The name of this play is "Aunt Maria's Visit".

All visitors are welcome.

MARGARET GLAZENER, 7th grade

GLEE CLUB PRACTICES NEW SONGS

The Elementary Glee Club is practicing three new songs for chapel. Miss Jamison is teaching us "The Song of Courage", "Just Singing Along", and "See the Harvest Moon is Shining." The Glee Club meets every Tuesday morning and practices for thirty minutes. When we learn our songs well enough we are going to sing them in chapel.

INEZ OATES, 7th grade.

THE CENTRAL BULLETIN BOARD

The seventh grade has charge of the Central Bulletin Board this week. We have one set of nature pictures of fish, wild Turkeys, Crocodiles and Butterflies. The other set shows the arts of ancient Egypt. The pictures are all very interesting to look at and read about.

MARY MORGAN, 7th grade.

THE FLOWERS THAT I HAVE SEEN BLOOMING

I didn't think that flowers that bloom in summer bloomed in winter. This winter it has been so warm that some of the flowers have bloomed.

I have seen Hawthorns, Violets, Trailing Arbutus, and Dandelions blooming.

I have also seen redbirds, bluebirds, blackbirds, and other kinds of birds. I was amazed when I saw them.

TOXAWAY FALLS

About ten miles above my home on the highway any one motoring along sees the falls of Mt. Toxaway. Day by day as the water plunges over the precipice; the sun's rays reflecting in the sparkling waters, are more beautiful than diamonds.

Any artist would call this an ideal scene for painting.

RUSSELL DUNCAN, 7th grade.

ROSMAN HAS A MILD WINTER

The weather this winter is warmer than the oldest inhabitants have ever known before. We have had a few cold days but no snow. It is warm as summer now. The flowers are blooming and budding outside, and it is nearly warm enough to go in swimming. We are all getting a summer feeling.

D. S. WINCHESTER, 7th grade.

JAPANESE

The Japanese belong to the yellow race. They are small people but active and brave. They love their country and they love beautiful things. They make fancy glass ware, carved woodwork, and silks. Many of these articles are so beautiful and so well made that they are sold for large sums of money.

D. H. WINCHESTER, Jr., 4th grade.

Whitmire and Ed Harbin were Asheville visitors, Friday.

Lon Chapman was a Brevard visitor Monday.

EDITORIAL

Now is the time to begin watching for spring birds and to observe other life in the fields and woods. Here are some books you will find helpful:

Chapman's Bird Neighbors, Bradford's Torrey, Everyday Birds, Moths and Butterflies, How to Know Wild Flowers.

You will not only find these books very interesting, but you will also find them helpful in learning about fields woods and birds.

LOIS WHITMIRE, 7th grade.

THE FROST

The frost comes down in the stillness of the night. In the fall it kills the beans and many plants. On cold, crisp mornings, before the sun rises it covers everything in a coat of white.

ALFRED GILLESPIE, 6th grade.

A TRIP

Last summer I went to the State Fish Hatchery at Balsam, N. C. It was very interesting. I saw not only fish, but many other creatures. To me, the most interesting of them was a monkey. A man gave him a cigarette and he unwrapped the paper and chewed the tobacco. I gave him some Chinquapins and watched him eat them.

EARL DUNCAN, 6th grade.

MY TRIP TO THE INDIAN FAIR

During the fall of 1931 I attended the fair given by the Cherokee Indians. While I was there I saw them play ball. This game is very different from our baseball. I saw many things which they had made with their hands. They had baked bread which they called Chestnut bread, and had wrapped it in green corn shucks.

A party of us spent the day and had lunch together. We bought several things such as rings, pins, and beads, which the Indians had made. It was a very interesting trip and I shall never forget it.

THOMAS GLAZENER, 6th grade.

WHY I WOULD LIKE TO VISIT JAPAN

I would like to visit Japan, because I could see another race of people. I have always wondered just how they would look if I could only see them with my own eyes. They wear so many strange clothes. At least, they would seem strange to me.

If I could go to Japan I would want to visit some of the people there to see how their houses are furnished and what they eat.

BILLIE OWEN, 5th grade.

ESKIMOS

In the far and frozen north, where the snow lies deep
In their houses made of snow, little children sleep.
Fat and blubber do they eat
To give their body proper heat.
And their clothes from furs are made
From the Reindeer whose antlers frayed.

INEZ PANGLE, 5th grade.

WHAT I ENJOY MOST

I enjoy many things such as pretty clothes, a new car, picture shows, and playmates; but above all home. I enjoy home for different reasons. There's comfort, love, kindness, and tenderness in it, and it is a place where I feel protected from every thing that is harmful. I feel that there is always love there; and in health, sickness, or death love is what we need most, and we should always find it in our homes.

RUBY GLAZENER, 5th grade.

CHERRYFIELD FARM

Last year we made a trip to Cherryfield Farm, where game and fish are kept. The road to the farm is very narrow and steep in some places, and we had to go slow.

When we arrived, we saw the wire pen where the English pheasants were kept. There were about 25 of them. They were very brightly colored. They also had some tiny ones just hatched out, that looked like little partridges. They ate chopped corn, cabbage, and lettuce.

After we had looked over the pheasant yard, we went to the fish ponds where there were about 1500 fish of different sizes. They certainly were beautiful, darting to and fro in the water, the rainbows on their sides shining in the sun. The edges of the pools were set with flowers and ferns. Seats of stone were placed so one could sit and watch the fish.

LUCILLE GALLOWAY, 5th grade.

MY BANTAM HEN

When I was four years old a little girl next door was moving away and gave me a speckled bantam hen. Year after year she has raised brood after brood of Rhode Island chickens for me. I have twenty-three red pullets that Banty raised last season. Once when one of my aunt's hens quit her nest, as some turkey eggs were hatching, Banty finished hatching and raised ten turkeys. She stayed with the turkeys until they were much larger than she.

FRANCES BERT WILKERSON, 4th grade.

ATTENDANCE RECORD

The boys and girls in our room are trying to see who can have the best attendance this month. The girls have beat so far. The boys have four more absences than we do. I hope that we can beat them this month and the rest of the year too. At least we're going to try.

WILDO REECE, 4th grade.

OUR NEW BRIDGE

The State is having a new bridge built in the upper part of our town. It will be finished in a few days.

The people, especially the school children, will be happy when it is finished. We have had to walk almost twice as far to school since the old bridge was torn away and the new one started.

We had to start to school very early to get there on time. We do not like to cross the railroad bridge and will be very glad when the new bridge is completed.

DONA MAE SMITH, 3rd grade.

CHILDREN OF OTHER LANDS

We have been studying about the children of other lands. We have learned something about Japanese, Chinese, Dutch, Indian and Eskimo children.

For our language lesson we pretended we were children from another land writing to some one in our room. Here is one of the letters. It was written by Gladys Clark:

Eskimo Land,
Jan. 21, 1932.

Dear Mae,

I am an Eskimo. I live in the far north. My name is Monnie. I have a brother whose name is Menie. We are twins.

Do you know what kind of food we eat? I will tell you. We eat dried fish, seal, deer, bear, and other meats.

We wear clothes made from animal skins. Our summer homes or tents, are made of skins, too. In the winter our homes are made of blocks of ice.

We have two little dogs. Their names are Nip and Tuck. They are our playmates. Koko is our playmate, too. He is a little boy. He is six years old.

One day Koko and Menie went hunting. Koko saw some birds and started following them. He left Menie looking for seals. Menie got caught on an ice raft, but father saved him. Won't you come to visit me?

With love,
MONNIE
LORA McCALL, 3rd grade.

GEORGE WASHINGTON

We are making a pretty border for February. It tells us about George Washington.

FIRST GRADE

BULLFROGS

There is a small pond at my home. It has many frogs in it. We caught them in the swamp and put them in the pond. When the frogs are grown we eat them. I like to gig for frogs. Sometimes we go gigging in the day time, sometimes at night.

JOE BURT, 3rd grade.

Wrigley Fortune to Family

A fortune of $40,000,000 or more was bequeathed to the family of William Wrigley, Jr., chewing gum king who died January 26. The will was probated on Friday.

Pisgah Forest News

At a recent meeting held in the Baptist church a B. Y. P. U. was organized, with the following elected at officers: Mrs. Charlie Roller, President; Miss Florine Carter, Vice-president; Dorothy Souther, Secretary; Henry Mackey, Treasurer; Mrs. Frances Allen, Corine Sentell, Frank Allen and McKinley Ross, Group Leaders. The organization has prospects for a splendid union with the hearty cooperation and support the members are showing.

Mr. Fred Spain, of Mills River, was a Sunday guest of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sexton.

J. W., the small son of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Grey, is on the sick list. Mrs. J. H. Wolf and son, Howard, made a recent business trip to Asheville.

Mr. Larry Simpson, of Greenville, S. C., spent Sunday with Miss Lola Hollingsworth.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Butler and children, of Mills River, spent Sunday with Mrs. James Carter and family.

We are glad to see Kenneth Sentell out again after being seriously ill for several weeks.

Several people from this section attended the singing at Brevard Sunday.

Mr. Bomberger has returned to this section after an absence of a month.

Funeral services for Al Poor, aged 38, of Davidson River, was conducted at the local Davidson River Presbyterian church Sunday afternoon and surrounded by friends and relatives the body was laid to rest in the Davidson River cemetery.

Mr. Mitch Stepp, of South Carolina, was a recent guest here.

Mr. Fred Allen has returned to his home in Swananoa after spending several weeks with his brothers, Frank and Frances and their families.

Cornelius Rhodes was a business caller of Lambert Bagwell in Brevard Monday.

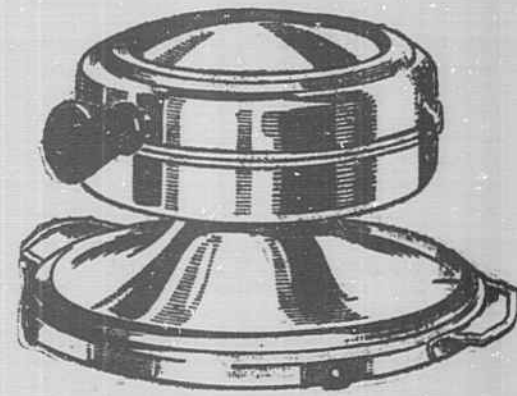

Pickens Boggs, of Turkey Creek, was a caller in this section Sunday. Sunday Hedrick and Roy Carter spent Sunday afternoon with Merrill Capps, at his home near Turkey Creek.
