EHRINGHAUS CLAIMS RUMORS ARE FALSE

Raleigh, Mar. 23—"Not that such slanders are worth notice, but simply because of interest in truth, I wish to drag out into the open and refer briefly to the whispered suggestion that I am backed by corporate interests, and nail it in the east, as I have in other sections of the State, in language which alone can dissolve it: It is an unmitigated and deliberate falsehood," said J. C. B. Ehringhaus, candidate for Governor, in an address at Snow Hill Saturday night.

"I am ready now to account and at all times during the campaign will be ready to give itemized statements of any contributions," continued Mr. Ehringhaus. "I have been financing this campaign just as I financed my prior campaign activities in behalf of the Democratic party and its candidates—out of my own pocket. My campaign will be conducted in the open sunlight."

Reference of Mr. Ehringhaus to financing previous campaigns was to his tour of the State in 1928 and again in 1930, in which he spoke daily, sometimes twice a day, for several months, for the party and the candidates, without receiving even a little part of his expenses.

OFFICERS OF EASTERN STAR A-E INSTALLED

Pisgah Chapter No. 198, O. E. S., met in special session on Thursday evening, March 17th, for the purpose of a public installation of officers. The district deputy grand matron, Mrs. Minnie K. Lewis, of Asheville, was the installing officer and was assisted by the following members of Esther Chapter No. 12, Asheville, Mrs. Ruth H. Morris, as marshal; Mrs. Mamie G. Howie, as organist; Mrs. Blanche K. Myers, as chaplain, and Mrs. Mary R. Marshall, as conductress.

The following officers were installed, Worthy Matron, Mrs. Ina Rustin; Worthy Patron, Henry Henderson; Associate Matron, Mrs. Annie Reid; Associate Patron, C. O. Robinson; Secretary, Mrs. Arabella Houston; Treasurer, Mrs. Lelia English; Conductress, Mrs. Ida Pruitt; Associate Conductress, Mrs. Agnes Pickelsimer; Chaplain, Miss Nell Miller; Marshal, Mrs. Maria Derby; Organist, Miss Reba Ashworth; Adah, Mrs. Jean Jenks; Ruth, Mrs. Blanche Sims; Esther, Miss Willie Aiken; Martha, Miss Catherine Moffit; Electa, Mrs. Mary Loftis, and Sentinel, S. F. Allison.

Mrs. Callie Robinson was appointed to fill the station of Warder but was absent on account of illness.

Mrs. Bessie Pickelsimer, retiring worthy matron, was presented with a past matron's pin, and a past patron's pin was presented to S. F. Allison, retiring worthy patron.

A pair of hand embroidered pillow cases was presented to Mrs. Lewis, and pink carnations of Mrs. Rustin were presented to Mrs. Rustin.

At the close of the meeting Mrs. Bessie Pickelsimer and Miss Willie Aiken sang "Star of the East." A large birthday cake, bearing three pink candles, was brought by Mrs. Ina Rustin, who gave a toast to the past matrons. Past matrons Houston and Pickelsimer stepped forward and lighter a candle, representing their year of service. One candle was left unlighted in memory of Mrs. Myrtle Underwood, the first matron of the chapter, who passed away just about a year ago.

The following original poem was read by Mrs. Agnes Pickelsimer:

We're three years old—just three short years ago
Pisgah Chapter was organized, and begun to grow;
And, looking backward to the time
When first I through yon portal came,
I see before me other faces,
Of those who then sat in these places.

Myrtle Underwood—Worthy Matron,
With Wallace Hartsell—Worthy Patron.
From the East the Chapter guided,
Full many a question they decided,
Edith Patton and Jerry Jerome in the West
Gave to the Chapter their very best.
Poly Jerome used the pen
To keep the Chapter's records then,
While Lelia English cross the way
Watched o'er its funds from day to day.
Arabella Houston walked us about,
With Bessie Pickelsimer to help her out.
Eva Nicholson was Chaplain then,
And often fills that chair again,
Mae Boyd held the Marshal's baton,
In days that now are past and gone,
Mary Loftis in the instrument,
Organist was, par excellent.
To the central Star I turn my gaze—
'Twas Nola Loftis wore the blue
Of Adah—loyal daughter true;
And Nell Aiken who portrayed Ruth
In that sweet tale of age and youth,
While Frances Plummer from Queen
Esther's seat
Told the story of her dangerous feat,
At Martha's point—the ray of green,
Ida Pruitt oft was seen,
And when I come to Electa's place,
I find Reba Ashworth's familiar face.
At the Warder's station I seem to see
Catherins Osborne—Yes, 'tis she,
And outside, Sam Allison at Sentinel
The infant Chapter guarded well.

Of all of these who in that day
Watched o'er the Chapter's destiny,
Some weary grew and dropped their burden;
And some to distant field have gone,
But half of that band are with us
still,
May each again some office fill.

While the birthday cake was being cut, a reading, "When Paw and Maw Joined the Eastern Star," was given by Mrs. Arabella Houston.

Refreshments were served and a pleasant social hour enjoyed.
