Sportmanship May Be Learned At School

School not only teaches us book knowledge but also how to be good sports. Our teachers supervise our play as well as our work in the room. We are trained to play fair and consider the other fellow. This is a mighty good lesson to learn well.
RUSSELL DUNCAN, 7th Grade

Cleanliness

Cleanliness in our home we need. To make it merry and bright. Wash our hand, brush our teeth Morn, noon and night.

Friends we want to have, And friends we want to keep. We can do this very well By keeping clean and neat.
ANNIE GILLESPIE, 7th Grade

Thanksgiving

Red, red are the apples; The leaves are falling fast. Old Jack Frost slips up at night And covers them with a mask.

Yellow are the pumpkins; Thanksgiving is coming soon. Just think of the turkey And the good old pumpkin pie!
MAE OWEN, 7th Grade.

The Elementary School Library

There are about six hundred and twenty-five books in the elementary library. Each grade has a certain period each week to go to the library each week and get books to read. When a book is borrowed from the library it must be handled with care, and returned in a week. The fee of one cent a day is charged when a book is kept over the allotted time. Miss Cleo Jamison is the librarian.
JULIA JORDAN, 6th Grade

Early Days of Threshing

Long ago the grain was rubbed out by hand. After a time, sticks were used to beat out the grain. Later, the wheat was spread on the barn floor and the grain was tramped out by mules or cattle. The chaff was blown out afterwards.
WILEY GALLOWAY, 6th Grade

Our First Thanksgiving Day

Our first Thanksgiving day was celebrated in America by the Plymouth colony. William Bradford was the first man to set a day for which to offer thanks to God. Thus began the custom of setting aside one day of the year as Thanksgiving day—a custom that is now followed all over the country. This day is always the last Thursday in November.
RUBY GLAZENER, 5th Grade

How I Saved a Bird's Life

One day last winter while I was out on the porch, I saw a little Robin lying on its back in the snow. I took it in the house and got some warm milk to feed it. After it had eaten all it wanted, I put it in a basket behind the stove to get warm. The next week I let it go, and every day that winter it came back to get some crumbs to eat.
FRANCES WILKERSON, 4th Grade

Pilgrims Going To Church

We have a picture in our room of some Pilgrims going to church. Some men are in front and some behind to protect the party from Indians. The Pilgrims are going to church to give thanks to God for the day, for rest, for food, care, light and strength.
EARL POWELL, 4th Grade

Our Program

The third grade had a program Friday morning. We had Indians, Pilgrims, turkeys, goblins and all sorts of things. The play was called a "Thanksgiving Dream." The goblins were dressed in white sheets. Many people said that our program was good.
GLADYS CLARK, 3rd Grade.

Thanksgiving

The first Thanksgiving was long, long ago, when there were only Pilgrims and Indians. One day a Pilgrim Father said, "Let us have a day of Thanksgiving and call all our Indian friends and thank God for what He has given us."

Goldfish

I am sad because one of our little goldfish died.

W. M. S. MEETING

The Mt. Moriah, Calvert, W. M. S. held its regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Judd Platt on Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 17th, at 2:30 o'clock. The program was on the topic, "The Crucible of World Destiny," and was well carried out by the ladies present. It was decided to send a Thanksgiving offering to the Orphanage from the society. Two new members, Mrs. Isaac Freeman and Mrs. Homer Israel, were received into the society. The December meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. T. P. Galloway, Jr.

Boy—No, mister, I don't want to sell this trout.

Angler—Well, just let me measure him so that I can truthfully tell the gang in the city how big the trout was that got away from me.

"I spent the week end at somebody's country home. I think the name was 'Statler'."

"Are you sure?"
"Well—that was the name on the towels!"—Foreign Service, V. F. W.
