HISTORY IV TERM PAPER

Now is the time for all great men and women to come to the aid of the country—such is the philosophy of Miss Bromfield. Governed by this theory, she has inflicted upon us the task of composing a term paper. As is must be done just so, with footnotes, references, etc., this is quite a task. In any event, we have the satisfaction of knowing that we must do or die, for we cannot graduate without completing this worthy manuscript.

All students are advised to attend chapel next Thursday for a very special reason. It is rumored that the Sophomore class will honor us with a dramatic presentation entitled "The Dramatic Presentation of the Season Flipper's Pullets." As we have not yet had the pleasure this year of being entertained by this class we are eagerly anticipating this important event.

THE WOES OF ENGLISH IV

All sympathy will be appreciated by the Seniors in Miss Copp's English class. "Brothers (and sisters too), you don't know the half of it!" Everyone is so interested in English this year that they even study all lunch period and an hour after school—not mentioning the after supper social hour of pursuing Shakespeare,

SELICA NEWS ITEMS

Many of our farmers are doing their plowing during the days of sunshine we have had lately. It matters not how cheap corn and potatoes may be the old woman and kids, also Bill and Beck must have their share. Our folks received a real scare Monday when a dog supposed to be mad passed through the settlement but was killed by Glenn Currie.

Uncle Lem Brooks is still very sick at his home here. Arthur Orr is on the sick list at this writing. Coy Hogged was a visitor with us recently.

Uncle Butler Brown was a visitor in our section recently.

We are glad to announce that the Dicksons are Selica residents instead of Calvert as was stated in the paper last week and we are proud of them for many reasons. J. Wade Dickson, the father, is one of the ablest Sunday school and church men in our community and those missing his Chaucer, or what have you through battles, love affairs, and other escapades. Still, Miss Copp isn't satisfied, so we proceed to take Shakespeare to bed. After spending half the night in study or meditation and the rest in reminiscing, we limp to school with Chaucer and his colleagues under our arms.

THURSDAY CHAPEL PROGRAM

Thursday, February 25, Sandy McLeod read his essay on the life of George Washington, which was printed in the newspaper. This article, while very instructive, was written in such an intriguing style that is proved vastly interesting to all its hearers.

"Study"

Study, study, what can be the use? The more you study, the more you learn; The more you learn, the more you forget; The more you forget, the less you know; So why study?

SPRING FEVER

It is a very funny thing to me that a teacher never gets "spring fever." When we pupils are reminiscing over the swimming hole or idly jerking a nice fat trout out of a cool brooklet, we and our air castles are abruptly torn asunder by an accusing gaze cast in our direction by an irate teacher. For a few moments our minds dexteriously grapple with the profound material set before us by our superiors. Then, with a serene, lethargic gaze we sink into peaceful oblivion—lost in a world of our own making.

LIMESTONE COLLEGE

Dr. Marguerite Tyler, professor of Chemistry and Physics, at Limestone College, addressed the Senior girls of Brevard High school Tuesday afternoon in the French room. Dr. Tyler discussed the suitability of Limestone College as a desirable choice for the girl who intends to go to college. Due to a capable faculty, adequate equipment, and an excellent student body, Dr. Tyler deems Limestone a truly desirable college. She incessantly urged that we realize the fact that only one girl in the United States out of every hundred has the opportunity; hence, the necessity of choosing a college that will give most lasting benefits to the student.
