WETS FLOODING AWAY AS DESTRUCTIVE LEGISLATION.

Friends and advocates of the 18th amendment would do well to drop a line or two to their congressman at once, urging them to vote against a measure that is coming up in Congress on the 14th of this month.

It has not been but a few years since this question was decisively settled at the ballot box, bringing national prohibition into force and effect only twelve years ago.

Drop a line to your congressman and encourage him in voting against any tampering with the 18th amendment.

FINE WORD COMES FROM WESTERN CAROLINA TOWNS.

Reading of exchanges coming to our desk from many towns in Western North Carolina bring cheerful news, indeed. Over at Sylva the bugle sounded and word comes forth that "business hums" these days.

Down Morganton way one hears the justifiable boast that that city is among those at the top of the list, being given that place by at least three state and federal agencies.

W. C. Russ, editor of The Waynesville Mountaineer, never tires of talking of ever increasing activities in Haywood county, where farming and dairying, fruit growing and the cattle business give constant income to the farming life.

WATAUGA FOLKS PLANNING WELL FOR THE FUTURE.

Word comes from Boone that the citizens of Watauga county are planning well for the future of that enterprising section. No; we do not mean that any new industries are being planned, nor is there a campaign on to raise money to pay some industrial concern to locate in that county.

Like all Western North Carolina counties, Watauga is covered with dashing mountain streams, towering peaks and peaceful valleys snuggling between the high hills.

GOVERNOR ASKS ALL TO ASSIST IN UNEMPLOYMENT

Raleigh, March 9.—Governor Gardner issued a proclamation calling upon the people of the State to join in the movement inaugurated by the American Legion and other organizations seeking to find employment for as many of the unemployed in their respective communities as possible as an aid to the unemployment condition.

manner more rapid and much more easily than depending upon markets for dividends or peddling produce in South Carolina cities.

The remarkable thing about the whole business is the statement of Mr. Farthing that all the citizens of that county are showing an anxious willingness to keep insolvent every law governing fishing and hunting, to the end that the forest, field and stream may all the more readily ripen into a rich harvest for the people of Watauga county.

Maybe, someday away out yonder in the future, the citizens of other counties will follow suit, and Western North Carolina will become the center of attraction for some two million money-spending sportsmen in Eastern America.

THE RECONSTRUCTION FINANCE CORPORATION

Lexington (Ky.) Leader

Many persons seem to be somewhat obscure in their ideas about the Reconstruction Finance Corporation as established under the Walcott-Strong bill, finally agreed upon by the House and Senate conferees.

The new corporation, proposed by the President, and strongly endorsed by the best financial minds of the country, has its principal office in the District of Columbia but may establish agencies or branch offices in any city or cities under the rules and regulations laid down by the board of directors, of which Gen. Dawes is president and Mr. Eugene Meyer chairman of the board.

The corporation is to have an initial capital stock amounting to $500,000,000, furnished by the United States, and the money has already been appropriated for the purpose.

The sum of $50,000,000 is to be made available, together with additional sums secured by other obligations of the corporation, to the secretary of agriculture who is authorized to make loans to farmers, particularly those whose crops failed in 1931, taking liens upon crops growing or to be planted and grown, as security.

The board of directors is to consist of seven members, on which the secretary of the treasury, the governor of the federal reserve bank, and the farm loan commissioner shall serve, the other members to be appointed by the President, not more than four members to belong to one political party.

The members shall serve for two years, and shall be eligible for re-appointment. The corporation shall have a succession of ten years unless sooner dissolved.

To aid in financing agriculture, commerce, and industry, including the facilitating of the exportation of agricultural and other products, the corporation is empowered to make loans to banks, trust companies, building and loan associations, insurance companies, mortgage loan companies, credit unions, federal land banks, joint land banks, intermediate credit banks, agricultural credit corporations, and livestock credit corporations organized under the laws of any state or of the United States, including loans secured by the assets of any closed bank, or one in process of liquidation, for the purpose of aiding in the opening or the liquidation of such institutions, provided that not more than the sum of $200,000,000 shall be used for this purpose.

All loans must be made upon sufficient security, and the board is authorized to administer and liquidate any collateral accepted as security. No loans, however, are to be made upon foreign securities or acceptances, or for the purpose of liquidating or carrying such.

A loan may be made for a period of three years, and may be extended, but not for more than a total period of five years from the date of the original advance.

It is also provided that the corporation may make arrangements for the temporary financing of railroads, or lend to railroads in process of construction, and to receivers in charge of such railroads when it is impossible for them to obtain loans from banks or through the regular channels of credit, all loans to be adequately secured and made upon approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

These are the main provisions of the bill, which meets with the President's approval. The total capitalization of the corporation will be $2,000,000,000, debentures being issued for the purpose of procuring the additional $1,500,000,000 over and above the $500,000,000 to be advanced by the government. This will mean fresh credit resources to the amount of ten billions of dollars.

It is generally believed that, together with the other plan which the President has laid before Congress, the action taken will have a stimulating effect on business and tend strongly to restore confidence, the one element now needed most of all.

COX WILL NOT RUN FOR GOVERNOR

Raleigh, March 9.—Gen. A. L. Cox will not be a candidate for Governor. The former superior court judge and world war veteran decided last Saturday not to enter the already three-cornered contest.

Unless Solicitor Thomas A. McNeill, Lumberton, gets into the race, and it appears a toss up as to what the spectacular solicitor will do, the list for Democratic nominees for Governor may be considered closed, the three candidates being J. C. B. Ehringhaus, A. J. Maxwell, and R. T. Fountain. Josephus Daniels and Angus Dhu McLean have already decided not to enter. Willis Smith was ready to toss in his hat earlier in the week, but is not now expected to. He will make known his decision soon. The only likely entry is solicitor McNeill.

General Cox's decision is based on the belief that too many of his friends are already pledged to others. He was ready to enter the race last week in Winston-Salem, and told friends of his intention. Conferences with American Legion members there and with Democratic executive committee members here for the meeting March 1, probably had their effect on the plans of General Cox. His statement regarding the race follows: "I am deeply grateful to my many friends who have indicated to me their desire that I become a candidate for Governor of North Carolina. I have given the matter thorough and painstaking thought. Public service has ever been foremost in my mind. I find, however, that some of my friends, thinking that I would not be a candidate, have committed themselves to others. Cherishing their friendship more than I covet any office and being unwilling to cause them embarrassment, I shall not be a candidate for Governor.

"While I shall devote myself to the practice of my profession, I shall ever take the deepest interest in matters effecting the public weal. In the present campaign I shall, as I hope all North Carolinians will, make a thorough study of the platforms and principles of the candidates for Governor and support the candidate whom I believe will most patriotically serve the interests of all the people.

"I have always considered it a privilege to uphold the principles of the Democratic party, and shall continue to do so to the best of my ability."

THE PRAYER CORNER

(From the files of long ago)

CHRISTIANS

"In solemn truth, I tell you that unless you turn, and become like little children, you will in no case be admitted into the Kingdom of the Heavens."—Matthew 18:3 (Weymouth's Translation).

The Christian life is a life in Christ, lived in the faith of Christ. "Who loved me and gave Himself for me." That is its strength, inspiration and victory. It is a life also with great ambition "for me to live in Christ." To be all that the man Christ Jesus was. To bear branded upon my character the marks of His Holy life; to have ever in my heart this one passionate purpose—to win Christ. To know Him, to follow Him, to be like Him, and so be His disciple.

Christ uses a child as expressive of the true spirit of His Divine Kingdom. He is, of course, concerned with the characteristic features of the child life, simplicity, naturalness, humility. These things, as seen in a child are to be the outstanding features of the followers of Christ and to the glory of Christ.

John Wesley is said once in a dream to have found himself at the gate of the place of woe, through which multitudes were passing and he asked the porter who they were. Were there Catholics going in there? Plenty of them. Were there Presbyterians? Plenty of them. Were there Baptists? Plenty of them. Were there Wesleyans? Plenty of them. (I may add, were there Episcopalians? Plenty of them.) Then in his dream, he was suddenly at the gate of heaven and when he asked the porter earnestly, "Are there many Wesleyans inside?" "Not one."

"What are there many Baptists?" "Not one." "Who then, Presbyterians?" "Not one." "Catholics?" "Not one." (I may add, Episcopalians?) "Not one." "Then who are inside?" "Only Christians."

It is the childlike spirit which finds the open door. Childlikeness is the open sesame into glory after glory in the unsearchable riches of Christ. Childlikeness is the very key. It is the very secret of the Lord. Repeat the text.

A PRAYER FOR CHRISTIANS

O Thou Christ of God, who loved us and gave Thyself for us. Help us never to forget the solemn truth that unless we turn and become like little children, we will in no case be admitted into Thy Kingdom in Heaven. Grant us to have ever in our hearts the one passionate purpose to win Thee, to know Thee, to follow Thee, to be like Thee, and so by Thy disciples.

Give us grace to become like little children, having the child's humility, teachableness and artless sincerity, for they are to Thee the best symbols of the quality which is necessary for entrance into Thy Kingdom.

We would not grow away from the childlike spirit. Preserve in us the graces of trust and loveliness, and ceaseless wonder. Let us never lose the gift of joyful surprise. For it is the childlike spirit which finds the

LOOK FOR FUR TO FLY IN DEMOCRATIC RACE

Raleigh, March 9.—Meeting of the State Democratic Executive Committee in Raleigh last week was the spark needed to set off the political guns, which may now be expected to keep up a continuous popping through the first primary, June 4, and even a second primary, July 2.

The State Convention will be held in Raleigh June 16, at 11 A. M., preceded by district conventions the morning. The State Convention will draw the party platform and approve the delegates named to the National Democratic Convention to be held in Chicago June 27. The precinct caucuses will be held on primary day, June 4, at 8 P. M., followed by the county conventions a week later, June 11, at 2 P. M., at which delegates will be named to the State Convention.

This was the only official action taken by the executive committee with State Chairman Odus M. McPherson, presiding, but turning over the reins to Mrs. Thomas O'Berry, vice chairman. Senator Josiah W. Bailey enumerated briefly the national legislation enacted and under way, giving the Democrats full credit for the beneficial enactments. Raleigh easily won the convention from Charlotte.

As a side event, the State Board of Election will meet in Raleigh March 25 to name the county boards of election, two Democrats and one Republican members which are recommended by the county chairmen to the State chairman, who turn over the recommendations to the State election board.

While only a few other candidates are expected to come out for major State offices, a few other announcements may be expected. These and the activities of the candidates, and announcements of local candidates will keep the political pot in a state of boil for the next three months, or four.

Robert R. Reynolds, Frank D. Grist and Thomas C. Bowie have already started their bombardment to oust Senator Cameron Morrison from his seat. He is likely to get into action in the State in the next two or three weeks, and fur will fly. Three gubernatorial candidates, J. C. B. Ehringhaus, A. J. Maxwell, and R. T. Fountain, are already in action and promise interest in the issues, new issues, changing issues and collateral issues. And many local fights are in the offing.

open door. Childlikeness is the open sesame into glory after glory in Thy unsearchable riches. It is the magic key, the very secret of Thee, O Christ of God. In the spirit of childlikeness may we find the secret treasure of Thy grace, and so find an abundant entrance into the Kingdom of Heaven. Amen.
