MISS FLOYD SPEAKS AT SARAH TAYLOR CIRCLE

The Sarah Taylor Circle met at the Brevard Methodist church Monday afternoon in the church parlor with Miss Nell Miller recently elected president.

Following the reports of the active club committee and routine business transactions, Miss Floyd, Bible instructor at Brevard Institute, made an inspiring talk to the girls on the development and progress of Christian education in foreign lands.

Miss Floyd spoke of the different ways in which the missionaries went about their work of converting the foreigners, asserting that their old methods were to change habits and customs as well as leading them to Jesus Christ. The new methods are solely working to lead them to Jesus Christ and adopting the work to the foreign methods. An improvement has already been noticed since the new methods were put into effect, Miss Floyd believes.

METHODIST WOMAN'S MISSIONARY MET THURSDAY

The Woman Missionary Society met at the Methodist church ladies parlor Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. O. H. Orr led the devotional exercises after which Mrs. J. B. Bickelstein, program leader, introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Mrs. L. E. Brown, dean of girls at the Brevard Institute. Miss Brown, who is conference Superintendent of Christian Social Service Relations, spoke to the ladies on the work which the Social Service Relations program is doing.

Mrs. Brown outlined the plans of the club for the ensuing year and spoke of many interesting facts vital to the progress of the Society.

Thursday March 3 was set as the date for the zone meeting of Zone No. 2 which includes all the missionary societies in Transylvania, Henderson and Polk counties. This meeting will be held at the Brevard Methodist church on that date.

HOMEMAKERS CLASS TO MEET WITH MRS. RADFORD

The Home Makers class of the Brevard Baptist church will meet with Mrs. Sam Radford Tuesday afternoon, February 16, at 3:30 o'clock.

MUSIC LOVERS MEET AT BREVARD INSTITUTE

The Music Lovers Club met Monday evening with Miss Long and Miss Merritt at the Brevard Institute.

After the usual business session, a most enjoyable program featuring Puccini's opera "Madame Butterfly" was presented by Mrs. T. H. Hampton and Mrs. E. Loftis. The story of the opera was told, interspersed with two of its best known arias, "Oh Kind Heaven," played on the violata, and "One Fine Day," most beautifully sung by Mrs. A. H. Kizer. At the close of the program the joint hostesses, assisted by some of the Institute students, served delicious refreshments, charmingly carrying out the spirit of George Washington's birthday.

MRS. BEAN HOSTESS TO EPISCOPAL GUILD

The Episcopal Guild and Auxiliary met at the home of Mrs. A. E. Bean, recently elected president of the Guild, Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. W. W. Woodley, Jr., Mrs. J. S. Silversteen and Mrs. E. W. Bean were chosen delegates to the State meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary, to be held in Tryon, Wednesday, February 17.

Mrs. David Ward had charge of the program, and used as her topic, "Missions," mission work being one of the most important phases of the Auxiliary.

At the conclusion of the Auxiliary meeting, a business session of the Guild was held, after which the hostess served delightful refreshments.

ORDER OF EASTERN STAR HOLDS FOOD SALE

The Order of Eastern Star held a food sale at the Central Market Saturday, February 6. The sale opened at 10 o'clock in the morning and closed at six in the afternoon. The ladies were well pleased with the sale, saying that they received a very substantial amount of proceeds.

They wish to thank all who cooperated with them for their courtesy and business.

JOINT HOSTESSES ENTERTAIN DAUGHTERS OF WESLEY

Mrs. R. L. Nicholson, Mrs. Santa Nicholson and Mrs. J. E. Waters were hostesses to the regular monthly meeting of the Daughters of Wesley at the First Baptist church, Tuesday evening, February 8.

A complete menu of Mrs. R. L. Nicholson's cooking was served to the three guests, including Miss Rubenia Nicholson, Miss Bertie Ballard.

The transaction of regular business was enjoyed and the hostess served delightful refreshments.

FRENCH CLASS ENJOYS LUNCHEON

Miss Juanita Puett and her class of second year French students truly believe that "Variety is the spice of life" and that pickles, olives and other dainty foods are the "spice" of a French luncheon. Tuesday at the regular noon hour, these students assembled in the Home Economics Department and there prepared and served a most delicious spread of good things to eat which were brought from the homes of the pupils.

They ask what does this lunch have to do with French lessons? In order to eat, one must ask for what he wants to eat and in this case the dinner had to ask for the desired food in French. So the French phrases were learned and used fluently during the time these foods were being devoured. "Voulez-vous", "Merci", and "au revoir" filled the room as the hostess, Louise Gillespie, and the host, Harry Picklesimer, presided over the table, and easily supplied every demand of their guests, who declared that they not only enjoyed this luncheon, but that it must be done again.

DAUGHTERS OF AMERICAN REVOLUTION MEET WITH MRS. L. E. BROWN

The Daughters of the American Revolution met with Mrs. L. E. Brown at the Brevard Institute, Monday afternoon. Ten members of the organization were present with several guests, Mrs. R. L. Alexander, Mrs. O. H. Orr and the Brevard Institute faculty.

Mrs. J. S. Silversteen, regent of the local chapter, presided over the afternoon session.

Mrs. Laura Miller, chaplain, read one of George Washington's prayers as the opening devotional exercise.

Mrs. Silversteen reported that Miss Dot Silversteen, chairman of Ellis Island, had donated a box of materials for the immigrants to work with and had forwarded it to them in the name of the local chapter.

Miss Annie Gash, historian of the chapter, reported that at the request of the State Historian for important dates in the early 19th century and the latter part of the 18th century she had sent her dates taken from Mackie's bible and from old tombstones in the Davidson River cemetery. From tombstones of such men and women as Katie Moore, Lambert Clayton, J. Clayton, and Josephine Patton.

Plans were perfected for the organization of a chapter of the Children of the American Revolution. Mrs. Ralph Osborne was chosen to lead the new organization with Miss Dorothy Silversteen as co-leader.

Plans for the George Washington bi-centennial program, which will be held February 22, were completed. Mrs. Mac Allison was made chairman of the program committee, with Mrs. E. W. Blythe as assistant.

Decorating committee with Miss Annie Gash, chairman and Mrs. Silversteen and Mrs. L. E. Brown, assistants. Publicity committee, Mrs. Ralph Ramsey, chairman, Mrs. Laura Miller and Miss Florence Kern, assistants.

The meeting was the first of a series of George Washington programs which will be held throughout the year. Mrs. Allison and Mrs. Miller sang "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia."

Mrs. E. W. Blythe gave a short talk on the religious life of George Washington. She read a prayer written by Washington when in his early teens. She also told interesting facts of George Washington's early life and how he had gone 20 miles each Sabbath in order to attend church.

March meeting of the organization will be held with Mrs. E. W. Blythe.

LIVINGSTONE CIRCLE MEETS WITH MRS. W. S. PRICE

The Livingstone Circle of the Brevard Baptist church met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. W. S. Price. Nine members of the circle were present.

Mrs. J. A. Bishop, chairman of the circle presided and Miss Louise Ashworth led the devotional exercises.

Many subjects of interest to the society were discussed and plans made for the year's work.

MISS WATERS HOSTESS AT BRIDGE PARTY

Miss Ruth Waters was hostess Saturday afternoon at an enjoyable bridge party at her home on Park Avenue, honoring Miss Cleo Jamison of Spartanburg, South Carolina, her week-end guest.

Two tables were arranged for play with the following invited guests: Miss Annie Yongue, Miss Nancy Macfie, Miss Elizabeth Shipman, Miss Rowena Orr, Miss Rose Schachner, Miss Agnes Clayton, Miss Reba Kitchen, Miss Mary Osborne Wilkins, and Miss Jamison.

At the conclusion of the game a delightful salad course was served, with hot coffee and whipped cream. Miss Waters was assisted in entertaining by her sister, Miss Willie Kate Waters.

BREVARD CHURCH WOMEN TO MEET FRIDAY AFTERNOON

All the women of the four Brevard churches will meet Friday afternoon for their annual union meeting at the Presbyterian church.

The program deals with World Prayer and is being arranged this week, with ladies from each church taking part.

MINING EXPERT IN BREVARD TALKS OF MINERAL DEPOSITS

said, if the people would not go wild when gold is mentioned. He stated that prior to the California gold rush that practically all the gold used in the United States was mined in North Carolina, most of it coming from Western North Carolina. "There is gold in practically every rock one picks up in this section," he said, "and certainly gold can be panned in every stream that rushes down these mountainsides. It is not in great quantities, but if worked like men farm, or carry on ordinary business, almost any man can make a good living here in digging or panning for gold."

The prospector, in speaking of the state of mind of the man who thinks he has found gold, said it had instantaneous effect on the one finding it. Immediately one sees a million dollars, a mansion, a Packard car and a trip to Europe. Mr. Bible suggests that men who have reason to believe that gold exists on their property would do well to go about the matter in business-like manner, expecting fair returns on labor and equipment expense, but urges all people to get the million dollar idea out of their minds. Some citizens here have asked Mr. Bible to return to the county and investigate their properties for them.

Many people throughout the country have been in this section during the past weeks, investigating minerals, and ores, and it is reported that some fairly large properties have been leased, or mineral rights obtained. An unusually large number of people have written to people in Brevard about the mineral question.

B. L. Laird, writing from Milwaukee to H. G. Love, at Hendersonville, expressed intention of bringing a group of western mining men to this section at an early date. Mr. Laird and associates almost obtained the Bolyston mine, having examined the properties and made offer on same, but the owners accepted the offer made by the Southern Exploration company just a day or two before the Laird party returned to Hendersonville to close the deal. One statement in the letter from Mr. Laird reads: "I am very happy to know that they are finding some fine values on the Bolyston property, and I wish that you and I were operating there today." Mr. Laird is well known in Brevard, being the father of Mrs. Goode Loftis. Mr. Love, who handled the Bolyston deal, is receiving letters daily from all sections of the country containing inquiries about the minerals of Western North Carolina.

a musical program. If there had been any doubt in the minds of the audience as to the musical ability of Mr. Moore, it was far removed after he gave this recital which consisted of both classical and popular selections. These, and some of his own compositions were played on three instruments, the trombone, clarinet, and piano, much to the delight of his listeners. He proved himself to be very accomplished in playing each of these instruments. The entire student body is looking forward to another recital by this talented and accomplished musician.

U. D. C. IN REGULAR MEETING

The United Daughters of the Confederacy met Saturday afternoon at the U. D. C. Library for their regular monthly meeting. In the absence of the president, Mrs. O. L. Erwin, vice president, presided over the meeting.

Twelve members were present and one new member was accepted into full fellowship of the organization, Miss Parker.

Miss Sherrill Bromfield read a list of prizes, which are to be given to winners in certain contests, sponsored by the U. D. C.

CHARLES S. DUNN GIVEN PROMOTION

Charles S. Dunn, who was District Ranger of the Pisgah National Forest for years, has been appointed Assistant Chief Ranger of the Great Smoky National Park.

Dunn was born in Townsend, Tennessee and following his work in the Pisgah Forest he became associated with the National Forestry Service and the National Park service in North Carolina.

During the four years he was Ranger of the Pisgah National Forest, Mr. Dunn made his headquarters at Pisgah Forest and he was widely known and admired here for his splendid forestry work. He was succeeded by Ranger Duncan who is also making an enviable record with the work.

Dunn succeeds Phillip R. Hough, who has been made superintendent of Washington's birthplace, a national monument of Wakefield.

PENROSE CITIZEN SUGGESTS PLAN TO REDEEM BONDS DUE

boys and girls to college when the taxes are reduced to around seventy-five cents. We have made these outrageous debts with the thought that our children would have to pay them, but the good Lord let us live to reach the agonizing point when "pay day has come." We have now a golden opportunity to pay off these debts for our own and our children's sake, and why not do it?

You must understand, Mr. Editor and Readers, that this reflection is not intended to cast any reflection on a single county officer that is now in charge, because I like every one of them and they are in this agonizing state of how to raise tax money just the same as you and I, and I am for them on this plan of raising the money and paying the bonds.

Is there anything wrong with the above proposition? "I say no," and the reason I say no is this: thirty-three and one-third of even twenty-five dollars on the hundred for these bonds is sufficient; if we take them up dollar for dollar, we are paying around three thousand dollars or equal to that when we pay a thousand dollars with corn at thirty cents a bushel, chickens at ten cents per pound and other things in proportion, and you can sell none at that price.

Now, folks, what do you say? Come on and open up; where is our pep? Where are the good old rally days we once had when we wanted to vote a bond issue? We called everybody in; we buttonholed them; we plead with them; we selected our man who was "agin it," and we stayed with him until we converted him, and we put it across. Now, why can't we do the same thing now? Opportunity is here, knocking at the door; we did not answer, and I'll be darned if he hasn't come right on in, bless your heart, and still we stand paralyzed, some struck dumb, some under the floor, some with glue on the seat of their pants, and some dead.

Do you get me, folks? Come on and open up. It can be done, and it is in the power of the people to have it done. Would like to have some suggestions, or will you sit by and let this run on until good times come rocking back and we will have around $1 per $100 too much taxes stuck on to us and our children and their children, forever and forever. Get your thinker to working, get out your pencil and write it down; go to The Brevard News with it and let the world know what you think.

Don't let someone bluff you, but right now under the present conditions the bonds for this town and county can be bought right, and I mean right, and our taxes will be cut in half. Can you imagine it? Brother, sister, get on your toes, look up, and shout to the world that we are going over the top in this matter.
