

BREVARD FIREMEN MEET SEVERE TEST IN GREAT MANNER

from the time the truck stopped at the hydrant near the home of Hale Siniard on Park avenue, until there was a stream of water issuing through the strong pump of the up-to-date La France truck. But for the unlooked for hindrance, it is believed that at least ten seconds could have been cut from this record. It seems that a young man, who is not a member of the fire department and who is unfamiliar with the operations required for quick hook-up, had boarded the truck, and according to one of

NEW FORD EIGHT IS BEING DISPLAYED

Edsel B. Ford announces today that the new Ford V-8 is now on exhibition at dealers sales rooms in 200 cities in the United States and Canada.

The announcement, Ford said, culminated months of preparation on the part of his organization which employs 100,000 workers and draws supplies from 5,300 other manufacturing plants.

Both his father and himself are confident, Ford said, that a measure of business revival is possible to the country at this time. Speaking of the machine, Ford said:

"We know, exactly what the car will do. One of our objectives has been to develop an eight-cylinder engine with plenty of horsepower and yet so simply designed that its simplicity will be as much a feature as its speed and power. That enables us to build and sell it at a price to fit the average present American pocketbook. I'll say candidly we have quit figuring costs on the car. The more you figure costs the higher the price goes, and this is no time for high prices. Time and money have not entered into our calculations. We have believed it our duty to do everything necessary to start employment again, now we are ready to go ahead."

the firemen, was directly in the way when the connecting hose from truck to hydrant was being put in place. Also, there was a small amount of tarvia from the street on the hydrant that caused about five seconds' delay in the actual connections.

All in all, it was a run that is to be admired by all citizens of the town and is due in large measure to the efficiency program that has been put in practice by the men for the past several months. Semi-monthly practices are held after which there is a meeting of the volunteer organization held, and methods are discussed, and difficulties talked over, with a view to increasing efficiency.

Chief Bromfield asks that citizens cooperate in every way possible when there is a fire alarm, and expresses the emphatic opinion that this cooperation can best be shown by obeying the ordinances governing these matters. Upon hearing the siren of the firemen, it is required of all traveling vehicles to at once pull to the curb, and remain there until the truck has passed, or until there is positive belief that the truck will not pass that particular street. This is an ordinance that has been woefully overlooked, Chief Bromfield asserts, and one that is going to have more attention in the future. Several cars failed altogether in this cooperation measure Monday.

Emphatic warning is also issued by the chief that anyone violating the ordinance of riding on the fire truck will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law. Chief Bromfield wishes it understood that he is not trying to be "hard boiled" about the matter, but that the efficiency of the department is materially hindered by those who unintentionally hinder the operations of the department, and that as a measure of protection to the town this ordinance will be enforced to the letter.

BOARD TO MEET

The Board of Education will meet at the court house Monday morning, according to recent announcement of Prof. J. B. Jones, county superintendent and all the board members are requested to be present.

MISS THARP WINNER IN ESSAY CONTEST

Miss Everett Takes Second Honors, While Miss Moore Wins Third Prize

Miss Malva Tharp, seventh grade student and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Tharp won first prize in the "Milk for Health" essay contest sponsored by the Parent-Teacher association in which all the students of the elementary school were entrants. Miss Dorothy Everett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Everett won second prize. Miss Everett is a member of the seventh grade. Miss Martha Kate Moore, a fifth grade student and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Moore won third prize in the contest with her timely essay.

Mrs. R. M. Neely, Mrs. Ralph Ramsey and Mrs. Frank Jenkins were the contest judges and they judged the papers without knowing who the youthful authors were.

The Brevard News herewith publishes the prize-winning essays.

MILK FOR HEALTH

FIRST PRIZE
(Malva Tharp, 7th grade)
No one should do without milk, because there are so many elements of a healthful diet in it. Invalids and sick people especially need it. Almost all of the elements required by the body, except roughage and certain vitamins are to be found in milk. It contains proteins for building bone and muscle, fats to supply energy, vitamins to ward off disease, minerals and lime needed in the blood, bones and teeth, and water, needed to carry off waste.

Milk is a food, not to be drunk rapidly, merely to quench thirst. Always try to buy grades of milk containing purity and richness. Pasteurized milk is the best quality and is safest.

Milk should never be wasted, either sour or sweet. There are many ways in which it can be used. Milk is very perishable and every precaution should be taken to protect it from harmful bacteria. It should be bought in a sealed bottle and kept clean, cold and covered.

Milk is one of the most important items in the diet. More than forty billion quarts are used every year in the United States.

SECOND PRIZE

(Dorothy Everett, 7th grade)
Milk is the best all around food we have, and also the cheapest at the present prices. One cup of milk contains the same value as two and a half eggs, or three and three fourths ounces of string beans. Almost all the things needed by our bodies are found in milk except roughage and certain vitamins. You should drink milk slowly not as you would water, it is a food not a beverage. It is more than fuel for the body, it helps growth and builds flesh and bone tissues.

Certified milk is the very best raw milk that is produced but Grade A is a good quality and may be used for the family. This milk is rather sure to be of lower grade, because it may be impaired by harmful germs from hands or unclean dippers as it is laded out.

Milk requires the best of care for it is the most difficult of all our food-stuff to collect, handle and transport. It must be kept clean, cold and covered.

In the U. S. we use something like forty billion quarts of milk each year. This would make a lake large enough to float all the navies of the world. This is only one-half pint of milk a day for each person.

A very good motto for us all to follow is "Drink Milk and be Healthy."

THIRD PRIZE

(Martha Kate Moore, 5th grade)
The question may be asked, "Which is man's best animal friend?" The answer is the cow. And why? Because she gives us our most perfect food, milk.

And why is milk our most perfect food? Because it contains more vital elements for body building than any other food. Think of it! Milk contains proteins, fat, sugar, vitamins, mineral salts, and water. All of these are needed by our bodies. If we drink plenty of milk, our bones and teeth will be sound, our blood will be pure, and our bodies will have the heat and energy for the building of strong muscles and bones. In fact, it contains almost every element needed by the body except roughage.

Where are we to get the milk and how do we know when it is safe to drink? Every drop of dirty, stale milk teems with bacteria. So be sure your milk is clean. If we get it from licensed dealers, we will run no risk of catching diseases from sick cows. Clean, cold pasteurized milk bought in sealed bottles is safe.

Let us be healthy then by drinking more milk. Drink it slowly. A bottle of milk is a bottle of health.

MANY PENNIES MAKE MANY GIRLS HAPPY

Jars Being Filled By Admiring Friends To Help the Movement

"Pennies make dimes, dimes make dollars, dollars will make possible the Girl Scout camp, and the camp will make healthy, happy girls"—that is the theory on which the Brevard Business and Professional Women's club members are operating in their drive for funds which will make possible a real camp for Girl Scouts of Transylvania county this summer.

Jars, large and small, round, square and octagon, have been placed in all the business houses of the town and county and many in homes of citizens, as a constant reminder of the drive.

No donations have been, or will be asked for by the Business Women's club, in their drive—only the extra pennies and small pieces of change that can be given without hurt to the donor. It is a cooperative movement, leaders assert, with the ladies only acting as the guiding spirit in the plan. Very few girls could be cared for if only members of the Business and Professional Women's club were to give their pennies, it is pointed out; but with everybody joining in, the program will go over with a bang.

Funds in the penny drive will not be spent on any member of the club, nor on any of the several people who have assented to aid in making the camp a success. Every dollar obtained will be used in the purchasing of necessary equipment and in taking care of the actual expense of the camp.

Camp Hlahee will be donated to the girls by Mr. and Mrs. Hinton McLeod; physical examination of all Scouts and their counselors will be made free of charge by Dr. C. L. Newland; Mrs. Charles Y. Patton will donate her services as all-time nurse, and trained leaders who have been giving of their time and talents in the work of building up the first class Scout organizations, will give their services in a continuation of making healthier and happier girls.

NO BLAME ATTACHED TO MRS. CLARKE FOR GRAVELY ACCIDENT

a lady in a small delivery type truck had stopped to pick him up. He remembered trying to tell the lady to stop when he reached the roadway leading off from the highway to Brees's Mill, and here his memory failed him.

Checking up on details of the story the officers went at once to the home of Mrs. Harry Clark, who cleared the mystery when she told how she had stopped her truck to pick up some old gentleman who was carrying a bag of corn, but that she had not thought any more about the incident, thinking that he had gotten off the rear of the high delivery truck when she stopped in Brevard. Mrs. Clark had not heard Mr. Gravely when he is supposed to have asked her to let him off at the mill road, the closed cab of the truck making his voice inaudible.

It is the opinion of the officers that Mr. Gravely, upon reaching entrance to the mill, tried to make Mrs. Clark understand his intention of getting off there, and as he made preparation to get off fell from the moving vehicle.

Mrs. Clark, while deeply regretting the accident, is held entirely blameless by the officers, she having had only the one purpose in view—that of giving the aged gentleman a lift with his load.

Last reports from the Gravely juryed man was improving Wednesday.

MARTIN JASPER ORR DIES AT AGE OF 90

of Pisgah Forest, survives. Mr. Orr, or "Uncle Jasper," as he was lovingly called by all of his wide circle of friends, was an active church worker, being for many years a deacon in the historic Davidson River Presbyterian church, later being made an elder in the Brevard Presbyterian church. About fifteen years ago he moved his membership to the Oak Grove church, where he was active so long as he could attend services.

He was a Confederate veteran, having enlisted with the Southern army when only 17 years of age, and soon was made leader of the band in Co. E, 25th North Carolina Regiment, and served in this capacity throughout the entire war period. After the four years spent as band leader in the army of the South, Mr. Orr entered upon a musical career that won him fame in many states. He was an accomplished musician, playing any kind of harp or string instrument, and organized Brevard's first band. He not only taught music, but was a composer of note, many of his compositions being favorites now.

Unlike most gifted musicians, Mr. Orr was also a good business man. He was a scientific farmer long before the state or federal government established departments of agriculture, and was for many years one of the really big farmers and land-owners of this county.

He was first married to Miss Mary Jane Lyon. Several years after her death he married Miss Mamie Kimzey, of Mills River, who survives. The son living in Chattanooga attended the funeral services, but the son living in the state of Washington could not make the long trip in time to attend the services. Great throngs of relatives and friends attended the last rites, including many people from other cities and adjoining states.

Active pallbearers were Dr. J. H. McLean, W. R. Kimzey, T. E. Osborne, A. T. Kimzey, A. M. Kimzey, and D. L. Kimzey. Honorary pallbearers were Dr. E. S. English, D. P. Kilpatrick, S. F. Allison, Fred Johnson, Oliver Orr, F. E. Shuford, R. L. Gash, C. S. Osborne, J. K. Mills, Joe Lyday, C. M. Siniard. The Brevard Undertaking company had charge of arrangements.

MUST PAY STATE OR LOSE SCHOOL FUND

Raleigh, Mar. 29—State Treasurer John P. Steadman today announced he is formally notifying 34 counties that unless they pay the amounts in arrears on loans obtained from the state special building fund and the state literary fund he will seize so much of the $1,500,000 state appropriation for the extended school term as may be necessary to satisfy the balances due the state. The amount the counties owe the state totals $374,544.55. Seizing of the school funds in some cases, it was explained would mean teachers would not be paid for the extended term. Transylvania County is in arrears $18,000, this being payment for two years on the loan borrowed from the state several years ago to build the new high school building.

IN MEMORY OF JASPER ORR

(Contributed)

The strongest of all the memories of my childhood is that of a man, old even then, who every Sunday afternoon passed by our house. Tall and straight with the firm step of a soldier he came, carrying on his arm a basket. In front of each home he stopped for a moment and called, "All aboard for Sunday School."

That man was Uncle Jasper Orr. As a small child I followed him to the little church at Oak Grove where he gave us cards and taught us to sing, "Little Drops of Water," "Jesus Loves Me," and other songs so easily learned by children and yet so applicable to the veriest greybeard as to the tiniest tot. Uncle Jasper was not only the teacher of the smallest children but also he was the song-leader, the organizer, and the guiding spirit of the whole Sunday school. Others might have the honorary positions, but Uncle Jasper did the works.

Under Mr. Orr we learned the story of Jesus and of his love. Sunday after Sunday we sat before him while he, in simple words, told us about the Heaven to which Jesus would some day take him and all who believe.

Many years have passed and now he is gone to his reward. More years will pass and we whom he taught will go; but we will go serene in the knowledge that Uncle Jasper is calling us, "All aboard for Heaven."
