THE PRAYER CORNER

(From The Files of Long Ago)

ABOUT WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY

"And to let the oppressed be free"—Isaiah 58:6.

A writer whom I admire greatly, says, "It is now the fashion among writers who would rather be original than tell the truth, to say that Washington was not a real American, but a transplanted Britisher."

I doubt if he looked so at Trenton, or Princeton, or Monmouth, or Yorktown.

What is REAL Americanism and where does it reside?

Not on the tongue, nor in the costume, nor among the transient social forms, refined or rough, which mottle the surface of life.

The log cabin has no monopoly on it, nor is it a fixture of the stately mansion. Its home is not on the frontier nor in the crowded city.

Its dwelling is in the heart.

It speaks a score of dialects but one language and this is what is said:

"God has given to man the inalienable rights of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness." The best government is that which best protects these rights, and restrains people from trampling on one another.

The best way to serve such a government is to trust the common sense of the people to choose wise and honest leaders and governors.

The right to save is equivalent to the right to earn, and the end of freedom is fair play to all. It is the duty of the United States as a new republic, first to grow strong and firm; next to us that strength for the benefit of mankind, and all the time to set an example of justice, benevolence and fair dealing of all nations.

Religion and morality are the foremost supporters of national peace and welfare. That is REAL Americanism. That is the faith which Washington proved by his lofty and victorious life.

A PRAYER FOR WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY

Father of Life, we thank Thee that Thou hast been with the Fathers; that Thou hast been with him whose birth we celebrate next week.

Thou wert willing to speak to them and they were willing to hear Thee, and answer Thee "Lo, here am I, send me." We thank Thee that the memory of this great man has come down to us, of him, who was first in war, first in peace and first in the hearts of his fellow citizens, and we ask Thee wilt teach us Thy law that we may walk in Thy ways, that this may be the happy nation whose God is the Lord.

In all time of our trial, if we have sought Thee we have found Thee—in all time of our success Thou hast won for us victories—Thou hast been with our counsellors, Father, today, tomorrow, and in days to come, in our memories and in our hopes, be with us still. Our Father, Who Art in Heaven. And this we ask for Jesus sake, our Lord and Savior, Amen. C. D. C.

A FAMILY OF ROBINS

Mother Robin's nest was in the apple tree. There were three eggs in the nest. The eggs were blue. The blue eggs hatched out three little robins. They were ugly little things.

Father and Mother Robin were kept very busy.

EDNA ALLISON, 2nd grade.

MY CAT

I have a small cat which stays at the barn. When I go to milk it comes and holds up one little paw asking for milk. He stands and opens his mouth and I milk a stream into it. I enjoy feeding my cat.

VALENTINES

Valentine Day is on Sunday, February 14. I will be happy when Valentine Day is here.

I like to cut and make pretty valentines. We have drawing lesson at school. Then we all make valentines. I like to get pretty Valentines, too.

ELBERT CHAPMAN, 3rd grade.

THE OSTRICH

The ostrich is a native of Africa. They are very large, some of them weighing nearly three hundred pounds. They are six to eight feet high and their legs are so strong that one kick can kill a man. They have queer looking feet, with only two toes on each foot. They take such long steps that they can run as fast as a railway train.

The ostrich egg is equal to twenty-five hen eggs and weighs from two to three pounds. The ostrich hen makes her nest in the sand. Several of the ostrich hens lay in the same nest. It takes six weeks to hatch these eggs and the work of sitting is divided between the ones who have laid the eggs, each taking her turn.

EVA ISRAEL, 4th grade.

GEORGE WASHINGTON

One day Washington's father bought him a little hatchet. He was very anxious to cut some with his hatchet, so he went down to his father's cherry tree and cut it down. When his father saw that his cherry tree had been cut down he asked George who did it. George said that he did it and that he was only trying out his new hatchet. His father did not punish him for he told the truth. How good it would be if we were all like George Washington.

DAVID YATES, 4th grade.

FEBRUARY

February is here at last. Most of the winter has already past. The winds are blowing stronger, and the days are growing longer.

Old Winter is dying, and the trees are all sighing—For Spring to be on her way, With birds and butterflies gay.

Valentine Day is nearly here, Bringing happiness, joy, and cheer, As we give valentines to our friends so dear.

Hon. Josephus Daniels, editor of The Raleigh News and Observer, wrote the following to J. M. Harris, principal of Rosenwald School:

Rosenwald Day will be held on Friday, March 14.

Books! Books! Read good books. The Afro-American, published at Baltimore, Md., is the largest and best Negro newspaper published in the U. S. READ.

and "See The Harvest Moon is Shining." As soon as we learn them well we are going to sing them in chapel. BLANCH PETIT, 5th grade.

THE FIRE

On Saturday night of last week, mamma told my sister, brother and me that we might go over and watch Mr. Whitmire burn off his pasture. We all helped him set the fire and soon it was burning brightly. All too soon, as with many good times, it was time to go home but we had a very nice time.

CAROLYN GARREN, 6th grade.

THE FARMER AND THE RABBIT

One day, a big, bold rabbit stepped over into a farmer's garden to get some cabbage for dinner. He didn't know that the farmer had set a trap specially to catch him, so he stepped right square into it. Soon the farmer came out and got him and ate him for dinner, and that was the last of the rabbit. Something like this is liable to happen to anybody who takes someone else's things without permission.

BALDNESS

And The Four Principal Dangers

- (1) Alopecia—Natural or abnormal hair deficiency.
- (2) Alopecia Areata—Baldness in circular patches.
- (3) Alopecia Decalvans—Complete baldness.
- (4) Area Celci Alopecia Areata—A form of baldness leaving only a corona of hair.

Do not let any of the four principal dangers take place. If you have Hair and Scalp trouble start using at once "Spain's Best 20th" Radis-Capillus. So many persons either partially or entirely bald in these days of knowledge must arise from indifference or ignorance as to the progress recently made by science in this direction. Personal appearance is not a subject about which people should be indifferent, as we are judged, rightly or wrongly, by externals, judging thereby our worldly prospects.

"Spain's Best 20th" Radis-Capillus is a new preparation, not a hair tonic—a hair grower, an elixir for hair, the result of years of scientific research and laboratory work by the world's best known hair anatomist, Prof. J. E. Medrella. Price, $5.00 per jar, with full instructions. Can be used as easy as cleaning teeth.
