HINTON M'LEOD IS MAKING HIGH MARKS

Hinton McLeod, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hinton McLeod, who is attending the University of South Carolina at Columbia, is making an excellent record there. For the first semester of the current school year Hinton made "A" on the English course, this being his favorite study. His other grades for the semester were also of outstanding quality.

Hinton's college grades are tallying closely with the fine ones he made in high school here, it being very unusual to find a student making better grades in college than he did in high school. Students who do not excel the grade "D" in high school are not considered college caliber.
